CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Divine protection is assured and can be experienced in every circumstance as will be brought out in next Sunday's services on the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to "God the Preserver of Man."

Readings from the Bible include the following statement by Jesus: "For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved" John 3:17).

The correlative passages from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following: "The compensation of the spiritual idea had no Fried Eggs; in the earthly life of our Master but of his kingdom there shall be no end for Christ, God's idea will eventually rule all nations and peoples —imperatively, absolutely, finally."

The Golden Text is taken from Psalms 91:1: "He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty."

AUCTION SALES

The Scott-Kendall Sales Company sold at public auction Saturday, a residence in the western suburbs, excepted by the AEW post and also the adjoining filling station for Dan Wells to George Waugh and son, Clifton Waugh for $9,055. A business house on Market street also owned by Wells, was withdrawn when bid to $5,000.

CORRECTING DRAINAGE

The State Highway Department has had a crew of workers on the corner of Main and Sycamore streets the past several weeks attempting to correct the serious drainage problem that arises at that intersection during heavy rain storms. Cause of the problem, according to officials, was a defective installation of the original sewer system. The work is expected to be completed soon.

Grasshopper Damage Seen Unless Steps Are Taken

A great deal of damage is expected from grasshoppers again this year, at least in some areas." W. T. Straw, county agent, announced this week. High grasshopper numbers may not be present on all farms in the county but where several farms were visited Tuesday large numbers of grasshoppers were observed, located principally along old fence rows and at the edge of perhanent pastures and meadow fields.

The grasshoppers ranged in size from one-fourth to three-fourths inch long. They are not too destructive at this stage but farm operators should make an inspection of pasture fields and if many small grasshoppers are noticed, immediate steps should be taken to control them while they are still small.

The county agent consulted yesterday with Dr. W. A. Price, State Entomologist, University of Kentucky, and he said that grasshoppers have been reported in various areas in large numbers. He urged farmers to take immediate steps to control them.

Dr. Price pointed out that small grasshoppers are much easier to poison than large ones. As mowing of pastures and meadows progresses, grasshoppers will migrate to new crop fields of tobacco and corn. In about three or four weeks the present population of grasshoppers will develop wings which will enable them to move about from field to field.

Recommendations Listed

The following recommendations are suggested: 1) Make a careful inspection of the farm to determine where are areas small grasshoppers present, look particularly along drains, fence lines and old wasteland areas where grass and weeds have been plowed. These are the areas where grasshoppers prefer to lay their eggs.

2) After grasshopper areas are located apply either Toxaphene or Chlordane to areas about 20 to 30 feet wide along fence lines and extending, if possible, out into the hay fields and pasture fields. If this treatment is applied soon it will be effective in eliminating millions of grasshoppers.

3) If grasshoppers are located near tobacco and corn fields it is suggested that the fence areas and a 30 foot margin adjoining these fields be sprayed.

4) In mowing hay fields, it will pay to leave uncut 30 feet across next to fences. This will allow a place to apply insecticides for grasshopper control and will delay their moving into crop fields.

Insectide Change

There is one important change in the use of insecticides this year for 1952 crops. Toxaphene is not recommended to be used on tobacco because tobacco manufacturers claim that they cannot remove this insecticide and that it definitely affects the flavor of tobacco in a harmful way. Tobacco manufacturers have stated that if they know of anyone using Toxaphene on tobacco that they will refuse to buy the crop.

A new insecticide called ,Rotbinone is satisfactory to use on the tobacco crop. It will control tobacco worms effectively but is less effective in controlling grasshoppers than Toxaphene or Chlordane. However, the grasshoppers can best be controlled before they get into the tobacco fields. It is therefore recommended that Chlordane and Toxaphene be used on controlling grasshoppers but that Toxaphene be used exclusively outside of the tobacco field.

Three gallon sprayers, crank type dusters or tractor sprayers are recommended for treating grasshopper infested areas. In using 40 percent Toxaphene or 50 percent wettable Chlordane, eight to 12 level tablespoons of the insecticide should be used to each three gallon tank of water. In using the dust a 5 percent dust should be purchased, ready mixed, and applied at the rate of about 30 pounds per acre.

