Blood For Our GIs

One of the strongest allies of our boys now fighting in Korea is the availability of blood plasma for use in the treatment of wounded soldiers.

Medical science has learned and proved that blood is the best and safest immediate treatment for any GI injured in battle. The reason for this is that 70 to 90 percent of all battle injuries are accompanied by blood loss. Blood plasma combats shock by keeping oxygen in the blood until the patient recovers sufficiently.

The value of blood, as hand when needed, is not only in the treatment of wounded soldiers, but blood and blood plasma were used extensively in World War II and it is a terrible thought to imagine that during the particularly bloody invasion of Tarawa during the war.

As one Navy captain said during the particularly bloody invasion of Tarawa during the war, "The thousands of plasma bottles which were used with the Marines, 4,000 came back in the veins of the wounded Marines."

Your part in supplying this much needed blood to our GIs is the donation of your own blood to the National Blood Bank.

Included in the proposal to lease highway districts under the Federal Highway Act of 1946 is the provision for the construction of a part of it in Korea and keep a portion of it here in this country for use.

No doubt the blood you donate will play a large part in the saving of a life, the saving of a limb, or the saving of a life in a necessary case where the donor's blood is needed for the patient.

Grade A Dairying

Large scale dairying, selling whole milk in quantities of a Grade A milk market in Cincinnati, is a farm enterprise that is itself showing promise for farmers of this country than any other phase of Nicholas county agriculture, according to Bill Strain, county agent.

Through Mr. Strain's efforts, a Grade A milk market is now available for dairymen in this county.
