Harold Rogers Killed Instantly In Saturday Night Highway Crash

Harold B. Rogers, 27, Tuberculosis avenue, was killed instantly at 7 p. m. Saturday when his auto was struck by another vehicle about three miles from Carlisle on the Lexington highway.

Two of five occupants of the other car were injured and the others taken up to the scene of the collision.

Rogers, a World War II veteran, who was alone in his car at the time of the accident, reported-ly had driven his car around to turn around and was backing out when a car driven by Dudley Ritchie, 18, son of Nathan Ritchie, Bartonville, struck it.

Robert Hamilton, county road engineer, who lives near the scene of the accident, said that the crash sounded like two freight trains coming together.

Hamilton said when he went out to the road, to investigate, Rogers had been thrown from his car and apparently died almost instantly.

Others in the car with the Ritchie youth included Miss Rose Evelyn Mayhew, riding in the front seat with Ritchie, and her sister, Miss Jewell Wagoner, and cousin. Miss Lillian Wagoner, who were riding in the back seat with Ritchie's brother, Vinson Ritchie.

Dudley Ritchey, who owned the car sustained a broken finger and multiple cuts and bruises. Miss Rose Evelyn Wagoner received cuts on her head and neck. They were brought to the Johnson Memorial hospital for treatment.

Rogers was pronounced dead by Dr. Marvin Johnson on arrival at the hospital and the body was released to Mathers-Potts-Shearer funeral home.

Rogers was the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rogers of Carlisle. He was born and reared in Nicholas county. A graduate of Carlisle High school, he was inducted into the Army in August, 1942. As a member of the Signal Corps he saw service in 14 countries and participated in many battles. At the time of his death he was enrolled in the School of Television, University of Louisville.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p. m. Monday at the Carlisle Christian church, of which he was a member, with the Rev. J. J. Whitehouse officiating, assisted by the Rev. Ira McMillen and the Rev. Ralph Thomas, Flemingsburg. Military services were held at the grave in the Carlisle cemetery.

Pall bearers were Stanley Crawford, Charles Sexton, Harry Lee Marshall, W. R. Buntin Jr., W. R. Crawford and Sam Cook Reynolds.

Farmers To Elect Committeemen In County Friday

Nicholas farmers in each of the county's four farming communities will elect three committeemen and two alternates as well as a delegate to the county convention at the annual elections of community farmer committees beginning at 1:30 p. m. Friday.

Notice of the elections have already been mailed to eligible farmers, H. S. Vice, chairman of the County Agricultural Conservation (AAA) committee, said today.

The community elections will be held at the following places:

Headquarters school; Ellisville, and Myers, Myers school; Moorefield and Salt Union, Eston and Sugg's store, Moorefield; Parks and Carlisle, county court room, Carlisle.

A three-man County Committee will be elected at the county convention which will be held shortly after the community elections.

Vice estimated that approximately 1,700 farmers are eligible to vote in the county farm election. Eligible farmers are those who are participating in the 1947 Agricultural Conservation Program, and who have a contract with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation. This includes owners, operators, tenants and sharecroppers on farms where the conservation program is being carried out.

In announcing the forthcoming elections, Vice urged that all farmers who are entitled to vote, attend their community elections. Since the committeemen are responsible for developing, adapting and administering farm-to-farm programs to meet local problems and needs, it is important that the men elected really represent the choice of the majority of the farmers in the community.

Engineers Approve Three Of Seven Sites Selected For Hospital

Approval of three of the seven sites proposed for the location of the new Nicholas county hospital upon which voters passed a $150,000 bond issue in the November election was made Wednesday afternoon to local hospital committees.

The committee together with engineering representatives of the United States Public Health Service, the state health department and Otis A. Grimes, hospital architects, made a tour of inspection of all sites which had been under consideration.

The sites approved by the engineers included properties of Harry Kennedy, Judge Walter Shepherd and W. E. Piper.

The local committee composed of members of the fiscal court, County Attorney Roger Womack, County Judge Shepherd, Charles M. Cox and Paul Garrett have taken the recommendations of the engineers under advisement and will probably discuss optional arrangements with the property owners within the next few days.

Present Leaf Program Held Highly Practical

"The present tobacco program, embracing marketing quotas, supports at 90 per cent of parity, and complete Federal inspection, has proved to be the best practical program ever developed for tobacco growers." is the essence of the resolution adopted by the annual convention of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation.

It also contains the essence of the thinking of all segments of agriculture, including that of the grower through the processor, as applied to statements made by official representatives of each segment.

The resolution will be presented to the Federation's Board of Directors at its session for approval. If adopted, it will be taken to the tobacco conference of the American Farm Bureau Federation being held in connection with the AFBF convention December 15 in Chicago. There they will seek the support of all tobacco growers and of the corn, beef, cotton, etc. growers of the nation, as an essential part of the farm program supported by the national organization.

To this resolution will be added points applying to the tobacco program on the state level for submission to the state Resolutions Committee, and finally to the voting delegates at the KFBF annual meeting, scheduled for January 7-9 in Louisville.

These points, in brief, are: (1) For the University of Kentucky to support smoking and chewing tobacco seed; (2) State funds to continue research on new uses of tobacco; (3) a production adjustment control program on a poundage rather than an acreage basis (this could not be changed before 1950); (4) working with others to abolish "renting and deliberate mixing"; (5) Crop insurance for tobacco on actual basis; and (6) For growers to concentrate on quality rather than quantity.
