On Sunday, May 9th, we will set aside the day in honor of Mother. There's really not much we can say On Sunday, May 9th, we will set aside the day in honor of Mother. There's really not much we can say to Mom that will express our true feelings toward her . . . but our love and honor and respect is the only thanks abswants. Yes, "our best girl' deserver far more thanks than we'll ever be able to give her. She's guided and helped us all our lives; the's given sound advice when things looked pretty dark; she's shared our joys and sorrows; she's been ap through "disk and him". Can we ever repay Mother for these things? Hardly!! But it will be a superficient to the far in the say. "Though Minn . . . Yes, thanks for everwhilm?" mean more than anything to her if we just say: "Thanks, Mom . . . Yes, thanks for everything.
