TRIES NITROGEN ON CORN

John Royster is cooperating with U.K. County Agent J. A Wheeler of Union county in showing the value of nitrogen fertilizers on corn. In one field ammonium nitrate was applied at 40 and 80 pounds rates and acre, and in another field anhydrous ammonia was used at rates of 40, 80 and 120 pounds. Yields will be compared to those on plots where no nitrogen was used.

BIG WHEAT IN CALLOWAY

Calloway county had an unexpected harvest of the largest wheat crop in the history, says S. V. Foy, farm agent for the University of Kentucky. Most of the wheat was sown as a cover crop, and grew up big in the winter and wet spring, that farmers could not turn it under. So they left it for grain production.

First Grade A Dairy In Nicholas Now In Business

Nicholas county racked up another first last week as the Cross Acres Dairy began Grade A pasteurized milk deliveries to local retailers.

Operated by G. E. Curtsinger and his 22-year-old son, G. L., the dairy began its delivery after six months of preparation. The Curtsinger's own the dairy jointly with Mr. Lewis Crosley, upon whose farm it is located.

The owner's began building the dairy in February, reconverting a large stock barn and adding concrete block additions in the front of it to meet state health rules.

The modern dairy consists now of a milking room, a pasteurizing room, a washing room and the rest of the barn.

Some 30 cows are being milked now out of a herd of 60 cows. Seventeen more are due to be fresh within the month. The herd consists mainly of Guernseys and Holsteins.

Three Milked At A Time

When the milking starts around five o'clock in the morning the procession of cows enter the milking room and out of it resembles an assembly line. The milking room contains three stalls but only three are used for milking at one time. The other stall is used to wash down the cow before she takes her turn to be milked.

While being milked the cows are fed by the use of an automatic hopper which allows the feed to come down into the feeder without causing dust to spread out over the milking room.

From the milking room the milk is piped into the 200-gallon pasteurizer in the pasteurizing room. Here the milk is brought to the degree of heat necessary to pasteurize it, held there for 30 minutes, and then piped to a cooler in the same room.

Lowers Temperature

This large cooler drops the temperature of the milk down to 32 degrees. It then transfers it to the automatic bottler which puts the cold milk into the bottle and automatically seals it with a cap.

Four bottles can be filled with milk at a time while the sealer will cap two bottles at once.

After it has been bottled, the milk is placed manually on a walk-in cooler only a few feet away. A temperature of 36 degrees is maintained in the cooler which keeps the milk cold until time for delivery.

Milk Not Touched

Mr. G. E. Curtsinger, who worked in the dairy business in Anderson county for 18 years prior to coming here, prides the dairy on the fact that the milk is never touched by human hands. The nearest it comes to being handled before it is bottled is when it is poured from the electric milkers into the machine which carries it to the pasteurizer.

The pasteurizer, cooler and automatic bottler are housed in a trailing oved 400 quarts of milk an hour.

Chart Records Process

An automatic chart records the temperature of the pasteurizer and this chart is inspected each month by the Health Department. The local dairy has been approved by the Bourbon County Health Department and the Curtsinger's worked closely with this organization in setting up their methods of operation.

The washing room in which Mr. Curtsinger says he spends most of his time contains the automatic bottle washer and the washer for the milking equipment, such as electric milkers, strainers and the like.

Bottle Washer Automatic

In washing the bottles pass thru three phases. First, they are thoroughly washed by the use of a steam solution, then rinsed in boiling hot water, and finally sterilized with another special solution.

Pipes Sterilized Daily

The pipes which carry the milk from the milking room to the pasteurizer and through its various other phases is washed with a special solution each day.

The 389-acre farm now has about 200 acres in pasture, which should give the cows plenty of nourishment. One hundred and twenty acres of evergreen sweet clover were sowed this spring. Mr. Curtsinger stated, and added that next spring some 175 acres would be sowed.

To Have Butterfat Tests

Mr. Curtsinger stated that beginning the first of September he would have the butterfat contents of his milk checked each week to let the public know just what quality milk they were buying. Butterfat tests are usually taken once a month.

Have Grand Champion Cow

Also on the farm will be found "Gracie," Grand Champion Holstein of Kentucky. "Gracie" belongs to the younger Curtsinger and won her honors at the Kentucky State Fair in 1951. He plans to take her back this year for another crack at the state title. "Gracie" has been shown numerous times by her owner and has only one red ribbon, which was given her in her first show. The rest of her ribbons are blue and Grand Champion streamers. She milks around 50 pounds of milk per day.

Mr. Curtsinger stated this week that he would like anyone that was interested to come out and look at the dairy. He said that he would be most glad to show anyone around and explain the operation.

Court To Pay Man For Damage To Car

At the regular meeting of the Nicholas County Fiscal Court last Wednesday afternoon the court voted to pay Dr. W. D. McAfee, local optometrist, $151.29 for damage to his car which was in a collision with a county truck driven by Everett Buskell at the corner of Main and Sycamore street some time ago.

On recognition of a letter from County Superintendent Raymond Wesley concerning leaks at the Nicholas County high school building, the court authorized the county attorney to take such necessary action to correct the leaks even to the point of filing suit against Leo C. Miller Construction Co. and Standard Accident Insurance Co. for damages unless the conditions at the school are corrected immediately.

Reynolds Robbed While In Maryland

Frank Reynolds, 26, son of Dr. and Mrs. B. F. Reynolds, was robbed and beaten about two weeks ago in Maryland where he is employed by the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company.

Reynolds and a companion, James Strickland, who also works for the tobacco company, were returning late one night from a fishing trip when they became lost.

Driving into a filling station they saw another car and asked the direction to Waldorf, Maryland, where they were staying. The men said they would show them, and as three got into the car with Reynolds and Strickland, the other two got into their own car and instructed them to follow.

They drove a short distance down the road and turned into a deserted lane. Reynolds and Strickland followed. The lead car stopped and the local boy and his companions were ordered out of their car and informed that they were to be robbed.

Reynolds and his companion put up a short but futile fight and Frank received a black eye and numerous other bruises while his companion was knocked unconscious.

The thieves took a new fishing rod and reel from Reynolds, his suit coat, and his wallet which contained about $20 and all his valuable papers.

Frank Strickland, they took around $50, his watch and ring.

Wheat Quota Vote Called For Friday

The wheat marketing quota referendum to be held Friday, August 14, will be conducted at the Nicholas County PMA Office, advises Mr. H. S. Vice, chairman of the Production and Marketing Administration Committee. Voting time will be from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. The Nicholas County PMA Committee will be in charge of the referendum.

Mr. Vice urges every eligible wheat grower to vote, since the outcome of the referendum will materially affect the price farmers receive for their 1954 wheat. He points out that if two-thirds or more of those voting favor marketing quotas, wheat loans at 90 percent of parity will be available to those who plant within their wheat acreage allotments. (Parity as of June 15 was $2.42 a bushel.)

If marketing quotas are rejected by the growers, quotas will not be in effect and the support rate on 1954 wheat will drop to 50 percent of parity for cooperators.

Acreage allotments will be in effect for the 1954 wheat crop regardless of the outcome of the referendum, he explains. If marketing quotas are in effect, those who exceed their allotments must store or dispose of their excess wheat as directed by the Secretary or pay the marketing penalty on the excess wheat.

The marketing penalty is 45 percent of wheat parity as of May 1, 1954.

Mr. Vice explains that the program applies to all farmers where the wheat acreage for harvest is more than 15 acres and where the normal production on the acreage is 200 bushels or more. Farmers having an interest in the wheat grown on such farms are eligible to vote in the referendum.
