Contributions To Red Cross Now Total $302.00

Although extremely inclement weather has hampered the work of Red Cross workers in Nicholas county for the past two weeks, Bob Coatney, fund chairman for the 1947 drive, announced Wednesday that the sum of $302 had been turned over to the Red Cross by adjutants this week.

Coatney expressed the belief that with warmer weather and the melting snow of snow from the roads workers throughout the county will step up their canvass considerably this week. He said he expected the county quota of $1,480 would be reached at a very early date once county workers were able to contact persons in their respective neighborhoods. 4t

V.F.W. Officers To Be Nominated At Meet Tonight

Vets' Group To Open Fund-Raising Campaign Soon

In compliance with organization rules requiring the election of new officers each March, Lloyd George Post, V. F. W., will conduct the nomination of officials at a regular meeting at a Army meeting to be held at the Army Post tonight, according to Commander Teddy Poe.

Election of new officers will not take place at tonight's session, the commander said, adding that this would be scheduled for a meeting on March 27.

Terms of all officers in the Veterans of Foreign Wars organization expire on March 31 each year, Poe pointed out.

The local veteran group's chapter membership campaign was brought to a climax on Feb. 28, and Commander Poe said the next major project of the post would be the raising of funds to finance the Memorial Day parade.

He urged that all members be present tonight to take part in the nominations at that time.

Fish & Game Club, Merchants Open Drive To Destroy Harmful Wildlife

Highest corn yield ever achieved by a member of the Carlisle chapter of Future Farmers was reached last year by Nicholas county's 17-year-old Carlisle high school senior, whose average per acre was 148 bushels, according to the chapter adviser, G. B. Leonard. The large size of the yield, which was produced in the Miranda section of the county, was attributed to the excellent growing season last year, the use of 18 tons of manure on the 1½ acres cultivated, and thickness with which the corn was planted on the ground. Darrell used U. S. 13 Hybrid seed corn on this project, and most of the stalks produced two large ears.

Soil Conservation Notes

A farm plan was completed during the past week with Robert Hatton, Jr., on the East Union road. Mr. Hatton is the one hundred and seventy-fourth farmer to join the Nicholas County Soil Conservation District.

E. M. Marlow of the Millersburg community was assisted with planning terracing and location of pond site Friday, February 28, 1947.

Personnel of the Soil Conservation District attended a two day district meeting on farm planning in Montgomery county March 3 and 4.

The county board of Soil Conservation supervisors held its regular monthly meeting Monday night, March 1st at the Soil Conservation office.

Farmers are urged to till their land on contour. Assistance will be given by the district to farmers wanting to use this practice this year.

Contour tillage, stows the run-off of water on sleeping lands and causes more of it to soak in to the soil.

Contour farming is tilling the soil and planting row crops on the level around hills instead of up and down. If rows are planted up and down hill, during heavy rains, the water runs off rapidly between the rows, taking much soil with it. Rows planted on the contour, on the other hand, retard the flow of water down the slope and thereby reduce run-off and water losses. The rainfall of light showers is held in the furrows until it soaks into the soil, where much of it stays until needed during dry seasons. Contour farming also permits an even distribution of power in operations on sloping land, eliminating overlaps, uphill and underloads downhill.

Mrs. E. A. VanBever, club president, was in charge of the business session and the speaker was introduced by Mr. Allen Hopkins, program chairman.

Mrs. M. C. Shearer gave a vocal selection, accompanied at the piano by Mrs Sterling Blake.

The club voted contributions to the Red Cross drive, Crippled Children's drive, as well as to various club assessments.

Hostesses assisting Mrs. Carter were Mrs. Tillie Peeback, Mrs. Lida Mae Wade and Mrs. James Hardin.

Home Is Destroyed By Fire Thursday

An eight-room two-story house on the Cane Run road, belonging to Mrs. Herman Hamilton and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Whaley and their son, Talmadge Whaley and Mrs. Whaley and their two sons, was destroyed by fire about 10:30 Thursday night.

The family was awakened by smoke. The fire was believed to have started from defective wiring on the shingle roof.

The senior Mr. Whaley suffered severe first degree burns on his face and hands and inside of his mouth trying to save the family and some furniture. He was brought to the local hospital for treatment.

