Stepping Forward

An organization which should bear watching during the next few months is the Carlisle Boy Club.
 The club, under the able leadership of its president, George Scott, is sponsoring the formation of an active committee last week, composed of such citizens as Ralph Steiner, Bill Fisher, Morris Whitely, Charles Cox and Bill Stone.
 Besides this group, the Rotary club also formed a committee to try to set up a "show-out" to help school children travel safely during the school year. This committee will discuss their ideas with the school board and will probably be set up around the first of next month.
 Also one of the club's agenda was a committee to form a travel bureau, to spread good ideas among tourists by giving them information as to where to obtain lodging accommodations and by showing them up on the best roads to travel.
 Yes, the Carlisle Rotary club seems to be stepping things up on the best roads to travel.
 The Mercury congratulates them for their commendable spirit and hopes they will be somewhat successful in their endeavors to build a better community.
