What Is FHA?

The Farmers Home Administration was established by Public Law 731 and became law on August 14, 1946. Under this act the Farm Security Administration and the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan section of FCA were abolished and merged into this agency. FHA provides an opportunity to eligible low-income farm families and war veterans, owners, or tenants, to build their own future, to thrive in proportion to their own talent and determination, and to assume their rightful place in our rural economy.

To aid in he achievement of these objectives, FHA

1. Makes loans for the purchase of livestock, seed, fertilizer, feeds, farm equipment, supplies, refinancing of indebtedness, family subsistence, and other farm needs.

2. Makes loans to purchase, repair, or improve family-size farms, or to enlarge or improve undersized farms.

3. Makes loans to veterans who have pensionable disabilities, to purchase or improve farms of less than family-size.

4. Advises borrowers regarding sound farm and home management practices, including conservation of farm resources and money management.

FHA credit, guidance, and services bring efficient management methods to the farm and home and afford the families an opportunity to achieve acceptable standards of living.

FHA is not set up to be in competition with other lending agencies but to make the above services available where they cannot be obtained elsewhere.

FHA provides for the following loan programs under its set-up:

1. Production and Subsistence (FS&S) loans (Annual and Adjustment loans)

2. Farm Ownership loans (40 year tenant purchase loans; farm development loans, and farm enlargement loans.)

Farmers Cautioned About Overplanting

H. S. Vice, chairman of the Nicholas County Agricultural Conservation Committee this week cautioned all tobacco growers against overplanting their farm acreage allotments this year.

"Growers who harvest any acreage of tobacco in 1947 in excess of their farm acreage allotments are subject to marketing quota penalties and will not be eligible for full participation in government price support loans," Mr. Vice stated.

Growers who plant within their farm acreage allotments can market all their tobacco without penalties and are eligible for full government price support loans.

In connection with price support loans, Mr. Vice emphasized that any acreage harvested in excess of the farm acreage harvested in excess of the farm acreage allotment will make all the tobacco produced within the allotted acreage on the farm ineligible for any price support loans. This year there will be no acreage tolerance in establishing loan eligibility, as contrasted with the 1946 tolerance of the lesser of three-tenths acre or 5 per cent of the allotment. Any acreages harvested in excess of farm allotments, however small, will disqualify growers for full loan privileges and subject them to marketing quota penalties."

Mr. Vice also stressed that eligibity for government price sup-

[illegible] important to tobacco growers now that domestic supplies of tobacco are adequate and the future level of exports uncertain.

Kentucky and the Nation are returning to an era of dignified politics. No longer does the winning of an election depend on the best "hillbilly" band or the best handshaker, but on issues and on their ability of the candidates to carry them out. Political promises must now be backed by integrity and past performance before they will be believed and the maker of rash promises is looked on with askance and derision instead of tolerance. We are fortunate in the coming primary that all of the announced candidates have the background and dignity fitting to office.

Lieutenant Governor Kenneth Tuggle announced his support for Elden Dummit in the Republican primary, this will give more support to General Dummit who is organizing for a finish battle. Tuggle made many friends over the State who wanted him to run for Governor and who may be inclined to back any candidate he supports, then too, he is from Harlanville in the heart of the powerful Republican Ninth District and has the support of the party men up there. Our sources of information say that Congressman John M. Robsion, political patriarch and congressman from that district, will not come out openly for any candidate in the primary, but will behind the scenes convey to the leaders in his district that Dummit is preferable.

One of the things all candidates should advocate is more farm to market or county roads. The Federal Government and the State with Federal funds for National highways but the farm to market roads must be built by the counties with county funds and assistance from State funds, voted by the legislature. The State of Pennsylvania made a survey a few years ago and found that wherever hard surfaced roads were put to do away with dirt or gravel roads, the value of the land was not only increased but the morale of the inhabitants along these roads was boosted so much that they bettered their standard of living and through more incentive, actually increased the production of their land. This State needs to improve many miles of rural roads and this can only be done with material aid of State funds.

The telephone strike that has been crippling our communication system has added to the resentment of the public against Unions. I have been for the principles of Unions for a long time. I saw the sweat shops in the garment industry in New York, the deplorable conditions in the textile industry in the South, and we all know that in some instances labor had to be reinforced against the selfishness and lack of foresight of some employers. But the pendulum has swung too far, the businessman and the public are now at the mercy of labor leaders who, in many cases, do not have the welfare of their members or the best interests of the public in mind when they call for strikes or make unreasonable demands. The pay scale of the telephone company is admittedly high and there seems to be no complaint with the hours or working conditions. Many seem to think that a lot of strikes are called without reason except to justify the continual paying of dues into the treasurer of the Unions or to convey to Union members that the high salaried officers are on the job for them. The real issue in the telephone strike seems not to be one of more wages although that has been one of the excuses, but for a contract that is nationwide that will terminate all over the country at the same time. This would permit a strike that would close down all means of communication at one time. I personally don't see why they wanted this because contracts have never seemed to extend anything to some labor leaders anyway, except to be violated by employers and unions.

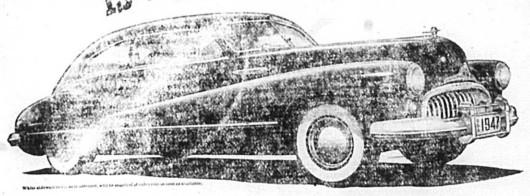
Every Line is a look at Tomorrow


You spot it on the highway every time a Buick comes along:
Here you meet the future face-to-face.
Here you see the clean, rich, uncluttered design that marks the swing away from what was to what is going to be.
Here's the sweep and flow of fender line that's called for by a streamlined age — here's the solid, steady look that spells roadability — the broad beam that means room — the massive bonnet that tells of Fireball power aplenty.
Here's grace, here's ability, here's sturdy dependability — all wrapped up in one handsome package that's not merely up-to-the-times but ahead of it.
Here are the good looks that bespeak good works; you hardly have to be told of precisions carried to ten-thousandths of an inch, of materials searched out from the finest to be found.
Any wonder that such a creation is America's most wanted automobile? Any wonder people pass up cars that may be easier to get to wait for a car that's going to stay fresh and new and modern-looking?
The simple fact is that you're buying in the future when you buy any good car today.
Why not settle on the one that most obviously foretells what the future will be — that has the most in it of what is to come?
Buick dealers' showrooms are kept pretty bare of display models by the eagerness of Buick buyers to "take over" the first minute they can.
But you'll be greeted in every one of them with courtesy and sincere interest in getting your Buick at the first minute possible.
Drop in — talk it over — and insure yourself a happy future by placing your order now. We'll take it, with or without a car to trade.
