Last month, June, was dairy month as we discussed dairymen and the things we need to do to make dairymen profitable. Now, in July, we will discuss pasture and the things we need to do to make pasture profitable. August is designated as "Green Pasture Month" and there is to be done in July or prior to it.

An abundance of plant food is available for the feeding and grazing of livestock. It is essential to start a good pasture. Lighter soils will be benefited by the use of a cover crop in rows just under the seed. This will help to conserve soil moisture and reduce soil erosion.

The first step in a pasture improvement program is to determine the soil type. If it is a heavy soil, it should be fertilized with phosphorus and potassium. If it is a light soil, it should be fertilized with phosphorus and potassium.
