Snead To Play Louisville Tourney

Any golf enthusiast in Kentucky who has longed to see some of golfdom's great names in action will have his wishes fulfilled at the Big Spring Course in Louisville, June 16-24.

Approximately 150 of the nation's top professionals, headed by "Slammin' Sam" Snead, will compete at that time in the national Professional Golfers' Association Championships. This tournament, the first national tournament to be held in the State since 1934, is being brought to Kentucky by the Kentucky Press Fund for Crippled Children and the Optimist Club of Louisville.

During the week of May 12-19, qualifying rounds in thirty sections of the United States are being played to determine the majority of those eligible for the finals at Louisville. Snead, the 1951 PGA champ, is on the exempt list, qualifying automatically. Also exempt are all former PGA national champions, members of the Ryder Cup team, top money winners of 1951 and a few other top notch golfers. Kentucky will be represented by the host pro, Jack Ryan, and winners of the PGA Kentucky section.

This means the meet is assured of such favorites as Dr. Cary Middlecoff, Lloyd Mangrum, Vic Ghezzi, "Porky" Oliver, Johnny Revolta, Johnny Bulla, Chandler Harper, Ellsworth Vines, Clayton Heafner and many others equally well-known.

Season tickets, good for all nine days play, and for free parking privileges, now are on sale at $14.40 from PGA ticket chairman, Elmore Rueff, 430 W. Chestnut Street, Louisville. Single day tickets soon will be on sale from the same place at $1 for early round play to $3 for the final round.

Reynolds Issues Smallpox Warning

Smallpox is one of the most contagious of all diseases. Exposure usually results in a person catching it unless that person has been protected by immunization.

Babies can be safely and effectively vaccinated as early as three months of age and should be immunized before their first birthday. At this age children experience little or no discomfort. More important they receive protection at an early age.

Should the child receive an early vaccination he should be revaccinated before entering school. It is particularly important that adults and children alike be revaccinated when there is danger of exposure to smallpox, or after exposure.

In the days before immunization smallpox was so prevalent that nearly every family had one or more cases among its members. Many of these cases were fatal, or else left the person badly scarred. Today smallpox is a preventable disease and every member of every family should make sure that he or she is protected.

Smallpox can be completely stamped out by means of mass immunization. Otherwise, there remains the possibility of it again appearing in epidemic form.

Dr. Reynolds, Nicholas County Health Officer, urges the parents of all pre-school children to see that their children are protected. Either get in touch with your family physician or your local health department and have this service preformed.

Canning Equipment Should Be Checked

Canning will seem ony half the ordeal when necessary equipment is on hand and in good repair, says Miss Florence Imlay, foods authority at the University of Kentucky. She advises a check-up now, while supplies are ample.

The steam pressure canner, required for all vegetables except tomatoes, needs an annual check-up for safety's sake; have the pressure gauge tested by the county home demonstration agent or the manufacturer. Follow the directions that came with the canner to be sure all openings are clean for proper venting and pressure control. The rubber ring must be a perfect fit. If burning it is not adequate, a new one must be bought. For the cover that sticks, rub a thin film of vaseline, mineral oil or unsalted fat on the edges of the sealing ring.

A water bath canner is used for processing fruits and tomatoes. It must be deep enough to allow for a rack in the bottom and for the water to extend two inches above the jars. While a boiler or lard can may be used, a rack with dividers or partitions for the jars, and handles for easy removal, is of great help.

Jars Should Be Checked

Jars should be checked to see that there are no nicks or chipped places. Screw top jars must have new or perfect lids and new rubber rings. Metal lids with sealing compound edges must also be new.

There are several aids to simplify the canning—measuring cups and spoons, sharp paring knife, long handled wooden spoon, rubber scraper, jar lifter, food mill or rotary masher, sieve and colander. See also that a jelly bag is on hand along with a large saucepan or kettle and gummed stickers for labeling.

A copy of a new circular, No. 140, "How to Can Fruits and Vegetables," may be had from offices of county farm or home agents, or from the UK College of Agriculture and Home Economics, Lexington.

Annual 4-H Week Set For June 3-7

Dates for the 29th annual 4-H Club Week to be held at the University of Kentucky, Lexington, have been set for June 3 to 7, it has been announced. Between 1,200 and 1,300 delegates, leaders and county farm and home agents will attend.

Delegates will be 4-H boys and girls who have excelled in leadership, or were selected for their achievements in activities or projects.

The five-day program has been planned to provide inspiration, information and entertainment, according to J. W. Whitehouse, state leader of 4-H work. The 4-Hers themselves will have an important place in the program, as they demonstrate farm and home practices and take part in discussion groups. There will also be a speech contest in which they tell of the value of club work to them.

"Getting Along with Others," is the general theme for discussion groups in which both boys and girls will have a part. Prof. J. P. Schmidt, of Ohio State University, nationally known leader of young people's discussion groups, will be in charge.

