IN MEMORY

Of my Dear husband Taylor Bowen who died June 1, 1952.
Farewell Dear husband sweet thy rest
Weary with years worn with pain
Farewell till in some happy place I shall be hold thy face again
It was hard to break the tender cord
When love has bound the heart in hard so hard to speak the word
We must forever part
And I miss you from my home Dear Taylor
I miss you from your place
A shadow over my life is cast
I miss thy kind and willing hand
Thy fond and earnest care
My home is dark without you Taylor.
I miss you everywhere
Was sad that one I cherish
Should be taken from my home But the joys that do not perish live in memory alone
Of all the years we've spent together
All the happy golden hours
Shall be cherished in remembrance
Of the one I loved so dear
And I am longing to be with you in Heaven
Where no farewell tears are shed
Sadly missed by wife.

Dr. Reynolds To Be Feted June 19 Honoring Half-Century of Service Here

"Doc" Reynold's Day" will be observed here next Friday, June 19, as residents of the city and county will pay homage to Dr. B. F. Reynolds, who has been a general practitioner here over 50 years.

A man typical of the county doctor in every way, Dr. Reynolds has delivered over 4,000 babies in Carlisle and Nicholas county during the course of his career, and has been loved and honored by all.

Dr. Ealse Asbury will give a dinner for Dr. Reynolds at his Forest Retreat Farm that night and Rev. J. J. Whitehouse announced today that Dr. Reynolds will be the guest of honor at a special "Father's Day" program in the Christian church, Sunday morning, June 21.

Dr. Reynolds began practicing in Carlisle in 1903, succeeding his father, Dr. B. F. Reynolds, Sr., who had set up a practice here in 1865, at the close of the War.

When the "old doc" retired "young doc" put out his shingle and began his faithful and untiring service to the people of this area. At the start of his career, his transportation consisted mostly of horses and buggies, with a dependable mule in the more deserted areas. Later he graduated to a Model T and was among the earliest proponents of the automobile.

On call at any kind of weather, many was the time that "Doc" struggled through snow, sleet, driving rain and other elements of the weather to reach the bedside of a patient. And many was the time that he was called upon to ford flooded Cassidy Creek or Licking River on the back of a horse to minister to the sick.

After giving a half century of service to this area, Dr. Reynolds has not yet retired from practice. Besides being head of the Nicholas-Bourbon County Health Departments, he also makes regular calls, and during a recent flu epidemic, was known to make some 70 to 30 calls a day.

Dr. Reynolds was in Louisville Monday to attend a luncheon for the alumni of the old medical school, now part of the University of Louisville.

Awarded Gold Diploma

At the luncheon, held in the Pendennis Club, he was awarded a diploma, sealed with a gold seal and signifying that he had graduated in the class of 1903.

Another honor that "Doc" received, and one which was perhaps the most pleasant, came at the dedication of the Nicholas County Hospital on July 2, 1950.

Unknown to him, his four children, Susanah, Eleanor, Frank and Sam, had furnished the nursery for the new hospital and dedicated it to their father, and the many babies that he had delivered here.

'Pen-Pals' For Over Thirty Years To Meet This Summer For First Time

Two "pen-pals," one a native of Little Rock, will meet this summer after corresponding with each other more than 30 years.

The letter-writing began in the early 1920's when a group of children in the Little Rock school began the study of geography and industry in other states. In order to make the course more interesting, the teacher let the children begin corresponding with students in other states about their respective regions.

Miss Ala Leggett, ahtho older than the group-age children dropped her name in the box as it was passed around and shortly thereafter began a correspondence with three girls—one from Niagara, N. Y., and two from the state of Washington.

Miss Leggett wrote all three girls for a while but as two dropped off she continued exchanging letters with one, Miss Mary Gwenn of Walla Walla, Washington.

The two became friends through their letters to one another and as time passed, exchanged pictures, Christmas gifts and other information about their home states.

Both married, but this didn't interrupt the friendship. Miss Leggett became Mrs. Everett Swan of Little Rock while Miss Gwenn became Mrs. Kirk Hulbert of Walla Walla.

And, as fate would have it, the two will meet this summer. Mr. and Mrs. Swan, in celebration of the 25th wedding anniversary, are making a trip to the West, where they will spend a month with her "pen-pal" and family.

The 30th Senate district includes the counties of Nicholas, Harrison, Bracken, Robertson, Pendleton and Grant counties.

In the 67th House district, comprising Nicholas and Bourbon counties, a red-hot race is expected between the two candidates who have announced their intention to seek the Democratic nomination for state representative.

Incumbent William Blanton, Paris attorney, will attempt to retain his seat from Cassius M. Clay, also a Paris attorney, who announced his candidacy only last week.

Both men have been prominent in state and local affairs and each is said to have considerable support in both of the two counties they are seeking to represent.

Army worms have been reported in large numbers in several sections of the county by County Agent Bill Straw.

County Agent Straw urges that all farmers make a careful check of their crops to determine whether or not this insect is present. He stated that it can do severe damage in small grains, pasture and new grass seeds.

Controls Listed

Toxaphene, chlordane and aldrin are very effective insecticides for killing these insects. Two pounds of the actual insecticide per acre is sufficient for a good kill, he stated.

However, Straw warned that dangerous residue may be used on tobacco even in plant beds.

Storm Disrupts Electric Service

An electrical storm,accompanied by high winds and rain, swept Carlisle and vicinity Wednesday morning about 11 o'clock but no major damage was reported.

Electric service was disrupted here for 44 minutes as the Ohio power line, from which Carlisle feeds, went out. Morris Whitely, local Kentucky Utility office manager, stated that the company, after determining that the Ohio line was out, switched Carlisle onto the Lexington line.

Millersburg seemed to have borne the brunt of the wind as quite a few tree limbs were blown down there and the roof of a house in Chanterelle Laysom's farm on the Millersburg-Cynthiana road was blown off by the storm.

Millersburg Mayor Wadsworth Jones stated that several windows at Millersburg Military Institute were blown out and that the high winds toppled several Television antennas in that area.

Paris was also hit by the storm but no major damage was reported there.

City Water Works Has 39th Birthday

The City of Carlisle Water Works observed its 39th anniversary of operation Friday, June 5. Water was first turned on the mains in the city on June 5, 1914.

City Water Superintendent Joe Clay was named the first water superintendent and has continued in that capacity since the initial opening.

The local water works, among the top-ranked in the state for health standards, acquired a filtration plant in 1928.

The reservoir originally contained only one lake but as time went on and more customers were added the town felt the need of an additional lake to take care of its consumers. So the upper lake was built around 1930's with the help of the WPA program.

At the present time, as plans are in the offing for encreasing the supply by repairing the leaks in the dams, the city will be advised by competent engineers.

During the winter months the daily consumption of water by users varies between 75 and 80-000 gallons. In the summer months the consumption jumps to between 100 and 110,000 gallons daily.

W. H. Hunt of Dayton, Ohio, formerly of Carlisle, has leased the Standard Oil Service Station on Main street. It was recently converted from a Conoco Station.

Extensive plans for repairing the court house were made at the regular meeting of the Nicholas County Fiscal County last Wednesday.

The court voted to repair the roof of the court house, including the painting of gutters and "any and all repairs necessary to put the roof in first-class condition."

The court house will also be painted inside and out and the plastering throughout the public building will be repaired, by order of the court. The court also ordered County Attorney Charles Cook to advertise for bids to repair the heating system in the court house.

Fourteen flouresecent light fixtures were recently installed in the offices and halls of the county government building, and add much to the interior looks of the court house.
