Fire Friday Guts East Main Home Of Jr. Fuller; All Furnishings Lost

Fire of undetermined origin gutted the three-room frame dwelling belonging to Ermine (Junior) Fuller on East Main street about 8 o'clock Friday night.

Mrs. Fuller, who was at home with her children at the time of the fire, stated that she was in the living room when she smelled smoke. Turning toward the kitchen she saw the house rapidly filling with smoke and had just enough time to waken the children and get them to safety before the fire was in all the rooms.

No Insurance

All the household furniture and clothing, unfortunately, was not insurance, were lost in the fire.

The volunteer fire department answered the fire call and battled the blaze for approximately 45 minutes before the conflagration was completely extinguished. The fire department was able to protect the nearby buildings, one of which was only about ten feet distant.

A small amount of insurance was carried on the house.

Fire Scare Sunday

The fire department answered another alarm Sunday morning about 8 o'clock to the business and apartment building of E. G. Metcalfe on Main street.

A third floor vacant room of the building was completely filled with smoke evidently from a flue that had opened. The fire was quickly given by Mrs. Douglas Lowry who lives on the second floor of the building. No damage was reported.

Joint Session Of School Boards

A joint session of the Carlisle and Nicholas County boards of education has been tentatively set for Tuesday night, Feb. 10 in the circuit court room, it was learned here to discuss consolidation of the school systems according to Bill Power, president of the Carlisle-Nicholas County Development Association.

Power stated that letters to all members of both boards had been sent out this week asking that they meet together for the purpose of trying to make the joint session a called meeting so that anything that is done will be official.

Power said that he had had personal reassurance from the Carlisle board of education that they looked with favor upon such a meeting and that they would attend Tuesday night.

No word from the county board of education as yet has been received as to whether or not they will attend the meeting, but Power stated that he could see no reason why they wouldn't attend.

The meeting will be open to the public and will begin at 7:30 p. m.

Mother's March On Polio Here Last Thursday Is Very Successful

The "Mother's March on Polio" staged in Carlisle and Moorefield last Thursday night was very successful, according to Mrs. W. G. Irvin, county chairman of the march, who reported that 'mother's' in the city collected $335.71 and that the Moorefield 'mothers' collected $103 in a house-to-house canvass of the Moorefield school district.

Observers reported that with the long blast of the fire siren which signalled the opening of the march that lights began popping on all over town.

Enthusiastic Response

Enthusiastic response to the march was reported by the mother's who participated in it. Contributors to the drive were all very cooperative, Mrs. Irvin reported and it seemed that everyone had gotten into the spirit of the march and had enjoyed their part.

With the town divided into seven districts and several workers assigned to each division the drive lasted about 45 minutes in town.

The Moorefield mother's began their march at the same time as the city mother's and canvassed the entire Moorefield school district. They also reported enthusiastic cooperation from contributors.

The Carlisle and Moorefield drives were both sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Associations in the respective places and Mrs. Irvin this week expressed her "gratitude to the sponsoring agencies and the mother's for their highly successful drives and splendid cooperation."

Game Warden Duncan Gives Annual Report

Nicholas County Game Warden Harry Duncan gave the following report of the activities of the Department of Fish and Wildlife in this county for 1952.

There were 310 quail and 20 chucker quail and two raccoons released. Around 1,000 rock bass, 500 small-mouth bass and 2,000 large-mouth bass were released in local streams. Around 4,000 blue gill were released in Licking river. Seventy-six farm ponds were stocked with 960 blue gill and 1,465 bass.

Two plots of wildlife food planting were set; three junior conservation clubs including 75 local boys attended the district shooting matches at Morehead and spent a week at Camp Earl Wolford on Wolf Creek.

Warden Duncan reported that 1,502 hunting and fishing licenses were checked and that 34 arrests were made with 32 convictions.

Blue Jackets Win 64-63 Thriller; Musketeers Lose Hard-Fought Game

In regularly scheduled basketball action Tuesday night the Nicholas County Blue Jackets took a 64-63 thriller from Bourbon County Vocational in Paris in a game which saw the lead change many times before the final gun.

Edgar Boyd, Jackets' center, connected with a hook shot only three seconds before the game ended to give the NCHS lads their one-point advantage. The Blue Jackets ran up a 37-25 advantage at halftime but Vocational whittled this lead to only 52-49 as the third quarter ended. In the hectic final canto the lead changed hands several times before Boyd's winning two pointer.

The Carlisle Musketeers played one of their best games of the season Tuesday night on the home floor but lost a 41-35 game to Mt. Olivet. The defeat will be held the last week in February in connection of the 25th anniversary of the Guignol Theatre of the University of Kentucky. The play, under the direction of W. P. Covington III, formerly with the Carolina Playmakers, will be presented in the Morehead State College auditorium the same week.

Miss Bowen, 1951 graduate of Carlisle high school, has previously appeared on the Morehead stage in the Players premiere production of David Samples' "Consider the Heavens." In Carlisle, Minerva was active with her high school dramatic organization.

The Jackets will journey to Mt. Olivet to meet Deming tonight and then engage the same team here Saturday night. Tuesday night they will meet Owingsville here. The Musketeers will play Nicholasville here Friday night and then journey to Paris Tuesday night to play Bourbon Vocational.

