March Roars In With Snow, Rain

March roared in like a lion Sunday afternoon in the form of a two inch snow that approached blizzard proportions Sunday night and stranded several weekend travelers who were attempting to make their way back to Carlisle.

A heavy rain Monday night following the thawing of the snow brought Brushy Fork creek on the Campage Tuesday morning and several roads near town were blocked by water rising over the road.

Some businesses along the creek which flows along the south city limits were threatened by the water but none were flooded. Several motorists in Carlisle had from six to 12 inches of water standing in them Tuesday morning and made traveling difficult.

The East Union road was reported blocked for some little time Tuesday morning at the bridge near the athletic field. The Moorefield road near Curtis Grocery also had several inches of water across it Tuesday morning and threatened nearby houses.

Schools Closed

The Ellisville county school closed Tuesday at noon as water had entered the school basement. At the Myers county school a dirt wall in the rear of the school building gave way under the downpour and washed mud against the rear of the building and across the walk and students were dismissed at midday, March 9.

Many pupils were unable to attend school Tuesday as the buses were unable to travel many of their routes in the county because of water being over the roads.

Lake Nearly Full

Mr. Joe Clay, superintendent of the water works, reported that the snow and rain had nearly filled the lower lake, lacking from six to 12 inches, and that the upper lake was now full and water was running over the upper lake dam.

Fire Levels Home In Flora Section

Fire, fanned by a high wind, leveled the tenant house of Mr. Arthur Mullikin in the Flora section of the county Sunday afternoon. The loss was estimated at $9,000.

Two outbuildings, a meat house and a poultry house, located about 50 feet from the residence, were set afire by the sparks and were also burned to the ground.

Occupants At Home

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. McDonald and family, who resided in the house, were at home at the time of the fire which was discovered about 4 o'clock. The conflagration broke out in the attic, apparently caused by a defective flue.

The McDonald's saved the bulk of their household furnishings.

A small amount of insurance was carried on the 10-room frame dwelling.