ROTARY SPEAKER

The Rev. Ira W. McMillen, pastor of the Carlisle Baptist church, spoke on "An Outsider Looks In" at the weekly meeting of the Carlisle Rotary club Thursday night. Howard Mc-Whorter, new assistant county agent here, was a guest of the club at the meeting.

Prizes Will Be Offered For Most "Points" Accumulated

An extensive campaign aimed at ridding Nicholas county of as many types of harmful wildlife as possible during 1947 is already under way here under the sponsorship of the Nicholas County Fish and Game Club and Carlisle business firms.

In connection with the drive, the local club is conducting a county-wide "vermin-ridding" contest, and will offer prizes at the year's end to individuals accumulating the most "points" earned in killing vermin.

The contest, which will extend into November, is under the chairmanship of Earl Hamm, who said Wednesday that full details governing the competition—sponsors, points allowed for various types of wildlife and termination dates—would be made public in The Mercury next week. A number of Carlisle merchants are backing the drive and their names, he said, would appear in connection with the announcement to be made at that time.

First prize, according to Hamm, will be a Browning Automatic shotgun. Second place award will be a new 22 automatic rifle, and at third prize a Hopper Supreme Reel will be offered by the club, he said. Numerous other prizes will also be offered.

The drive is designed to benefit all Nicholas county farmers, and among the vermin earmarked for destruction during the course of the campaign are hawks, horned owls, crows, groundhogs, blackbirds, starlings, mad turtles, land tortoises, poisonous snakes and gar fish.

Points will be allowed on some vermin on the basis of feet turned in, and either tails or the entire animal, depending upon the species. Hamm said, in the case of the latter. Only residents of the county are eligible to enter the competition will be able to turn in evidence of their prey at the Hamilton Service Station, where all scores will be recorded and kept for final computation in November.

At a meeting of the Fish and Game Club Thursday night at the Armory, motion picture films showing the 1946 World Series were shown club members by William T. Straw, county agent. Sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Campbell at the session and a committee for the nomination of new officers was named, with Boyd Hamilton as chairman.

Clements Candidacy, Blake Aspirations Seem to Meet With Early Approval Here

With the candidacy of Governor Earle C. Clements attracting a growing number of supporters in Nicholas county and his nomination already being favored by a large proportion of Democratic leaders here who are outspoken adherents of Clements, there is no question but that interest in the gubernatorial race is mounting in this locality and that, judging from this early stage, the Morganfield member of Congress will be able to roll up strength which should place his county in his column by a safe margin next August when the primary votes are tabulated.

This statement is based on the calculations of a number of Democratic political leaders here who have already declared for Clements and who are considered keen observers of political fence. While there may be, of course, and still may be expected in any primary race, some sentiment for the candidacy of Harry Lee Waterfield, favored opponent of Clements in the Democratic primary, such sentiment is as yet inaudible and apparently has no solidity at this writing.

The Clements candidacy, moreover, is reported in many counties of this region of the state to be meeting with an overwhelming favor among party leaders and it is believed that the Eighth and the Sixth Congressional districts will give the Second district congressman formidable opposition, which will vie with the vote he expects from his home district.

With the recent declaration of State Senator Stanley, S. Blake that he is considering seeking one of two prominent state offices, the Republican party leadership in potential ambitions gained the distinction last Sunday of top-flight political writers in the state press.

Blake's announcement was that he might seek to be named executive pro tem of the Kentucky Senate in the place of the late Alex Howard or that he might become a candidate for the office of Commissioner of Agriculture in the coming state election. It is believed here that either aspiration of the veteran has of the support of the administration of Governor Simeon Willis, with which he has been associated in the present session of the legislature.

Among Nicholas county Republican leaders and the rank and file of Republican voters the name of Attorney-General Elston G. Dummitt is meeting with what might be termed favor. Dummitt has been for some time a prime favorite with Republican leaders in Nicholas county and he may be sure that his seeking of the Republican gubernatorial nomination will be backed here insofar as labor of love than as a political duty. In other words, Dummitt is tops in the way of Republican candidates in Nicholas county.
