CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The death of the false sense of man by the gallantry of God as the only life will be the keynote of Christian Science services next Sunday. Subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "Probation After Death."

Readings from the Bible include the following verse from Revelation (14: 13): "And I hear a voice from heaven saying unto me, Write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth; Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors, and their works do follow them."

Among the correlative passages in the following from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The death of a false material sense and of sin, not the death of organic matter, is what reveals man and Life, harmonious, real, and eternal." (P. 296).

The Golden Text is from Psalms (49: 15): "God will redeem my soul from the power of the grave for He shall receive me."

OPS Representatives Hold Clinic On Price Regulations Here Monday

The first of a series of monthly price clinics planned by the Kentucky Office of Price Stabilization was conducted Monday night in Carlisle.

Offered as a convenience to business people of this section, the clinic was conducted by four business analysts from the agency's staff in Louisville who were prepared to help business people fill out OPS forms and to bring their operations into compliance with the OPS price regulations.

The agency's representatives at the initial clinic here were C. W. Gowin, T. J. Mattingly, Thomas Duggan, and Wm. R. Ratliff.

No speeches or mass instructions were given. The OPS representatives discussed each person's problems in individual interviews. Visitors were welcome to the clinic at any time during the three hour session and some stayed only as long as was necessary to obtain the assistance they sought.

"Because we believe the overwhelming majority of business people desire to cooperate with the OPS program when they understand it, we have established regular clinics here and at other locations in the state to provide the necessary information to enable them to do so", Mr. Gowin said.

By bringing the OPS to the merchants at regular intervals, he said time, expense and inconvenience are saved by business people.

A number of merchants from Carlisle attended this clinic as well as merchants from Flemingsburg and Paris.

Displays Mark Homemaker Week

Displays of handiwork in the windows of seven Carlisle stores this week have attracted quite a bit of attention among local residents and have made them more aware of the work of the county homemaker clubs.

Steps in the making of a hook rug and many of the beautiful finished hook rugs are on display in the windows. Other projects that the local homemakers have worked and which are also on display this week include aluminum trays, old lamps remade, lamp shades made and several pieces of refinished furniture.

Also displayed by the homemakers are the legal steps involved in making a will and various other aspects pertaining to money matters.

Windows housing the displays are Holbrook's, Abraham's, Mack's, Bracken, Bourbon, and Pendleton. well-Jones, Hopkins Drug, Carlisle Drug, Lerman Bros. and the C. C. Cole company.

By this method the local homemakers are observing National Homemaker Week, which started Monday and will end Saturday.