The convention's program will be opened Tuesday night with a lecture - demonstration entitled, "Progress in Better Living," by Louis P. Shannon of the Du Pont Company, Wilmington, Delaware. Through exhibits he will show American progress resulting from chemical research.

Miss Judy Lester of Lyon county is president of the Kentucky Association of 4-H Clubs, William McCoy of Martin county is vice president and Miss Janette Peters of Scott county is secretary.

BENHAM YOUTH WINS $2,800 SCHOLARSHIP

Paul Eggum, 18, a senior at Benham high school, Benham, has been awarded a four year all-expense scholarship of $2,800 to the University of Kentucky by the Kentucky Research Foundation from funds donated by alumni of the University to the Loyalty Fund. Eggum, son of Mrs. Thelma Jackson, Cumberland, will be graduated from Benham high school May 23. The selection of a student for the award was based on scholastic ability, character, personality and extra-curricular activities.

4-H Boy Builds Dairy Business

As a member of a 4-H club at Sharon Grove, Todd county, Clyde Maxwell just a few years ago bought a grade dairy heifer for $55. He took this animal artificially three times and obtained two heifer calves by Jeweler, one of the top sires of the Kentucky Artificial Breeding Association; also a bull which he sealed.

In the meantime, the first heifer out ofthis cow has an artificially sired heifer calf. So Clyde now has two cows, a yearling heifer and a heifer calf. UK County Agent Stuart Brabant values the herd at $675, all from an initial investment of $55.

Young Evergreen Trees Need Water

Unless the season continues wet, Prof. N. R. Elliott of the University of Kentucky says recently set evergreen trees should be watered every 10 days. This applies to all trees set the past fall or this spring. Soak them with five to 10 gallons of water, he said.

Many persons, it was noted, do not realize that evergreens need water until they begin to lose their foliage. Then it may be too late. Some are said to have died this spring, and many have suffered from lack of moisture.

Better Eating May Cure Tired Feeling

Many older people aren't as healthy and happy as they might be if they would eat the right foods. A chronic tired feeling, a gloomy outlook on life, anxiety over small things, loss of sleep and too much weight might be the result of being badly nourished. So says a new Washington bulletin, No. 17, "Food Guide for Older Folks." A copy may be had by writing to the University of Kentucky Experiment Station, Lexington.

Recipe of the Week

Here is a recipe for tuna loaf which housewifes will enjoy whatever the season. It may be served hot or cold. Mrs. Pearl Haak, specialist in foods suggests that salmon may be used if desired.

Tuna Loaf

2 cups soft bread crumbs
½ cup milk
½ can condensed mushroom soup
1 egg beaten
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon paprika
1 can of tuna
2 tablespoons chopped pimento

Combine the bread crumbs, milk, mushroom soup, egg, salt, paprika, flaked tuna and pimento. Bake in a greased baking dish, set in a pan of hot water, in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 45 minutes, or until inserted knife comes out clean. Serves 4 to 6.

Menu: Tuna loaf, buttered carrots, spinach, fruit salad, French bread, butter and rhubarb shortcake.

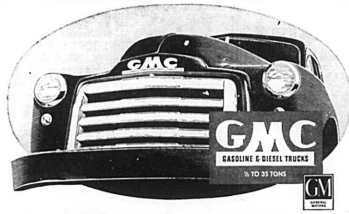
College Radio Schedule

A radio program from the University of Kentucky is broadcast over station WHAS every Saturday at 10:30 a. m. CST. Speakers from the College of Agriculture and Home Economics to be heard on May 24 are: Miss Vivian Curnutt, "Answers to Questions on Home Furnishings;" Carl Chaplin, "Fruits for the Future," and Ray Hopper, "Purdue Supplement A."

On station WAVE at 11:45 a. m., CST, on May 24, W. P. Garrigus will discuss, "Preservatives for Grass Silage."

OLD CHAIRS REVAMPED

Wayne county homemakers have found that worn-out chairs may be made both comfortable and attractive by padding them, then making a new slipcover, said Miss Blanche Back, UK home demonstration agent. Old leather chairs, upholstered chairs and even nail kegs for dressing table stools, have taken on a new appearance. About 50 chairs in the county are being redone.



How to spot an expert
An expert makes hard work easier.
When it comes to hauling, a GMC truck is your expert—for this very sound reason:
GMC—as the world's largest exclusive manufacturer of commercial vehicles—concerns itself 100% with the development of new and better ways to transport goods.
Each model is the careful answer to specific, tough hauling problems.
The new GMC "302" engine is a case in point. In addition to being America's highest-compression standard gasoline truck engine—it packs more horsepower for its weight than any other on the road! The result is savings in useless "dead weight" by as much as 500 pounds over other engines of equal horsepower.
It's this kind of expert engineering that makes us sure of one thing; whatever model you select at our showroom—panel or pickup, stake rack or platform—you'll have an expert on your next job!
