I CAN'T COOK...

but you'd never know it since I got my new automatic electric range. Even my husband is amazed at the wonderful meals I serve now.

My new electric range is:

So AUTOMATIC AND CERTAIN

Not only can you set the oven controls, confident you'll get perfect results if you followed the recipe, but you'll get those results everytime.

So CONVENIENT AND MODERN

Its controlled accuracy makes it so easy to cook with. Cooking on an electric range is as simple as flicking on the kitchen light.

So FAST AND COOL

The big surface units heat up right now; that's important when you're in a hurry. Yet all the heat goes into the pans, not the kitchen.

So CLEAN AND SAFE

There's no flame to go out or swirl smoke and soot around the kitchen, no fumes, no valves for children to playfully turn on.

So ECONOMICAL

"Electric cooking costs less than you think." Check the chart below to see what it will cost you to cook for an average family of four. These costs are based on the use of 100 kilowatts a month for cooking. If your present bill is:

$3.80 or over, electric cooking will cost you $2.00
3.20 to 3.40, electric cooking will cost you 2.20
3.00 to 3.20, electric cooking will cost you 2.40
2.80 to 3.00, electric cooking will cost you 2.60
2.60 to 2.80, electric cooking will cost you 2.80
2.40 to 2.60, electric cooking will cost you 3.00

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN
Founder of Mutual Insurance

Kentucky's Largest observes the 200th Anniversary of Mutual Insurance

In 1752, Benjamin Franklin reasoned that if sincere and responsible people organized a group devoted to mutual protection, they could guard themselves against financial disaster; thus was born America's first insurance company . . . a mutual company.

For nearly a century, 78 years to be exact, the Mutual Fire Insurance Company, of Covington, Kentucky, has been a part of this truly American institution . . . Mutual Insurance. Our company is devoted to maximum fire insurance protection at a minimum cost.

During the years, we have gone even further to provide non-assessable policies assuring full security for those insuring with us. Our agents have this sound, money-saving service at your disposal.

Phosphorus Needed For Good Tobacco

Even when a lot of manure is used on tobacco, a fertilizer containing phosphorus should be used except on soils containing considerable phosphate, says a University of Kentucky circular on fertilizing burley tobacco.

A ton of manure contains about five pounds of phosphorus and ten pounds each of nitrogen and potash.

It is recommended that 500 to 700 pounds of 20 percent superphosphate or 1,000 to 1500 pounds of 5-10-10 or 1200 to 1800 pounds of a 4-8-12 be used, where mixed fertilizer is applied on low phosphate land.

Unless tobacco land is high in potash, or unless 18 or more tons of manure is applied an acre, 150 to 200 pounds of potash should be used per acre. This is contained in 300 to 400 pounds of potassium sulfate or 1200 to 2,000 pounds of 5-10-10 mixed fertilizer.

Tobacco Growers Make Ton Yields

The program of Grant county's annual tobacco day revealed 11 farmers and several others who produced 2,000 pounds or more to an acre.

R. H. Sebre, champion in the farmer class, grew an average of 2,162 pounds of Ky 26 an acre on four acres and sold his crop for an average of $1,316.57 an acre.

Earl Caldwell led the veterans class with a yield of 2,339 pounds of Ky 10 an acre on 3½ acres. Average acre return was $1,153.-33.

For the third time, Floyd Poore was 4-H champion. His crop yielded at the rate of 2,124 pounds and $1,226 an acre. He grew Ky 26, as did most of the farmers getting high yields, according to UK County Agent Robert Hume.

Home-Grown Feeds Make Hogs Pay Off

Home-grown grain and pasture go a long way in boosting profits from hogs, note stockmen at the UK College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

To weigh 200 pounds, each pig requires at least 15 bushels of corn, 150 gallons of milk and a tenth of an acre of pasture. Tankage, soybean meal or other protein supplement can be used instead of skimmilk.

Salt and a mineral mixture of half bonemeal and half limestone should be provided; also clean drinking water.

Sows should receive wheat middlings while nursing pigs.

STATE 4H'ECH MEET APRIL 14-16 AT UK

Two hundred or more of the state's outstanding teen-age forensic stars will meet at the University of Kentucky April 14-16 for the annual Kentucky High School Speech Festival. The three-day event, sponsored by the U.K. Extension Department, will feature the annual debate tournament, won the past four years by Winchester high school. Competition also is scheduled in half a dozen other events, including radio speaking, oratory, discussion, poetry reading, interpretative reading, and extemporaneous speaking.