Minerva Bowen Has Role In Play

Minerva Bowen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Bowen of Carlisle, has been cast in the role of Mrs. Page in the Morehead Players production of the Shakespearean comedy "The Merry Wives of Windsor" at Morehead State College.

The Players, who are planning to take the production on tour during the first two weeks in March, will be guest performers at the Shakespeare Festival in Lexington. The festival will be held the last week in February in connection of the 25th anniversary of the Guignol Theatre of the University of Kentucky. The play, under the direction of W. P. Covington III, formerly with the Carolina Playmakers, will be presented in the Morehead State College auditorium the same week.

Stockyard Meeting Slated For Saturday

The second annual stockholders meeting of the Nicholas County Stockyards Co. will be held Saturday afternoon, according to George D. Scott Sr., president.

A door prize of $10 and another of $5 will be given away Mr. Scott said, and also stated that various Carlisle merchants would donate merchandise at the meeting.

Four directors for the company will be elected at the meeting and the annual treasurer's report will be given.

The Program will be held in the circuit court room of the courthouse and will begin at 1 p. m.

Committee Named At Council Meet For Street Lights

The city council met Monday night in regular session. The council voted to stand part of the engrapair of the alley which runs from Sycamore to Elm streets and is located behind Connor Station, Sexton's, Giffin's, Galbraith's Buick and Fultz Hardware. The county will also share a portion of the cost.

Councilmen Shelman Hamm and George Gaffin were appointed as a committee to meet with Morris Whitely, local KU manager, to see about the proposed white way along Main street and other street in the business town.

No report of the improvements at the city reservoir was given, as the Lexington engineering firm has not yet completed its survey.

No councilman was appointed to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of W. F. Bonnie Sr., but Mayor W. C. Talbert called an adjourned meeting for sometime in the near future to appoint the new councilman.

Polio Drive Here Is Now At $1450

The Nicholas county March of Dimes campaign reported a total of $1,450 contributed through Wednesday. Several other collections are still out according to Irvin chairman, Rev. W. R. Raborn, who said he expects around $1600 to be the final total.

The "Mother's March on Polio" in Carlisle and Moorefield raised around $450 for the drive, Raborn stated. Another big item in this year's drive were the dimes cards, he said, adding that from them he had received some $520. The majority of them are still out he said, and urged people to send theirs in as possible.

Game Called Off

A fund-raising basketball game which was planned to have been held sometime this month has been called off, Rev. Raborn stated.

Other sources of donations and their totals were listed as follows by Rev. Raborn: Booker T. Washington school—$15.70; Ellisville school—$110; Moorefield school—$31.55; East Union school—$13.67; Nicholas County grade school, $49.09; Carlisle city school —$109.71 with the fifth grade being the highest donor with $20; Clyo—$25; Armour—$25.

The containers which were placed in various businesses around town yielded $82.93.

Studio To Take Children's Pictures

For the fifth consecutive year The Carlisle Mercury will have pictures of local children taken to be published at a later date in a feature series entitled "Citizens of Tommorrow."

The Mercury has again contracted with Weltz Studios of Des Moines, Iowa to take the pictures and a photographer from that company will be in Carlisle Wednesday, February 18 from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. to take pictures of local children.

The studio will be set up in the Bourbon Laundry.

No Charge

There is no charge to parents. Parents do not have to be subscribers to The Mercury to take advantage of this feature. Neither are they obliged to purchase pictures after they are taken. Those who want additional prints may obtain a limited number by arrangement with the studio representative.

Circuit Court Schedules Cases

The February term of Nicholas circuit court opened Monday with the grand jury returning one indictment against Frank Bowles for "cutting with intent to kill."

Bowles cut Loftus Baker on the side of the face some time ago in an altercation on Main street.

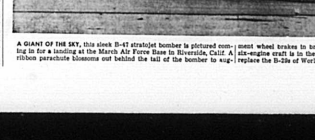
Petit jurors for this term were selected Tuesday and several cases were scheduled before the court adjourned until Monday, Feb. 9.

Cases scheduled by Circuit Judge A. H. Barker were Feb. 9—Commonwealth vs. Frank Bowles; Feb. 10—Mack Ritchie vs. Lee Gray and Dorothy Gray, civil case over a disputed boundary line; Feb. 11 Commonwealth vs. Frances and Laura Wasson on charges of operating a "common nuisance" in their scrap iron business on the northern edge of town.

Clarence Young, colored, charged with forgery, is scheduled to be tried Feb. 13 and the petit trial of Robert Storey was set for Feb. 18.

The grand jury will reconvene Feb. 20. Chester Ockerman is serving as foreman of the grand jury.

STRATOJET BOMBER 'HITS THE SILK' TO BRAKE LANDING ROLL



A GIANT OF THE SKY, this sleek B-47 stratojet bomber is pictured moments after it has landed at the March Air Force Base in Riverside, Calif. A ribbon parachute blossoms out behind the tail of the bomber to augment wheel brakes in bringing the plane to a halt. The swept-wing, jet-engine craft is in the 600-mile-per-hour class and will eventually replace the B-29s of World War II. (International Soundphoto)