Users should observe the precautions recommended in using these insecticides.

Installation Friday For Legionnaires

Officers of the American Legion and Auxiliary will be installed Friday night at a dinner meeting at Williams restaurant with Homer Wright Jr. commander of the Area C. American Legion of Kentucky, as the installing officer.

Commander John D. Power will be installed as commander for the ensuing fiscal term as head of the local Legion post

Vet Instructor Appointed At NCHS

Mr. Ollis Adams, a graduate of the University of Kentucky's College of Agriculture, has been employed by the Nicholas County Board of Education to work with the Veterans Farm Training Program.

Mr. Adams assumed his new duties June 1. He is the instructor for George Dewey Nicholas County high school. Mr. Adams formerly taught veterans for five years in Marion and Taylor counties. He has also taught elementary schools for five years and agriculture in high school for one semester.

Mr. Adams is married and has two children. They are members of the Christian church and are now living in Carlisle.

Other members of agriculture working for the Nicholas County Board of Education are Mr. Jack Thaxton in charge of Group A, Mr. Foster Pumphrey in charge of Group B, and Mr. John Adams who is head teacher. Each group is composed of 25 veterans making a total enrollment of 75 veterans at the present time.

The veteran teachers from Nicholas county were among 400 teachers in the program who have just returned from a three day state conference held at the State F.F.A. Camp at Hardinsburg, Kentucky.

Cleola Thompson Booked For Murder

A charge of "shooting with intent to kill" was changed to "murder" Wednesday morning as Albert Thompson, 40, Henryville, was arraigned in the Nicholas County hospital from bullet wounds inflicted by his wife Sunday night.

Mrs. Thompson waived examining trial Wednesday morning at 11:30 and pleaded "not guilty" to the charge. Bond was set at $2000 and was furnished by George Ledford, Mrs. Thompson was released under the bond to await action of the grand jury.

Mrs. Thompson, 35, mother of four small children and expecting another, admitted to officers that she shot her husband Sunday night in front of their residence on Broadway, to keep him from entering home. Thompson was hit in the left side of the head by bullets fired from a .38 calibre revolver.

An unidentified man notified city police immediately after the shooting and Patrolmen Bill Mason and Pete Owens arrived at the scene shortly after the incident.

They recovered the pistol from Mrs. Thompson and notified Sheriff Clinkenbeard. An ambulance was dispatched from the local hospital.

Mrs. Thompson, who was lodged in the local jail immediately following the shooting was released Monday night on $1000 bond, furnished by Harry Walker and Mrs. Della Thompson, mother of the victim.

The incident followed a quarrel between Thompson and his wife, in which Thompson refused to wash his hands before eating.

He declared that he would go somewhere where he didn't have to wash to get something to eat and walked out of the house.

Mrs. Thompson followed, then returned to the house and got the weapon. She walked out on the porch and began firing. Thompson turned and began coming toward her as he was shot. Mrs. Thompson said she fired six times. The victim was hit by only two of the bullets.

Carlisle Attorney Gives Picture To Christian Church Wednesday

Roger Womack, Carlisle attorney, presented a steel-engraved picture of Lucy Nobel Rogers, Thomas and Alexander Campbell, Barton W. Stone and Walter Scott to the Christian Church Wednesday at the Wednesday-night supper meeting at the church.

The Fundamentalists picture was made in 1882 and was given to Mr. Womack's father, Clay Wade Womack, who died in 1905, by United States Commissioner Finley E. Fogg, a West Liberty attorney and deacon in the Christian church there.

Senior Mr. Womack was an elder, choir director and Sunday school superintendent of the Christian church at West Liberty at the time Roger Womack's mother, Mrs. S. C. Carpenter of Millersburg, has kept the picture for over 20 years in her Sunday school classroom in the Millersburg Christian church.

