He gets a picture of the weather by Long Distance

Tomorrow's weather in the wisest today for the forces which guard this Nation's skies and shores. Today the largest Long Distance network of its kind brings them detailed "weather" reports around the clock. These charts are sent by a system known as "Telefax" from the Weather Analysis Center in Washington, D. C. There, an electric eye scans the weather "pictures" as it turns on a special drum. The signal waves produced are sent over thousands of miles of wire to military installations throughout the country where the picture is automatically reproduced. This weather network was designed and completed in less than two years and another demonstration of the importance of Long Distance Lines to the security of the Nation—especially right now, when there are stormy weather ahead.

Maybe you're missing something BIG

We know how you feel when a car has given you faithful service. You like it. You're loyal to it. And that's only human. But just suppose you found out that some other car could make familiar roads seem a lot smoother. Suppose some other car held the curves in a way you'd never felt before. Suppose some other car had more thrilling power—steered like a dream—held its course like an airplane on the beam—and let you finish a long day's drive feeling daisy fresh.

Wouldn't you feel you're missing something big unless you tried it out? There is such a car. Its name is Buick. It has big soft coil springs on every wheel. It has a Fireball Engine. It has a "front-end geometry" that does miracles with steering. And it has Dynaflex Drive. And incidentally, it provides a price tag that makes it a very smart buy compared to anything else you own. We'd like to have you try this car. You'll never know what you're missing till you do. How about giving us a call—or coming in to see us real soon? Buick is here to help you. Write for literature. We'll send you a copy of our "Smart Buick" brochure. It's yours for the asking.

you can have WICE AS MUCH LIGHT for only 1/2 more a day

For the abundant light you need to protect your eyes, your reading lamps should have at least 100-watt bulbs. As light is measured, the 100-watt bulbs will put out 95 per cent more light than the frequently used 60-watt bulb. And it costs you only one-half cent more to have plenty of light for four full hours.

TABLE LAMP
Table Lamp 21 to 26 inches to 16 inches in diameter. Shade diameter bottom, 11 inches. Shade diameter top, 17 inches. Shade height, about 21 inches. Table lamp with shade. Shade has built-in reflector, or 110-watt indirect, or medium indirect.
