Purple To Identify Gasoline For Farm

Effective February 1, all gasoline sold to agricultural refund consumer holders by licensed gasoline dealers will be identified by the purple color, the Department of Revenue announced today in pursuit of Gasoline Tax Regulation GLR-4.

David K. Walker, Director of the Division of Excises, said this action became necessary to protect the agricultural permit holders who are observing the legal requirements for the use of refund gasoline. Walker pointed out that careless and illegal use of refund gasoline could lead to repeal of the law under which it is retained ed on gasoline used exclusively in agricultural work.

Records show these refunds have reached a volume of approximately $450,000 annually. This constitutes a steady, claim upon the Highway Department Road Fund, therefore, a system of regular inspection and investigation must be made by the Department of Revenue to assure that refunds are made to cover only the legitimate use of agricultural refund gasoline. The purple colored gasoline with a special dye furnished by the department will make possible better control.

Samples and copies of the Regulations are being sent to all licensed gasoline dealers and their agents in Kentucky.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Truth" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Christian Sciences throughout the world on Sunday.

The Golden Text is: "Thou, O Lord, art a God full of compassion, and gracious, long-suffering and plenteous in mercy and truth." (Ps. 86:15).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For the Lord is good; his mercy is everlasting; and his truth endureth to all generations." (Ps. 100:5).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Because Truth is eternal, error should be known as nothing. Because Truth is omnipotent as good, error, Truth's opposite, has no might . . . The confidence in spired by Science lies in the fact that Truth is real and error is unreal. Error is a coward before Truth." (P. 368)

VOLUME LXXXIII ESTABLISHED 1867 CARLISLE, KY., JANUARY 27, 1949 PRICE FIVE CENTS NUMBER 4

Tests Indicate Nicholas County's Soil Deficiency Is Lack Of Potash

A total of 46 soil samples have been tested since the Nicholas county soil laboratory opened January 7 in the basement of the courthouse, William "I. Straw," county agent, said today. Soil tests were made to determine the need for lime, phosphate and potash.

Of the 46 tests made, 36 fields needed lime for the satisfactory growth of legumes, 16 fields needed phosphate and 34 fields were low in potash.

Six of the fields tested indicated that lime, phosphate and potash were present in the soil in an amount sufficient to make a profitable crop for the 1949 planting. A lack of potash is showing up, however, as a common soil deficiency in Nicholas counties as a result of the tests made thus far.

It is a known fact, Straw said, that tobacco will not be of high quality if produced on land of low potash content unless potash is added in the form of some kind of fertilizer, manure, tobacco stalks or a straight potash fertilizer. Sufficient must also be present in large amounts.

The soil testing service, which has been recently organized and made available to all farmers in Nicholas county, will be the means by which farmers may determine the soil needs for individual fields. This program will take the guesswork out whether or not any commercial fertilizer is needed and will give the farmer an opportunity to select the fertilizers best adapted to specific fields on his farm.

To maintain high soil fertility has always been one of the most fundamental farm practices. To keep the soil to see what it contains and then treat the soil according to its needs, Straw advised.

Compensation Fund Reaches New High

Commissioner of Economic Security Vego H. Barnes, Frankfort, has announced today that Kentucky's Unemployment Compensation fund was on deposit with the Federal Treasury had grown to $111,860,703.11—largest balance in its history—and is fully solvent.

Benefits paid unemployed Kentucky industrial workers totalled $4,890,636 for the year, while the $13,409,756 was disbursed for 1947. The increase was attributed by Barnes to increases in unemployment benefits voted by the last General Assembly, effective on the aggregate unemployment benefits represented by the 2,119,199 weeks in 1948, compared with 1,606,856 weeks for the preceding year.

Drive Chairman Says Returns On Letters Are Coming In Slowly

Only 140 returns have been made on a total of 640 letters mailed out in the current March of Dimes campaign, William Power, general chairman of the drive, said today.

Power urged that persons receiving the letters mail in their contributions at their earliest convenience. Nicholas county's quota in the 1949 polio campaign is $2,500.

Although contributions indicate that the quota probably will be reached, Power said returns on the letters were coming in "mighty slow."

Proceeds from a square dance, which will be held tonight at the National Guard armory, will be turned over to the March of Dimes campaign, which opened January 14 and will continue through January 31.

Mrs. Walter Wirick is director of the Nicholas county campaign and the Carlisle Lion's Club is the sponsoring organization.

Burley Grades Ease Off 50 Cents To $1

The majority of grades offered on Burley tobacco markets during the past week of sales eased off around 50 cents per hundred during the week before. Most of the declines were around $1 per hundred. Declines were general and felt in all groups and colors. Lugs, flyings and best than nondescript heterofore in fairly strong demand were included in the offerings showing losses. According to the Federal-State Market News Service, gross sales amounted to 79,940,613 pounds for the week, an average of $43.75. The average was $3 less than that for the previous week. Season sales were brought to 545,633,062 pounds at an average of $47.

Increased proportions of all low grades and less good and fine tobacco lowered the general quality of the markettings and consequently the lower weekly average. There was also a decrease in the percentage of lugs generally in sales were comprised chiefly of leaf. Final sales this week are cheduled to follow: Ernnett, 25; Springfield, Jan. 26, Bloomfield and Somerset, Jan. 27, Lebanon, Jan. 28, Hartsville, Tenn. and Abingdon, Va., Jan. 29, Franklin, Tenn.

