CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The word of God is Truth indeed, and that Truth is the same today as it was in the beginning with God. The Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Christian Science services next Sunday, entitled "Truth" unfolds this changeless Truth.

The following passage will be read from King James Version of the Bible (Isaiah 45:22): "Look unto Me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth: for I am God, and there is none else."

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, correlate the above Bible passage in the following words: "Divine Science, the Word of God, saith to the darkness upon the face of error, 'God is All-in-all,' and the light of ever-present Love illumines the universe." (p. 503).

The Golden Text is taken from Psalms (89:8,14): "O Lord God of hosts, who is a strong Lord like unto Thee? or to Thy faithfulness round Thee?... Justice and judgment are the habitation of Thy throne: mercy and truth shall go before Thy face."

H'q Homemakers

The Headquarters homemakers met in their room in the Headquarters school, Thursday, Jan. 15 with Mrs. Elbert Smith as hostess. Cohostess was Mr. Lawrence Rankin.

The program was conducted by Mrs. Daniel Grimes with Mrs. Elbert Smith reading the Scripture. A poem, "The Club Supper," by Burton Rees Pogue, was read by Mrs. Grimes. The club donated $2.50 to the polio drive. Mrs. Reynolds Allison held a quiz on landscaping with Mrs. George Dale receiving the prize.

Twenty-five pounds of Hong Kong grass was ordered by the members to be used in seating of chairs and stools.

The lesson on wood finishes and their application was given by the leader, Mrs. Lawrence Rankin, Mrs. Elbert Smith and Mrs. E. V. Delaney.

The next meeting will be held Feb. 3 at the Headquarters school with Mrs. Reynolds Allison as hostess.

Jesus Teaches Humility, Forgiveness

WE NEED TO BECOME AS LITTLE CHILDREN, SAID CHRIST

Scripture—Matthew 4:11; 14.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

THIS LESSON on the need for humility and a forgiving spirit is indeed a timely one. In the last 20 years we have seen men rise from obscurity to great power. It is possible that they were humble men in the beginning, but with great ambitions.

When they gained power they exercised it as if they were omnipotent—even as God. They presumed to exercise the power of life and death over the lower creatures, persecuting and slaughtering their fellow men. They brought on a great war in which millions more were killed—civilians as well as soldiers, and many more were injured or made homeless.

What a difference it would have made if they had followed Jesus' teaching, and used the power they gained for good instead of evil!

Even the disciples, those closest to our Lord, wanted to be greater than their fellows, and asked Jesus, "Who is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven?"

Christ's rebuke was to set a little child in their midst, saying, "Whosoever shall humble himself as this little child, the same is greatest in the kingdom of heaven."

Watch children at play. Hot quarrel, strike each other, but a short time later, they are again playing happily together. Their squabbles forgiven and forgotten. It is often true that the best way to cure one's children is to give them more love, and to forgive all the same.

And we must, if we of us forgive each other without limit, how much more will our heavenly Father wish to forgive us?

Further Jesus said: Whosoever shall offend one of these little ones which believe in Me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea. [illegible] by our Master.

Jesus further illustrated his lesson by telling a parable of a man who had [illegible] and was lost. Would not the man leave the ninety and diligently seek the straying one until he found him? There would be no rejoice more over that one that might have been lost forever, than over the 99 who had not strayed."

So much for the "humble and contrite heart."

Now about forgiving: It is said but true that some of our bitterest quarrels and head forgiving spells often are those in follow groups. We all profess to follow the same Lord and acknowledge the same God, our Father. Let us all remember that in teaching on forgiveness, He said that if your brother trespassed against you, you should go to him and talk the matter over. If you could make the other see where his fault lay, you have "gained thy brother."

If the offender could not be brought to see his fault, then witness should be called to hear the dispute. If that did no good, the matter should be brought to the church. Christ only mentioned His church twice during His ministry. If the trespasser refused to listen to the church, the case was hopeless.

Peter asked Jesus how many times should he forgive his brethren? "Until seven times?" Jesus answered: "Until seventy times seven."

[illegible] and another man whose servant owed him a hundred pence. He refused to forgive him, and had him cast into prison. When his master heard of it, he was angry, and called the man to him, and reproved him for his unforgiving spirit, and delivered him to the tormentors until he should pay all that was due him.

[illegible] Christ's lesson is that we must forgive, or we shall not be forgiven. Our heavenly Father will not forgive us our trespasses unless we forgive those who trespass against us.

[illegible] Forgiveness is a duty, and it is also a privilege. It is a duty because we are commanded to forgive. It is a privilege because we are thereby enabled to receive forgiveness for our own sins. The answer was short and beautiful: Forgiven, Forgiven, Forever."
