70,000 Cows To Be Bred Artificially

Seventy thousand dairy cows will be artificially bred in Kentucky this year. That is the conservative estimate of the Kentucky Artificial Breeding Association, which keeps 39 high-powered sires at the bullsted at St. Matthews.

These proven sires bred over 50,000 cows last year and added immeasurably to the net worth of the state's dairy industry. One Jersey sire, Monocle's Mighty Duke, was used for 18,682 services the past year; a Holstein sire, Donloggin Lockinvar, for 16,600 services, and a Guernsey, Welcome In Forward, for 13,618 services. The average number of cows bred to the 39 bulls was 1,750.

There are 48 artificial breeding associations in Kentucky, with a membership of approximately 16,000 farmers. Many farmers are taking advantage of the proven sires at the bullsted to build up herds of high-producing and profitable cows.

Records kept by Dairy Herd Improvement Associations show the said average production of 325 pounds of butterfat and 8,043 pounds of milk per cow last year.

These records also show an average feed cost of $165 a cow and an average income above feed cost of $246.

The Kentucky Artificial Breeding Association and dairy herd improvement associations, provide an effective means for building up the state's dairy industry. Inquire from dairying now ranks next to tobacco in importance.

Legion Talk Set At Lexington

Legion commanders have been invited to attend a meeting to be addressed by Brig. Gen. John Thomas Taylor, retired, at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, November 5, at Memorial Hall on the campus of the University of Kentucky at Lexington.

The invitation was extended by Darrell B. Hancock, commander of Man O'War Post No. 8, under whose auspices the meeting will be held.

Taylor who makes his home in Washington, D. C., is a former director and vice-chairman of the Legion's national legislative commission. As such he wrote and steered many pieces of legislation which benefitted disabled veterans and ex-servicemen.

General Taylor retired in 1949 as national legislation director. Since, he has been serving as consultant to The American Legion on matters of veterans' legislation.

General Taylor is a veteran of both World Wars.

Billboards To Carry Safety Measures

During the month of December, January, February and March, 150 special highway billboards will carry safety messages to motorists all over Kentucky, under a plan announced here by Charles B. Jones, executive secretary of the Governor's Committee for Highway Safety.

Jones said the billboards will be sponsored by advertisers through the Outdoor Advertising Association of Kentucky but will bear no advertising as endorser.

There will be three types of billboards and they will be erected at strategic locations of heavy traffic.

State Farms Produce Food Worth $668,708

Farms operated at nine Kentucky welfare institutions and mental hospitals produced food valued at $668,708 during the first eight months of 1953, according to the monthly report of the State Division of Agricultural Production.

Enough was produced to give each patient or inmate 1.34 pints of milk and 1.56 pounds of vegetables a day. Milk produced was valued at $240,884; vegetables, $222,219, and meat, $165,662.

The State Mental Farm at Lagrange led production with $150,730 worth of food, and Central State Hospital, Lakeland, was second with food valued at $97,401. Values of food at other institutions were Western State Hospital, Hopkinsville, $93,969; Kentucky State Hospital, Danville, $92,003; Eastern State Hospital, Lexington, $74,029; State Penitentiary, Eddyville, $63,457; Kentucky Village, Greendale, $46,063; Kentucky Training Home, Frankfort, $44,318, and Kentucky Children's Home, Lynden, $6,738.

Home-made System Used To Irrigate

O B Wardlow of Crittenden county rigged up a home-made irrigation system and applied three inches of water to three acres of lespedeza and fescue. UK County Agent Oakley M. Shelby said that in 10 days the field was green and the growth of lespedeza and fescue "unbelievably good." Production was estimated at 10 times as much as on the unwatered part of the field. The water was taken from a pond about a fourth of an acre in size and 18 feet deep.

Ky 31 fescue on Homeplace and Green Holliday's farm in Perry county has been furnishing pasture through the drought.

MUST HAVE MADE SOME NOISE—Thieves entered the Wells produce business on Market street sometime Sunday night and removed $170 in cash and a pistol. After an attempt to open the safe by breaking off the handle and combination, the safe was turned onto its back and pounded on the bottom of the safe was pried loose and the gaping hole leveled through the bottom. Entrance to the building was gained through a basement at the rear, then to the office through a door. Entrance to the building removing a hardware cloth screen from a window to the left of where the safe is pictured. A light in the office, 6ft high, was left burning while the thieves were working. The theft was discovered when it was found on Monday morning in addition to the front door being unlocked. Sheriff John Clinkenbeard said a fingerprint expert was called—ICM photo

PMA Calls Attention To Farm Price Support, Acreage and Quotas

Recent decisions of the U. S. Department of Agriculture on farm price support eligibility and compliance with acreage allotments and quotas were called to farmers attention here today by the Production and Marketing Administration state committee.

The Department announced on October 22 that a producer will, with one exception, be required to comply with all acreage allotments established on his farm for 1954 crops in order to be eligible for price support on any basic crop—wheat, cotton, corn, tobacco, rice, or peanuts—produced on that farm.