At the service the Rev. J. J. Whitehouse delivered an address on the theme of "Christian business movement workers. Mr. Womack presented the picture in memory of his father and Mrs. Fogg, who has a few relatives in Nicholas county.

Among them are Miss Hallie Gallagher and Harry T. Letton.

After the address Mr. Womack hung the picture in the church art gallery, where many other distinguished ministers and organizers of the church are pictured.

Mrs. Carpenter was an honor guest at the service and was introduced.

NICHOLAS WOMAN, SON INJURED IN WRECK

Mrs. J. W. Ecton and her four-year-old son, Paul Ray, were treated early Thursday night at the Nicholas County hospital for slight injuries received when their car, driven by Mr. Ecton, sideswiped a truck on the Moorefield road.

Mr. Ecton was not hurt. Their son remained in the hospital over night.

R.E.A. SERVICE

Electric service to R.E.A. customers in Nicholas county will be off between the hours of one and four o'clock Sunday afternoon, June 22, according to an announcement by C. J. Ross, manager of the Fleming-Mason R.E.C.C. Cause for the interruption will be the installation of transformers in the Murphysville substation in Mason county.

TALL TOBACCO

A tall tobacco tale was related to this office by James T. Clay, Lexington tobaccoman, this week concerning the height of tobacco in North Carolina. Mr. Clay had just returned from that state last week and told us of seeing tobacco hip-high. With tobacco transplanting almost finished in this county, it's hard to think of the crop being that high in other parts of the country. Must be going to be a good season—we all hope!

Gillespie Delegate To Methodist Meet

Rev. Paul C. Gillespie, Carlisle, will be one of about 125 Methodist leaders who will meet Friday, June 20, in Louisville to further plans for a Louisville Area United Evangelistic Mission to be conducted by Methodists of Kentucky and western Tennessee next fall.

The representatives, district committee chairmen from the Kentucky, Memphis, and Louisville Conferences, will meet at Trinity-Temple Methodist Church, session Friday. He is an official of the Methodist General Board of Evangelism.

The campaign will be conducted in two periods of operation. The first aperiod, designated the "Pastors for the East Unit Mission. Then, when the West Unit Mission is held, pastors whose churches are in the East will go to the West to serve as guest pastors.

YOUTH HURT IN WRECK

Eugene Kelly, about 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Kelly of near Carlisle, suffered an ankle injury last Saturday when he lost control of the car he was driving and it overturned on a curve on the Blue Licks road. He was admitted to the Nicholas County hospital for x-ray examination and treatment. The car was practically demolished.

MED SCHOOL GRADUATE

Wendell B. Kingsolver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kingsolver of Lexington and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Auxier, Jackstown, graduated from the University of Michigan medical school in Ann Arbor, Michigan, June 14. He will serve his internship at the Cincinnati General hospital in Cincinnati.

FHA MEETING

A meeting of officers of the Carlisle high school F.H.A. chapter will be held in the city school Friday, June 20 at 1 p. m.

OUTNUMBERED FOUR TO TWO—seems to make no difference to these two girls in the "Citizens of Tomorrow" feature series. The boys seem to like the idea, too. For Ladies Only: Marines Need Mail

The Mercury received an airmail letter last Thursday from five Marines serving on the front lines in Korea asking to receive some mail from persons around here.

Although they didn't specifically state whether they wanted correspondence from members of the male or female sex, knowing Marines, we're sure that this is meant more for the girls than the boys.

The text of the letter follows:

Hill 62, Korea
Carlisle Mercury, Dear Sirs:

We are five Marines on the front lines in Korea and we would like to receive some mail. Please see what you can do for us. Thank you.

Pfc. Pete Skrmetta 1216916, Cpl. Jim Crouch 1179706, Pfc. Dominick Carachilo 1212522, Pfc. Joseph Sizzetto 1204513, Pfc. Robert Thompson 1221413.

All the men are serving in the same company whose address is as follows:

Wpns. Co. 1st Bn., 7th Marines, 1st Marine Division, P.M.F., c /o P. M., F.P.O. San Francisco, California.

