The Only Way

The Sixteenth Amendment to the Constitution which became effective in 1913 and gave the federal government the power to lay a direct tax on the income of the people, was the seed from which the socialistic welfare state idea grew in this country. Actually, not one of us has a constitutional right remaining to one penny of our income.

The unlimited power to tax the income of the people reversed the basic concept of government on which our republic is founded. It made government master of the people, rather than their servant.

Most of us, still startled by the tremendous chunks of our income that went to pay federal taxes last year, begin to agree with the idea that the only way to prevent confiscatory taxation is to now limit, by Constitutional Amendment, the income taxing power of government. This is the only way we can hope to preserve representative government and a free economy.

Relief will never come from tax collectors but only through changes forced by taxpayers.

Dependent's Day

Unless this fourthcoming holiday is different from all that have preceded it, thousands of Americans will become dependents on Independence Day.

They will be the maimed, the widowed, the orphaned. For the rest of their lives some of the maimed will have to depend on others for their physical care and comfort—some of the widowed and orphaned will have to depend on relatives or the state for their financial support.

And the dependency of the maimed, the widowed, the orphaned will be the result of Independence Day accidents.

In addition, several hundred Americans will pay for their celebration with their lives.

All this because of accidents that need not happen.

Holidays have become horror days in the United States. In recent years many holidays have brought such a high accident toll that they assume the proportions of a national catastrophe. And this carnage need not occur. Accidents are not acts of God. They are acts of humans who foolishly bet their lives for dubious rewards.

The driver who speeds to get to his destination—what difference does it make whether he arrives 10 or 20 minutes later?

The youth who attempts to swim across the lake—what is gained by trying to show off in front of a crowd?

The father who cannot deny his children the "pleasure" of fire works—what pleasure will the child derive from sightless eyes?

Motor vehicle accidents lead the list of Fourth of July hazards. According to National Safety Council, one out of two persons now living in this country has been or will be injured in a motor vehicle accident before he dies, unless our present rate is greatly reduced. And many of these accidents occur on holidays, when traffic is especially heavy.

Second high on the Fourth of July accident list is drowning. Falls, fireworks and firearms, sunstroke and heat exhaustion, food poisoning and miscellaneous accidents also exact their toll.

Independence Day tolls are not inevitable. They can be prevented. Police departments and other officials all over the country will be alert to prevent as many accidents as possible. But as always the size of the toll depends chiefly on the good sence of every American. Take it easy on the Fourth. Don't let Independence Day make you a dependent!

Any part-time jobs available in Lexington for University students?

Hardly a day passes that this question is not directed to University of Kentucky deans or other UK officials by a prospective student or by an interested parent.

Contrary to what some may believe, many students still "work their way through school." Comfortably prosperous times and government assistance to veterans may have decreased the number who are compelled to seek jobs, but the list of UK student workers remain long.

Lexington is different from many college town in that it has few large industrial concerns which might offer part-time employment to scholars. Yet a glance over jobs held last semester by students shows varied offerings.

As one might expect, newspaper carrying, table waiting, odd duties on nearby farms and other such occupations claimed the spare time of most student workers.

Other activities were not so common. At least two boys spent their nights driving taxi-cabs for a local firm. No doubt these lads had to revise their sleeping habits as did journalism students who worked on newspapers through early morning hours as police reporters, sports writers and proof-readers.

The many hospitals in and near Lexington provided work for several ambitious youngsters, most of whom plan to enter the medical profession themselves. Likewise, a youth who hopes to become a police administrator after college spent his nonstudy hours in pursuing law-breakers as a deputy constable.

On and on the list might go: Social workers, recreation and park directors, musicians in local bands.

U.K. officials usually advise freshmen entering to allow themselves at least one semester to become adjusted to college life before seeking jobs. After this period of proving themselves capable of college work, University counselors encourage part-time employment and even assist students in finding openings.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Good as snap beans from the garden are, variety in their preparation is welcome. Mrs. Pearl Hiak, UK specialist in foods, recommends this recipe.

