Health Officials To View Sites For Location Of New Hospital

Representatives of the State Board of Health and the U. S. Public Health Service are expected in Nicholas county the last of this week or the first of next week to consider sites for the location of the new hospital for which voters approved a $150,000 bond issue at the November election.

A committee was appointed Tuesday at a special session of the Nicholas Fiscal Court to locate prospective sites and take the representatives of the aforementioned agencies on a tour of these sites when they arrive.

Named on the committee were Homer Miller, Latter Holder, Kash Hostetler, Leonard Alexander and Wilson Clark, members of the fiscal court; County Attorney Roger Womack, Judge Walter Shepherd, Charles M. Cox and Paul Garrett.

The court's action followed information obtained at Louisville by the fiscal court, Judge Shepherd, Womack, Cox, Garrett and Mrs. A. B. Crouch who conferred with Dr. P. E. Blackerby, state health commissioner, and others.

The Nicholas county delegation was assured its county stood high on the priority list in the state and that the first local step to be taken was the selection of a site upon which to locate the hospital.

Dr. Blackerby told the Nicholas county delegation that some resident of the county would be interested in donating a site for the hospital. He said that work had been far on in several counties where hospitals had been acquired.

The committee said that if the land has to be purchased for the site this amount will be deducted from the $150,000 which the county is putting into building and furnishing a hospital. It urged that persons who might donate land for the project to contact the committee as soon as possible.

Seven properties were inspected Wednesday afternoon by the committee. The sites inspected included the following properties:

Harry Kennedy, Ernest Piper, Allie Clinkenbeard, Hamer Miller, Marion Mathers, Walter Shepherd and Frank Henry and Shelburn Mann.

Journalism Instructor To Address Rotarians

"Freedom of the Press" has been selected as the topic of discussion to be used by Victor B. Portman, journalism department, University of Kentucky, Lexington, who will be guest speaker at the Carlisle Rotary club which meets at 6:30 p. m. today (Thursday) at the Nicholas hotel. The program will be in charge of Sag Kash.

America has a vast amount of power which has been unused by the masses of her people was the thought left last week with Rotarians by the Rev. J. J. Whitehouse, pastor of the Carlisle Christian church.

Mr. Whitehouse, who described the might of steel, its contribution to Pittsburg and to the world at large, said that its discovery had changed the face of the world. He predicted that the discovery of means by which to split the atom would, in time, create another industrial revolution.

However, he declared that the power which can be obtained directly from God if used by the world would result in the brotherhood of man. He said that this was power which has not been used universally.

Fiscal Court Awards $104,000 Contract For Construction Of Moorefield School

A contract of $104,000 has been awarded the Robert D. Short Company, Lexington, for the construction of the Moorefield school.

The Nicholas County Fiscal Court, acting as a bidding company for the Nicholas County Board of Education, awarded the contract to the Short company which was the original low bidder on the building at $126,000.

The figures first received in the negotiations was $115,914 which also was considered excessive by the court and the board. The final figure, which was accepted, was $104,000 which does not include an auditorium.

The new building will contain six classrooms, rest rooms for boys and girls, and a large community room which will serve temporarily as an auditorium and cafeteria. The community room has practically the same amount of space as the original auditorium.

Raymond Wesley, secretary of the Nicholas County Board of Education, said that construction on the building will be started in the next few weeks and it is expected that the building will be ready by the latter part of the school year for the opening of the 1948-49 school term.