C'mon gals, don't keep the Marines waiting.

Blount And Judge Win Farmer Degree

Two members of the Nicholas County F.F.A., Joe Blount and Emmie Judge were selected from more than 10,000 students of vocational agriculture in Kentucky for the "Kentucky Farmer" degree at the 23rd annual convention in Louisville June 4-6.

Only 210 farm boys were elected to this honor over the entire state. To be eligible for consideration for this award, the candidate must have satisfactorily completed at least two years of instruction in vocational agriculture with high scholarship, must have a good farming program, and must have been outstanding in school, showing evidence of leadership ability.

During the State convention Blount and Judge acted as the official delegates for the Nicholas County F.F.A. and accepted awards for the chapter as district winner in the contest for scrapbook, treasurer's book and secretary's book. Joe placed fourth in the state in the tobacco production contest.

Three students from Nicholas county are awarded for the summer session at Morehead State Teachers college in Morehead. They are Minerva Bowen, Carlisle; Roscoe Jenkins, Barterville and Betty Jean Kimes, Myers.

NCHS Home Economics Head Going To Israel On Exchange Plan

Miss Jewell Dean Ellis, head of the home economics department of Nicholas County high school for the past year, will represent Kentucky during the next five months under the International Farm Youth Exchange Program.

Miss Ellis will spend her program time in Israel.

The IFYE program provides for farm youth from the United States to live and work with farm families in other countries. In return, farm youths from cooperating countries come here to live and work on farms. Fourteen young people from foreign countries have lived on Kentucky farms since the program was started in 1949.

Before leaving, the young people spent four days in Washington learning of the country to be visited. Upon their return, they will spend considerable time telling of their experiences.

No federal or state government funds are used for the delegates. Travel contributions are raised by youth organizations, individuals, service clubs, foundations and industries.

UK Graduate

Miss Ellis is a graduate of University of Kentucky in home economics and began her duties in Nicholas county July 1. She has been active in outstanding 4-H work winning the national championship on clothing in 1947.

She is on a leave of absence from the school.

Hearing Set This Morning To Probe 'Fire - Bombing'

A closed hearing by the State Fire Marshal's office will be held in the Nicholas county courthouse this morning to investigate the report of burning of farmer's home on the Upper Licks road.

It will begin at ten o'clock.

The hearing will be conducted by Deputy Marshal S. J. Berger of the state office and nine witnesses or more whose names were not disclosed will be called upon to testify.

The burning of the home of Henry McKee took place early Sunday morning when a homemade fire-bomb was tossed through a first-floor bedroom window where Mrs. McKee was sleeping about seven o'clock. Mrs. McKee and her daughter, and McKee and his son escaped from the home but the flames spread so quickly they were unable to save any clothing or furniture.

APPEAL FOR HELP

The Nicholas County Red Cross chapter, cooperating with citizens of Carlisle and Nicholas county, have started a drive to provide clothing and household furniture to the McKee's.

Clay Clinkenbeard, local farmer, has given the McKee's a rent free home until March 1 and several donations of clothing and furniture have been coming in since irate citizens heard of the terror burning of McKee's home Sunday night.

An appeal from those working on the drive to others who wish to contribute was given to The Mercury office this week. The appeal asked that all who wished to donate anything may leave their contributions at the courthouse, where county officials will deliver them to the McKee's on the Scrub Grass road.

Mr. and Mrs. McKee and family were expected to move to the Clinkenbeard house Wednesday.

Boy Fractures Shoulder In Wreck Wednesday

Jimmy McGilliney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman McGilliney, sustained a compound fracture of his left shoulder last Wednesday when the car which he was driving overturned on the Jackstown road near the farm of Robert Crockett.

McGilliney also suffered minor face cuts and numerous bruises.

The car was rounding a curve when it skidded on loose gravel and overturned when he lost control of it. There were no other passengers in the car.

He was brought to Carlisle where the broken bones were set. Damage to the car was estimated at several hundred dollars.
