Football Practice Gets Under Way; Drill At Night For Opener Sept. 5

The Carlisle Musketeer football squad has begun rounding into shape after the initial week of grid drills at the local athletic field. Practicing under the lights each night full uniforms and pads have been worn since the initial call last Wednesday and about 19 boys have turned out for the daily drills positions on this year's eleven.

Notably absent from practice for the next two weeks will be Kimball Booth, hard-running fullback of past seasons, who left for a two-week camp with the local National Guard unit Sunday morning. Booth had been slated, along with Donovan McFarland and Clark to carry the offensive load, and his absence from early drills will interfere.

Clark At Quarter

Emery "Little E" Clark is putting the backfield through their paces while Coach Bill Kleier is drilling the line on blocking, tackling and play assignments.

Expected to see action in the line this year are such performers as Bill Kelley, who held down a starting berth at end last year and improved fast as the season progressed. David Hardin, guard on last year's squad; Jimmy Mefford at end or tackle; Larry Cameron at center or guard; Eugene Kelley at tackle, and Bob Gilbert and Billy Logan, Cookie Beckett, W. C. Hunt, Billy Pugh, Ronnie King and Milton Mingland. Moreland is a transfer student from Paris and may be called on for front line duty if he continues to show improvement.

Use Three Formations

The Musketeers will run off three formations this year—the I, split-T and "W" formation. Billy Clark will handle the ball and is developing fast as a tricky ball-handler and better than average passer.

Dependable Benny Donovan is another certain to come in for his share of the offensive load this year and during the first few days of practice has shown that he may be heading for his best year.

A pair of small but fleet-footed backs, Bob McFarland and "Red" Dayton will also get their chance, mainly on quick opening plays. Whether Booth will be in the starting lineup when the Muskies open their season September 5 against Cynthiana is still a question mark at this early stage.

Mackey Named VP Of Highway 68 Group

A newly formed state-wide organization to promote U. S. Highway 68 has named True Mackey, veteran of World War II, who owns and operates a service station at Blue Licks, first vice-president.

The appointment was announced by J. S. Kenney of Lexington. The organization, formerly known as U. S. 68 Historic Highway Association, will be called Scenic 68 of Kentucky Highway Association. Mr. Mackey is familiar with the work as he is past president of the organization, which was formed three years ago in Mason county.

OIL UP YOUR GUN

Kentucky nimrods should be oiling up their squirrel rifles, says the Dept. of Fish and Wildlife, for indications are now that there will be an abundant supply this year. The squirrel season opens August 25 and continues through November 5 with a bag limit of six per day or a limit of 12 after two or more days of hunting.

Only One Man Drafted This Month

Charles Harper, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Harper of Carlisle, left Monday morning for induction into the Armed Services, according to Mrs. Hallie Griffin, local draft officer.

Harper is the only man leaving from this county in the August draft. Since the recent ruling that boys under 20 would not be taken until absolutely necessary, draft calls here have been comparatively light.

Harper will go to Ft. Meade, Maryland, for processing and after several days there will be assigned to another camp for basic training.

Community Development Kick-off Meeting Aug. 29

Officers To be Elected, Projects Discussed

The kick-off meeting of the Carlisle-Nicholas County Development Association will be held Friday night, August 29 in the courthouse, according to temporary chairman Ralph Shearer.

Shearer said that nomination and election of officers would take place that night and that the foundation would possibly be laid for various community development projects which would be undertaken by the group.

The organization was formed July 25 at a mass meeting of citizens interested in promoting the welfare of Carlisle and Nicholas County. At that meeting the body voted unanimously to enter into the contest which opened April 1, 1952 and will close February 28, 1953. Deadline for entering was August 1.

To Be Judged on Scrapbooks

Communities which have entered the contest will be judged on the basis of scrapbooks compiled by local sponsoring organizations. The scrapbooks will contain newspaper clippings, local committee and organizational reports, before-and-after photographs of expansion, modernization, and renovation projects and similar data denoting activity of the community.

ON POLICE FORCE

Wilgus Baker, former police chief of Carlisle, has been appointed as policeman for the City of Carlisle. Baker began his duties Saturday replacing Pete Owings.

As The Mercury Saw The Blue Lick Centennial Celebration Back In '82

Tuesday, August 19, marked the 170th anniversary of the Battle of Blue Licks, the "last battle of the Revolutionary War."

No formal celebration of the event was held this year. In bygone days mammoth celebrations have been staged in commemoration of the fallen heroes of that famous battle.

The following article is one which appeared in The Carlisle Mercury in August, 1882, describing the Centennial celebration as it was observed in that year.

"The celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the battle of Blue Licks, held on the battlefield on Saturday, the 19th, was one of the grandest events in regards numbers and the general success which marked the ceremonies ever held in Kentucky.

Perfect Weather

The day was simply perfect. The sky was cloudless and the atmosphere void of all oppression. At an early hour the vast throng already accumulated at the Springs Hotel began to be augmented by the arrival of visitors coming by carriage, buggy, horse back and on foot, until, when the ceremonies began, experienced judges estimated the number at between ten and twenty thousand.

We will not hazard a guess. Suffice it to say that they were there by the acres, an earnest, cheerful, intelligent, and most orderly assemblage of Kentuckians, assembled to do honor to the brave men who had a hundred years before made such a gathering possible.

