The new conference will sponsor a tournament each year in order to play off the last week in December. The site for this year's tourney will be announced later.

Eck Branham, coach of Bourbon Vocational, was elected president of the newly-formed conference and Jarvis Parsley, principal and coach of Bracken County was elected vice president. Kem Kemper of Harrison County was named secretary-treasurer of the organization.

Trophies To Be Given

Trophies for both conference and tournament play will be awarded winning teams. Money, stated Tuesday, and said that a requirement of the league was that member teams must play eight games within the conference.

Charles Finnell, coach of the Nicholas County Blue Jackets, stated this week that he was unable to schedule Clark County for the coming year but would meet that team during the 1954-55 season.

Purpose of the organization of the conference, Finnell stated, was to get better crowds by playing better teams in better gyms.

Two Fire Calls Made Here Sunday

The Carlisle volunteer fire department answered two fire calls Sunday morning.

The first call, at 7 o'clock, was to extinguish a fire on a car which was burning near Frank Simons Garage on East Main street. The car, a 1941 model, belonged to Simons. The interior was considerably damaged as the fire was confined to the inside of the car.

The second call, at 10 o'clock, was answered to extinguish a blaze on a coal house on the Reed property on the corner of Chestnut and East Main. Fireman put out the fire quickly and little damage was done.

It was said to have started when a ash of hot ashes tipped over a

The devotional will be given by Mrs. Billy Duncan.

Leonard Watkins Held To U.S. District Court

Leonard S. Watkins, 49, Myers, waived preliminary hearing in Lexington Monday and was held to the Lexington term of U. S. District Court on charges of possessing unlawful whisky and making and fermenting mash on prohibited premises.

The preliminary hearing was held before U. S. Commissioner Ben I. Kessinger Jr.

Watkins was arrested in the Cane Creek section of the county by U. S. Internal Revenue Myers Saturday afternoon by federal officers and one state agent.

The officers seized at the same time three 50-gallon stills, with 215 gallons of whisky, and 150 gallons of mash.

Watkins is in jail under default of $500 bond.

Safe Crackers Rob Millersburg Store

Safe crackers blew the door off a huge safe at the Millersburg Coal and Lumber Company Monday night and escaped with an estimated $200 in cash.

According to State Trooper Frances Taylor, who is investigating the robbery, the thieves gained entrance to the building by prying open a side door.

A questioning of residents in the neighborhood revealed that no one had heard the blast that tore the big door from the six-foot tall safe.

The door was twisted from the charge showing the power of the blast. Papers from the safe were strewn over the office floor and it appeared that the entire contents of the safe had been rifled.

Nothing else appeared to have been disturbed with the exception of a knife case from which several knives were missing. About 14 months ago the firm was broken into and several knives stolen among the articles taken. At the same time an unsuccessful attempt was made by the burglars to rob the safe by breaking the combination lock.

There were no immediate clues but state police fingerprint experts were called in on the case and Tuesday morning were searching the premises for alien prints.
