Former Myers Resident's Son Writes Seeking Names Of Friends

(Editors Note) — The following letter was received by Paul Cameron, Myers, last week, and concerns a former resident of the Myers community who wishes to know if any of the residents of that section remember her. She left this county 63 years ago.

R.-R. No. 2,
Franklin, Ohio,
August 27, 1951

Dear Mr. Cameron:

I do not know you but while passing through Myers a few months ago I noticed your name on your store building.

This letter is being written for my mother who will be ninety years of age on September 25th of this year. She spent fourteen years of her girlhood in your locality and has been wondering if there may be any of the older folks still living there who might remember her. We realize that the possibility of this is very remote, but I am writing anyway thinking that you probably know most of the people in that area and might possibly be able to give us some information.

My mother's maiden name was Phoebe Hall. She was the daughter of Alex Hall, a stationary engineer who worked for Mr. Thompson Parks, owner of a sawmill at Parks' Ferry. She had several brothers and sisters: Tom, Ohmer, Lee, Martha, Mollie and Maude. The family lived at Parks' Ferry but my mother attended school at Myers, also attended church at Cassidy Creek Church, whaby her mother is buried. She left Myers sixty-three years ago when she married my father, James Taylor.

Some of the old-timers she remembers are: Charley and Lena Terry; Harrison Hamilton; Charley and Kelly Cameron, also John Cameron who married her cousin, Mandy Evans. George Payne is another name she remembers.

I know there is little likelihood of locating anyone who would remember my mother after sixty-three years but I'm sure she would be very grateful if you can provide us with any information. If you should know of anyone who remembers her I thought it might be a pleasant surprise to bring her to Myers as her 90th birthday present. She is not well but still gets around and drives riding. This is an unusual request but I am doing it to please my mother.

Sincerely yours,
Willard R. Taylor.

Flying Saucer Mystery Solved

The mystery of "flying saucers" that have been seen in the Crayton section of the county recently has been solved by Mr. Elmer Fredericks of that community.

Saturday morning he brought into The Mercury office the clue to the puzzle. The apparatus consisted of a small parachute type material about the size of a normal handkerchief with strings attached to each corner. In the center of the "handkerchief" was a string from which was hanging what appeared to be a punctured balloon. The strings attached to the corners were about 10 or 12 feet long and to the end of them was attached a small battery with a bulb the size of a normal flashlight bulb, which perhaps burned for several hours from the battery.

The strings were twisted around one another leaving one with the impression that as the apparatus traveled it spun the parachute portion in a continuing circle, first one way and then another.

This spinning cloth with a light trailing along about 10 feet below must have given several Crayton residents the impression that they were really seeing the much discussed "flying saucers."

Printing on the battery was, as follows having on one side the words "Manufactured by Specialty Battery Co., subsidiary of Ray-O-Vac." On the other "U. S. Weather Bureau, Battery No. RS-C3, date of manufacture, April, 1952."

National Guards Return From Camp

qualified for nine-year service medals in the National Guard.

Bureau Policy

According to an officer of the local company if a youth enlists in the National Guard before his 18½ birthday he is automatically relieved of the responsibility of Universal Military Training and Service. In order to keep qualified he must attend all drills and the annual summer encampment. This is a National Guard Bureau policy. If the enlistee doesn't keep qualified, his name is automatically turned over to the draft board and he then becomes subject to the draft at whichever time they need him. The National Guard Association believes that if an enlistee takes advantage of the program, he should be indicted enough to carry out the full responsibilities that training under the National Guard program requires.

They were Capt. W. R. Buntin, Lt. Ben H. Pumphrey and Lt. Charles C. Shroat.

Heavy Mortar Company was disqualified from receiving the best unit award, known as Zig-Zag Past trophy, because of the low strength attendance to the summer camp which figured only 73 percent of their total strength.
