Another Year Passes Into History

To our younger friends it is just another stepping stone toward their goal of accomplishment in the years ahead.

To the more mature it is a realization that another niche has been carved in the measuring stick of time and a chance to make the best of the New Year.

To the more aged it represents the swift passage of the milestones of life, toward the final goal which has been set for us.

But to everyone, our wish to you is a healthful, happy and prosperous New Year—and many more to come.

Here Abouts
 And they were "voted" dejected. How and from how quiet. If the boys were not always happy and glad. He said, "I spoke up—she was quite bright." He meant nothing, said she, "by my racing tonight. We make now that was incident on her play." And to make children happy too many a day. Mr. Nicholas smiled and the boys all cheered. With a wave of his hand the "sant" disappeared. Scheduled for the all star, "Happy New Year."

Church Grounds Planted
 Native trees, shrubs and vines to be used in part for the landscaping of the recently built Red House Baptist Church in Madison county. Plantings were planned by the local committee with the aid of N. K. Elliott, horticultural expert from the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky, and County Agent J. Lester Miller.

Recipe Of The Week
 There is a way to add variety to the familiar feast of squash. If you like pumpkin served as a vegetable, it may be used in place of squash, said Mrs. Pearl Hall, specialist in foods at the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky.

Scalloped Squash
 1 medium sized squash
 1 green pepper
 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
 1 teaspoon salt
 Dash of pepper
 3 cups mashed squash
 1/2 cup fine dry bread crumbs
 Chop the onion and pepper and cook in butter or margarine until tender. Add squash and seasoning. Put mixture in a greased shallow baking dish and top with bread crumbs which have been buttered.
