Making Ends Meet

Those who are bewildered by the fact that the Federal government can't seem to make both ends meet, no matter how great its tax revenues are, would do well to read—and reread—a piece in the May 1 issue of Norfolk called "What It's Only Money." It was written by Senator Douglas' brother but wholly indifferent to the doings about a $15,000,000 spend on barbers hair.

These bills are the traditional pork-barrel measures. As Newkirk puts it, "The whole principle is: 'Don't ask questions.' You vote for my project, and I'll vote for yours." It is pertinent to forget that in the bills are rolled through Congress, it is not the money that is the issue. Senator Douglas, who was formerly a college professor and who made a distinguished record as a volunteer Marine combat officer when he was just 25, generally favors the philosophies that are associated with the "New Deal" and the "Fair Deal." However, Senator Douglas also has vast, unbalanced budgets, and the kind of pork-barrel which creates them.

As the Newkirk says, "Douglas didn't ask the Senate to cut the money out of the budget. Even this would have required the appropriation by more than half. The Senator explained precisely why the projects he wanted to kill—including two in his own state—were wasteful."

Science has added a glass of milk that traditionally famous American breakfast of fruit, coffee and rolls.

It is correct, though research at the University of Nebraska where Dr. Ruth M. LeVetson, Director of Human Nutrition and Food Research, measured the average balance of 15 young women to determine whether more of the protein of the diet was retained when part of the day's supply was included with breakfast. For 18 days, 15 college students ate their usual diet of toast or roll, fruit, and milk coffee. For another 18 days, milk and coffee protein food was added to their morning meal.

Laboratory tests revealed that the body used protein more efficiently when milk was included on the breakfast. Because the body can't wait to pick up the protein missed at any one meal, each meal should include some animal protein food, such as milk.

Supporting this study, along with an announcement of Nebraska was the dairy industry. The results were stated by Miss Mabel H. President of the National Dairy Council, Chicago, the important industry in the national defense, the rebuilding and raising of Western Europe, and the fact that Congress' unbridled appetites for more money to pay for the 1951 Federal deficit is more likely to reach the incredible figure of $7,300,000,000.

It is a common political practice to claim that in the result of such undertakings as the national defense, the rebuilding and raising of Western Europe, and the fact that Congress' unbridled appetites for more money to pay for the 1951 Federal deficit is more likely to reach the incredible figure of $7,300,000,000.
