Fire destroyed a dairy barn on the M. D. Reese farm four miles from Winchester on the Paris road early Friday morning, apparently by a result of lightning which struck during an electrical and rain storm.

Eight tons of hay stored in the barn was destroyed. The loss was partially covered by insurance. Wind fanned the flames away from another barn nearby.

VOLUME LXXXV ESTABLISHED 1867 CARLISLE, KY., MAY 29, 1952 PRICE FIVE CENTS NUMBER 22

THINGS HAVE REACHED A PRETTY SAD STATE OF AFFAIRS —when the County Attorney, among his other legal duties, has to mow the courthouse lawn—and that's exactly what happened Monday morning when County Attorney Charles Cox pictured above with Jailer Will Owings mowed the grass on the courthouse lawn. Those familiar with the size of the yard know that it is no little task. Making the job even harder was the fact that the grass was somewhere between a foot and a foot and a half high when the work began. We didn't question Mr. Cox as to why he cut the grass, surmising that he just got tired of seeing the grass growing higher with each passing week and having some civic pride, jumped in on his usual manner and got the job done.

Legion Sponsored Festival To Be Held Three Days

Tentative arrangements for the three days and nights of celebration of the annual Blackberry Festival in Carlisle were announced this week by the American Legion, sponsoring the event for the first time.

Legion Commander John Powser said that the celebration would begin the afternoon of July 3 and continue until Saturday night, July 5. Round and square dancing in the street will be held each night, cash prizes will be given away and fireworks will be displayed at various intervals during the three day festival.

The Festival committee stated that the town will be decorated with Legion colors and if all present plans are carried through, "should be the biggest Blackberry Festival yet to be held."

Seeking Speaker

A prominent speaker is being sought for Thursday night's program and among the names mentioned as possible guest of honor were Governor Lawrence Wetherby, Senator Thomas Underwood, John Sherman Cooper, Congressman John Watts and A. B. "Happy" Chandler.

Two bands besides a string band and a square dance band will perform during the holiday as the Paris Drum and Bugle Corp will present a program and the Shrine band of Lexington has been invited to play for the festival.

A Blackberry Festival queen will be chosen during the event and nominations for this post will begin in the near future.

Children's Contest

Games, races and other contests for the children are complete with prizes will be held one afternoon and a non-sectarian church service is also being planned.

Booths along Main street, which will be roped off for the dancers, are in the process of being sold and several merchants and public officials have already purchased them.

A merry-go-round, ferris wheel or similar ride is being contracted for the three days and may be available for the celebration.

A concession stand for the festival committee put it, "If you're looking for a place to go July Fourth, look no further. This is it! You'll see the biggest celebration in years."

Nine Conservation Districts Listed

Nine new districts from which members of the Soil and Water resources Commission and the Flood Control and Water Usage Board will be named were announced by Henry Ward, commissioner of Conservation.

The districts were designated by Ward, with the approval of Governor Wetherby, under a law passed by the General Assembly last winter, giving the commissioner of Conservation that duty. They will become effective June 15.

Present districts are the same as the old nine congressional districts. The change in the method of designating districts was made because Kentucky's Congressional districts were reduced to eight, and eight-man governing bodies were not considered workable.

Members of the Flood Control Board are appointed for four-year terms by the governor and members of the Soil and Water Commission are appointed by the commissioner of Conservation for four years.

Trick Horse To Perform At Fourth Big Horseshow

Show horses and riders from all over Central Kentucky, Ohio and other points in Kentucky are expected to stream into Carlisle Tuesday to participate in the fourth annual VFW Horseshow.

Secretary John Feebeck reported this week that he had had more requests for information concerning this year's show than in any previous year. Mere entries are expected to compete, he said, and this year's show should be one of the largest.

Chairman R. P. Alexander, who several weeks ago announced that a lady sidesaddle rider, Mrs. H. E. Fredericks of Murrayville, Ohio, would be an added attraction to the show, came up with another surprise this week.

Alexander stated that the horseshow committee had secured the services of Jesse Ratliff, 19, and his trick horse, Trigger Jr., to perform between classes. Trigger Jr. is reported to be able to add, count, walk on his hind legs and do various other stunts.

Ratliff is from Mount Mill in Fleming county and trained the horse himself. Trigger Jr. is a three-year-old palomino stallion and his antics are expected to be a sure crowd pleaser.

Box seats have nearly all been sold, according to Billy Parker, who is in charge of them. Parker reported that around 30 boxes will be in use Tuesday night, and that those who have arranged for them will find their names on the boxes where they are supposed to sit.

Begins At 8:00 P. M.

The show will open at 8 o'clock. Dudley Walker will be the judge for the show. Cliff White will be the announcer and Keller Hughes the ring master.

Those presenting ribbons at the show will be Misses Anna Mae Hughes, Bobbie Doyle, Kay Fisher and Betty Caywood. Lt. Jack Bowen and Sam Reynolds of the Air Corp will act as their escorts.

Order in which the classes will be held Tuesday night are as follows: Class 1—Boy or Girl Rider under 18; Class 2—Nicholas County Pleasure Riding Horse; Class 3—Fancy Turnout; Class 4 —Three Gaited Stallion, Mare or Gelding; Class 5—Three Gaited Pony; Class 6—Fine Harness; Class 7—Walking Stallion, Mare or Gelding; Class 8—Five Gaited Pony; Class 9—Five Gaited Stallion, Mare or Gelding.

In case of rain the show will be held Wednesday night.

Moorefield Pupil Drowns In Ohio

A 12-year-old student at Moorefield, who had just completed the seventh grade last week, was drowned late Monday afternoon in the Ohio river at Cincinnati.

The boy, with two companions, were swimming in the Walnut street landing when a strong current swept them downstream. The drowning victim, James Rowe, apparently went under after his head struck a barge.

The body had not been recovered Wednesday and police and firemen were dragging the river in an attempt to find the body.

The boy had been making his home with Mr. and Mrs. Clifton House in Moorefield and had been attending Moorefield school. His mother, Mrs. Ruby Rowe, is employed in Cincinnati and Rowe had just been there since Thursday.

The boy was identified by his clothing left on the bank and by an identification bracelet which his mother identified. He had only known his swimming companions a few hours and they identified a picture of him which his mother had.

The two boys attempted to save him by diving from the barge into open water reporting the tragedy were taken to the General Hospital and were treated for shock and bruises.

Ky. Civil Defense Made Into 4 Units

Kentucky has been divided into four civil defense regions for Civil Defense purposes, Gilbert L. White, State deputy director of Civil Defense, announced today.