Spanish Snap Beans

1 T bacon fat
1 T chopped onion
1/3 c chopped green pepper
1 c cooker tomatoes
1 1/2 c cooked green beans
1/2 t salt
Dash of pepper
1/4 c toasted bread crumbs

Heat the fat and brown the onion and green pepper in it. Add tomatoes and cook slowly about 15 minutes. Add cooked beans and season with salt and pepper. Heat, then turn into serving dish and top with bread crumbs. Four servings.

Menu: Baked picnic ham, new potatoes with parsley, Spanish snap beans, cabbage and pineapple salad, biscuits, butter and peach sherbet.

Homemakers in Nicholas county are making approximately 160 baskets with plywood bases.

'Bear' Facts—

By PAUL BRYANT
UK Football Coach

Even a casual glance down the University of Kentucky's football schedule for the coming season is sure to give the general idea that the Wildcats are going to have their work cut out for them if they are to end up in the coveted first division of the Southeastern Conference.

Coaches always have the highest respect for the potentialities of an opponent, but the record of the SEC in sending no less than four teams to bowls last New Year's Day should be a convincing indication of the type ahead even to the average fan who does not follow the ins and outs of the game closely.

One of the three SEC bowl outfits on UK's schedule next fall is Florida. And every sign points to the Gators as one of the league's top elevens. The Gator Bowl champs should not suffer from the new limited substitution rule for all reports on their personnel situation say they are "loaded."

Heading the formidable list of 34 returning lettermen are two gridders who give Florida perhaps the best one-two punch in the circuit—tackle guard Jim D'Agostino and powerful fullback Rick Casares. Coach Bob Woodruff also has a fine passer and quarterback to make his T-formation work in the person of talented Doug Dickey. On the receiving end there is a boy being given a lot of attention in opponents' preseason planning —six-foot-one senior Jack O'Brien.

Florida had losses of major caliber, two fine halfbacks in J. Papit' Hall and Buford Long, and All-American tackle Charlie LaPradd, but the slack should be taken up effectively by a host of good returnees.

When Kentucky meets the Sunshine State visitors in Lexington in the third contest of the season for both clubs, the game could take on extraordinary importance. Both teams will have two hard tilts behind them—UK will have played Texas A. & M. and Ole Miss while Florida will have met Rice and Georgia Tech and will be pointing for a crucial victory.

The highest hill in England's westernmost county, Cornwall, is called "Brown Willy," derived from the old Celtic name, "Bryn Wheili," says the National Geographic Society. The peak, located on Bodmin Moor, is 1,375 feet above sea level.

TO THE
Democratic Voters
OF
NICHOLAS COUNTY

FIRST–I have no personal ambition except to serve the interests of the people of the county. I am without obligation to any special interests and have no personal axes to grind.

SECOND–I have devoted the best part of my life to public service; and I expect to continue to do so, whether in or out of public office.

THIRD–I shall co-operate fully with your county officials and local officers in the presentation of any proposals made by them to state of federal government agencies, for the improvement of your roads and schools and other public projects.

FOURTH–I am opposed to the 2 constitional amendments which will give dictatorial powers to machine politicians at Frankfort. I also oppose state dictation of local assessments.

I support R.E.A. expansion and the use of public power as a yardstick for fair rates.

I am opposed to the Licking River dam.

My opponent Mr. Blanton, as attorney for K.U. and the L&N Railroad, has, in the past severed those private interests in the legislature. There is no reason to believe he will do differently in the future. Being paid by K.U he can't very well oppose its fight to stifle competition in electric power in the City of Paris, and to cripple the R.E.A.

Assert your good common sense and independence. Go to the polls on August 1st, and vote for a man who has no commitments except to represent the interests of Bourbon and Nicholas counties, who will vote conscientiously on each bill according to its merits, with the administration when its to your interest, against it when it is not.