Corps Of Engineers Are Directed To Restudy Flood Control Project

The Louisville District, Corps of Engineers has been directed by order to make a restudy of the Fall-mouth Reservoir project for flood control. The main features of the plan covered by the restudy are as follows:

(1) A detailed survey to determine the location of the conservation pool, flood control storage and the number of individual properties affected by operation of the dam for flood control;

(2) Reservoir utilization studies to show what agricultural benefits may be expected to remain suitable for such use after the project is in operation.

(3) Restudy of highway and other required relocations to prevent interruption of normal communications by the proposed reservoir.

(4) Restudy of recreational possibilities and localities and the need for a small conservation and recreation pool above the dam.

No change is proposed in the location of the dam previously considered which is a short distance upstream from Falmouth. The plan to be restudied provides for flood control storage in the amount of 940,000 acre-feet which is equal to a runoff of 7.71 inches from the drainage area above the dam. The amount of storage to be provided for conservation, recreation, fish and wildlife, although a small percentage of the total storage, will be determined after study of the requirements for such uses and the desires of local interests. These features will be more definitely considered during the restudy. It appears that the reservoir area under such a proposal can be limited to less than 10,000 acres even when fully utilized for storage. Normally, the reservoir will be maintained at the conservation level covering only a small area less than 5,000 acres. The flood control storage covering up to 34,000 acres will be filled only when required for control of the excess runoff of Licking River.

It is proposed at this time to proceed with preparation of detailed plans for the dam or to make an appraisal of the land required for the project.

After completion of these investigations and surveys a report will be made on the Falmouth Reservoir project outlining in detail the work proposed including construction of the dam, clearing of the permanent pool area, relocations of roads, railroads and utilities, acquisition of required land and proposed method of project operation. This report will serve as a guide to the Commonwealth of Kentucky and other interested officials in formulating their views for local construction of the project. A decision on the selection of the project for construction will not be made until all affected interests have had an opportunity to express their views on the proposed plans.

It is expected that the surveys and investigations of the reservoir project will be started within the next two weeks and that a period of from nine months to one year will be required for their completion. Further inquiries regarding details of this project should be addressed to Col. Sherman Bell, 830 West Broadway, Louisville 3, Ky.

Owingsville Bobcats Claw Muskies, 74-31

By Emily Asbury

A vastly superior Owingsville five soundly trounced Tebay Rose's Carlisle Musketeers here Tuesday night, 74-31.

The relentlessly outclassed from beginning to end, the best the Musketeers could muster in the way of a battle was a 2-2 deadlock supplied by Dudley Hardin's push shot in the first minutes of play.

The rangy Bobcats, clawing all the way, jumped to a 25-10 lead at the quarter call. The scoring in the second canto was decidedly one-sided, with the Bobcats contributing the basic bounds and batting with amazing accuracy. The score at half time stood at 37-9, Carlisle far behind.

A rather dull second half found Owingsville completely dominating the play, although the Muskies managed to nine points in the third period to trail 18-60. Peters, bench-ridden with an injured hand for the past 4 games, developed an eye for the basket and collected most of his total of 13 points against the Boaz's reserve five.

Should the Muskifers meet this same school next season, the Bath Countians will floor virtually the same team that was seen in action Tuesday night. Lanky pivotman Sparks, point man Wirick, as well as the public becomes aware of the urgent needs for the battle against infantile paralysis. Many of the patients receiving hospital service now were stricken 10 and 12 years ago.

The road to recovery for many polio victims is a long and costly one and they need assistance. Your contribution to the March of Dimes furnishes that assistance.

It is also important that trained personnel and specialized equipment be available and if a polio epidemic should strike in Kentucky. Continued research is necessary and we hope to wipe out this crippling disease.

Nicholas Growers Will Hear Hunt At Annual Tobacco Meeting Tuesday

WHAT'S HERE ABOUTS? TURN PAGE FOR ANSWER

Carlisle Mercury has taken on an added chore of pondering out a column each week. This column, which Miss Asbury calls "Here Abouts" will be found upon page 2.

Indications are that Emily's readers aren't apt to find Idle dull, at least, not for the time it takes to read her weekly offering.

Because burley tobacco is of such great importance in Nicholas county, business people may be interested in learning more of the latest techniques in tobacco production and will be welcome to attend the meeting, Straw said.

The country tobacco meeting has become an annual event and many local producers look forward to this meeting with Hunt year after year. The county tobacco committee requested that this meeting be held because of the success of so much help in aiding Nicholas growers to realize a better income from their burley.

Through the co-operation of Mrs. Walter Wirick, the Lyric theatre has been made available to provide facilities for showing pictures taken throughout Kentucky illustrating tobacco production problems.

March Of Dimes Drive Gaining In Momentum

The 1949 March of Dimes Campaign which is entering its second week, is gaining momentum, Mrs. Walter Wirick, director of Nicholas County's March of Dimes announced today.

Mrs. Wirick urged all citizens to continue their efforts until the goal is reached and oversubscribed, and make the 1949 campaign a record success.

There is wider interest in the campaign this year, Mrs. Wirick said, as the public becomes aware of the urgent needs for the battle against infantile paralysis. Many of the patients receiving hospital service now were stricken 10 and 12 years ago.