Notables Present

The day was not marred by the slightest disorder. At ten o'clock the procession formed in front of the Arlington Hotel, as follows: the Governor and his staff; the Historical Society; Orators and Poet; descendants of the heroes of the battle; distinguished invited guests; Carlisle Commandery of Knight Templars; company of Invincibles from Mount Sterling; Guards; citizens in carriages; citizens on horseback and citizens afoot.

Fire Signal Cannon

At the firing of a signal cannon stationed on the battlefield, the procession moved to the eminence north of the Springs, half a mile distant, where the foundation of the centennial monument had been laid. Arriving there, the military formed in a hollow square around the spot, and from a stand near the exercises began at five minutes after eleven o'clock with an eloquent and earnest prayer by Bishop H. H. Kavanagh, of the Methodist Episcopal church, who, though an octogenarian, is still enjoying a vigorous old age.

Heavy Traffic!

John MCall, Blue Lick correspondent for The Mercury at the time of the centennial celebration in 1882, gives this report of the toll-gate activities: "Crossing the bridge and the toll-gate at the south of the bridge on the morning of August 19, 1882 were 21 two-horse wagons, 97 one-horse spring wagons, 118 two-horse carriages, 587 buggies, 296 horses and riders. Vehicles that did not cross the bridge were hitched in the woods, and at least calculation 8,742 people came in these vehicles. Calculating that as many came up the other end of the road, which is safe, counting the one thousand or more which were already at the Springs, and the hundreds that walked, we may safely say that there were close to fifteen thousand people at the celebration that day."

Next followed an address by Hon. W. P. Ross, of Carlisle, chairman of the Blue Lick Monumental Association, which was responded to by Mr. Lunsford P. Yandell of Louisville. Next followed an address by Hon. John Mason Brown, of Louisville, delivered the historical address occupying the rapt attention of the vast throng for one hour and one half. He was followed by Maj. H. T. Stanton in an original poem which stirred to enthusiasm the hearts of all his hearers. This closed the published programme.

Col. Breckinridge Speaks

But, in response to earnest call of the audience, and the urgent invitation of the president of the Association, Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge delivered an extempore address in a strain of eloquence which bore all before him.

We reproduce all the addresses made but this, only regretting that we cannot add to the collection this unwritten gem, incapable of being reported, but destined to live long in the memories of those who heard it. Col. Breckinridge was followed by Master Allen Cole, a son of Judge A. E. Cole of Fleming county, who delivered a handsome address in a spirited and highly creditable manner."

The Nicholas County boys also won a hunting knife apiece for having the best conducted tents in camp.

The local group was accompanied to the camp by Game Warden Harry Duncan, Judge Spencer Taylor and Scoutmaster Everett M. Smith.

PARK SUPT. TO LEAVE

Mr. William Landolt, superintendent of Blue Lick State Park for the past year, announced this week that he is being transferred to Kentucky Lake State Park to be assistant superintendent there.

Mr. Landolt and his wife and child will leave for the new position about Sept. 1. He has been at Blue Licks for the past year. No successor has yet been named.

THE STRAIGHT DOPE—on the seining operations held at the city reservoir two weeks ago is that the operation was conducted by the State Division of Fish and Wildlife with John Switzer, head of the seining department, in charge. The operation was carried on several days with most of it being done in the lower lake. Around 6276 bream and crappie were taken from the upper lake in only two "sweeps." In the lower lake about 4793 bream and crappie were taken. The bass that were caught in the seine were returned to the lake. More bass were found in the upper lake than in the lower. The small bream and crappie were taken to the North Fork of Licking where they were released. Abuigt five or six washtubs full of crawfish were also taken in the seine. Bass will be released in both lakes this fall. Above, Mr. Switzer holds a bass found in the lower lake, while his unidentified helpers look on.

Community Development Meeting Aug. 29

The Carlisle-Nicholas County Development Association is a county-wide organization, designed to seek benefits for both rural and urban areas.

Shearer said this week that "everyone is invited to the meeting next Friday," and he "especially urged that representatives of all civic organizations to be present to take part in the program."

Around 77 counties are now in the contest which opened April 1, 1952 and will close February 28, 1953. Deadline for entering was August 1.

To Be Judged on Scrapbooks

Communities which have entered the contest will be judged on the basis of scrapbooks compiled by local sponsoring organizations. The scrapbooks will contain newspaper clippings, local committee and organizational reports, before-and-after photographs of expansion, modernization, and renovation projects and similar data denoting activity of the community.

VFW MEETING FRIDAY

The regular meeting of the Lloyd George VFW post will be held Friday night, August 22, at the club rooms, according to Commander Bill Jones. Refreshments will be served after the meeting he stated.

Two Soldiers Hurt In Sunday Wreck

Two soldiers enroute to Ft. Knox narrowly escaped injury about midnight Sunday when their car failed to make a turn on Highway 32 about a mile and one-half north of Carlisle and ran off the road and overturned.

The driver of the late model car, Paul White of Cambridge, Ohio, suffered head cuts and an ankle injury and was taken to the Nicholas County hospital for first aid treatment. His companion, Donald Walls of Connecticut, suffered a shoulder bruise.

Both soldiers left Carlisle Monday for the camp.

According to them a tire blew out, causing White to lose control of the automobile. They had been on furlough and were returning to Knox.

Thieves Break-In Local Store Monday

Lewis Henry, manager of Markwell-Jones & Co., stated Tuesday morning that his store had been broken into late Monday night or early Tuesday morning and that between $50 and $60 in cash was missing from his cash register.

Entrance to the store was gained by prying loose a basement door. Henry stated that around $100 in cash was overlooked by the thieves. This money was in a bank book, he said. No checks were taken.
