Clements Is Elected Kentucky's Governor

Congressman Earle C. Clements, who received an 80,000-vote majority in Nicholas county in Tuesday's gubernatorial election, will be Kentucky's next governor, unofficial returns received up until late Wednesday indicate.

A rising tide of votes was sweeping the Democrats back into control of Kentucky's state government after a wartime reversal.

Returns from the general election, however, showed that a proposal to call a state constitutional convention apparently failed to gain approval. Nicholas county cast a 321-vote majority against calling the convention. A total of 856 voted against the proposal and 535 cast ballots in its favor.

Voting in Nicholas county, although light, showed the traditional trend of a Democratic majority, although the total vote was not as great as it had been in some past elections.

Tabulation of ballots in Nicholas county's 19 precincts gave the following unofficial totals for Democratic candidates listed first on each ticket:

For governor: Clements 1,577; Dumont 742.

For lieutenant governor: Wetherby 1,465, Howard 673.

For attorney general: Funk 1,604; Dixon 615.

For auditor: Jones 1,543; Kinser 662.

For secretary of state: Hatcher 1,461; Hughes 665.

For agriculture commissioner: Ward 1,440; Ewing 665.

For superintendent of public instruction; Hodgkin 1,449; Slusher 667.

For clerk of Court of Appeals: O'Connell 1,448; Jones 643.

For railroad commissioner, Third district: Bowles 1,448; Jones 667.

For constitutional convention: Yes 535, No 856.

Blounts' Saddle Rog Wins All-Age Title

Sadie Fog, Blount brothers' sensational cabbageing from Moorefield, has added still other laurels to her feathering string of honors as a "gentle" winning the all -age championship of the Kentucky Featured Association Friday at Hrefres Valley with 310 points, 25 better than her closest competitor.

Given a second straight day of ideal conditions, including abundant frost, the race resulted in a hot and tuck until the cast ended. Mary Jane Blount, who finished in the outset, came in second for C. O. Prescott, Dublin, Ga.

Fred, another Blount Brothers entry, also was included among the top 10 finishers.

Sadie Fog, winner of the recent Central Kentucky hunt at Flemingsburg, also won a dual championship award presented by Edmund Power Frankfort, in honor of the late Sam Wooldridge for finishing among the first four in both bench and field tests. In addition, she won a combination trophy presented by Mrs. Parker Noe, Harrodsburg.

Earl Clay Farmhouse Destroyed By Flames

The four-room farmhouse on Earl Clay's farm, located on the Cleveland pike, one mile from Moorefield, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Carson and family, was destroyed with all its contents between 9 and 10 a. m. Sunday by fire.

Mrs. Carson had just returned to hih home from Carlisle where he had brought Mrs. Carson to catch a bus and was completing his chores about the barn when the fire was discovered. Carrie, oldest of the Carson's four children, had gone back to bed following breakfast and was awakened by smoke.

She managed to get the three younger children out of the house and called to her father for aid. By the time he got to the dwelling he was unable to enter the burning building. Carson sustained an injured hand in an attempt to get back in the house and recover some of its contents.

Mrs. Carson, who had been summoned to California by the serious illness of her mother, had already enroute on her trip when the fire destroyed their home.

Mercury Did Not Print Ballots For Election

(AN EDITORIAL)

The Carlisle Mercury was in no way responsible for the inconvenience which some residents of Carlisle faced Tuesday at their respective polling places.

Due to a shortage of ballots for the city council race, some were forced by press of business to forego casting a vote in the city race and others had to wait approximately two hours to cast their votes.

The ballots were printed out of the county and naturally a delay resulted in obtaining the ballots so vitally desired by Carlisle people from a distant point.

Five 25 Candidates Report For Musketeer Fives

Coach Tebay Rose will have between 23 and 25 candidates from which to select the Carlisle High school varsity and "B" teams for the forthcoming basketball season.

However, this number will be cut to 18 before the start of the 1947-48 season. Practice sessions got under way Monday when all non-football players reported. Members of the football squad, who were given a two-day rest period because of injuries, made their first appearance at the Musketeer gymnasium Wednesday afternoon.

Boys who are returning to the backwood from the 1946-47 varsity 10-man squad include Emery Clark Jr., Bill Sexton, Bobby Pitman, Joe Boandtree, Henry Peters and Hugh Woodall.

Clark, who sustained a broken left arm in the Carlisle-Nicholasville homecoming game, will be unable to practice for about six weeks.

Coach Rose said prospects from last season's "B" team who are seeking berths on the "A" team include Custer Blair, Kenneth Campbell and Charles Harper. Health Department Recruiting Nurses

The Kentucky State Health Department is planning examinations of nurses for public health positions to fill 30 vacancies in the health departments in several counties in the state. While some counties are amply supplied with nursing personnel, there are vacancies in every section of the state.

Applications of qualified persons are being received by John M. Hemminger, merit system supervisor of the Kentucky State Health Department. In order to be eligible for these positions, Hemminger said, "One must be a graduate nurse from a recognized school of nursing and be registered in the state. Nurses who have one year of additional training in an approved school of public health and additional experience are eligible for higher positions."

In Kentucky there are now approximately 200 nurses in public health positions serving as county and city health departments.

It is the purpose of the merit system to develop a register of qualified persons. Examinations for positions are given at stated intervals. As resignations occur, persons will be certified from the register in the order of their rating on the examination. Persons may be retained on the list until placed.

Kentucky is short of nurses, as is the situation throughout, at the present time, but it is anticipated that positions will be filled in the near future. Graduate nurses wishing further information may contact county health departments, or write the Merit System, Kentucky State Health Department, 620 S. Third St., Louisville 2, Kentucky.