The exception applies to wheat, where only those farmers who will be subject to marketing quota penalties if they exceed their established acreage allotments will be made eligible for price support on other basic crops if they fail to stay within their wheat allotments. The marketing quotas apply only on farms with more than 15 acres of wheat. Therefore, a farmer who exceeds his acreage allotment, but does not have more than 15 acres of wheat on his farm, will still be eligible for price support on other basic commodities provided he observes the acreage allotments for those on his farm. He will, however, be ineligible for wheat price supports.

Eligibility for available price supports on non-basic crops would not be affected by non-compliance with basic crop allotments. For instance, a producer could be eligible for price support on his oats crop even if he exceeded his wheat allotment.

Basic crop produced in Kentucky for which marketing quotas have been approved by farmers for 1954 are Burley, fire-cured, dark air-cured tobacco and wheat. A 1954 marketing quota for cotton has been proclaimed and farmers are to vote in a referendum on December 15 to determine whether this quota is continued. An announcement is expected soon as to allotments for the 1954 corn crop.

The Department has announced that wheat growers who seed between 90 and 100 percent of their 1954 wheat acreage allotments will not lose any acreage, because of underplanting, in the calculation of wheat acreage allotments for future years.

"In other words, there is no penalty in the form of a lower acreage allotment under any future program if a farmer underplants his 1954 (Wheat acreage by no more than 10 percent. In such case a future year's acreage allotment will be based on the 1954 acreage allotment made this year."

This ruling is especially important to wheat growers since no discussion of excess wheat acreage is to be allowed to stay in the farm within its allotted acreage.

Rock Haven Draws Large Crowd

Many people from Carlisle, Nicholas county, surrounding counties and Lexington, attended the formal opening Sunday afternoon of the Rock Haven restaurant and filling station, located on U.S. Highway 68, some three and one-half miles from Carlisle.

The beautiful stone structure was erected on a lot purchased from Mrs. Rudolph Davis of Paris, by Nelson Hillock. It is a beautiful location on the Maysville and Lexington road.

Free coffee was served to all, and flowers were given to the ladies during the opening, with direct members of the Hillock family serving as hosts.

Special dinners for organizations and parties will be handled by appointment. A2/c Billy Hillock, stationed in New York, is expected to be discharged from service shortly, and will join the Hillocks in the new family business.

Head-On Collision Results In Death

Mrs. Nellie Lytle, 72, of Lakewood, Ohio was killed instantly Thursday night in a wreck near Blue Lick State park.

She was riding with her husband, Charles Lytle, when their car collided with one driven by Alfred Eberhard of Wheeling, W. Va. Injured were Mr. and Mrs. Eberhard and Mrs. Myrtle Robertson, all of Wheeling. Both cars were badly damaged.

The body of Mrs. Lytle was brought to the Mathers-Sherret funeral home, and later was taken to Lakewood for burial.

The Eberhards and Mrs. Robertson are still in the Nicholas County hospital where they are being treated for multiple injuries.

Marilyn Boothe Hurt In Auto Accident

Miss Marilyn Boothe, of Flemingsburg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boothe and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Neal, of Carlisle, was injured in an automobile accident Friday night.

She was with a group of teenagers on their way to Orangeburg for a Tiger-Fleming County basketball game when the automobile operated by Wade walker skided on loose gravel and crashed into an embankment.

Miss Boothe was taken to the Good Samaritan hospital, Lexington, for treatment due to the loss of several teeth. She was released Sunday.

Accident At Intersection Sends One To Hospital

A collision at 7:30 a.m. Saturday between a car driven by Joe Mitchelltree, 68, of Headquarters, and one driven by Malcolm W. Wehner of Cincinnati at the intersection of Ky. 32 and Ky. 36 sent Mrs. Emma Hollar to the hospital.

Mrs. Hollar, a sister of Mitchelltree was admitted to the Nicholas County hospital, suffering from injuries and shock. No one else was injured.

H'makers Observe Nat'l Book Week

The Nicholas county Homemakers Clubs will observe National Book Week November 15-21.

An exhibit of children's books will be in the Carlisle Drug window during the week.

One of the goals of the H'makers reading program is guidance to help to assure better reading for children. All of the books in the exhibit are from the local library and will be available for use by parents and children.

Other goals of the clubs are daily Bible reading and reading newspapers with special emphasis on editorials and current events as well as the reading of good books by parents, fiction, biography, poetry and travel.

Homemakers clubs have a library in the County Extension office from which a Suitcase Library is taken to all clubs in the county each month.

The inscription by Emilie Poulsson from the Children's Reading Room, Hopkinton, Mass, invites all to read.

Books are keys to wisdom's treasures. Books are gates to lands of pleasure; Books are paths that upward lead; Books are friends, come let us read.

Muskies Lose First Game Of Season To Mayslick Quintet

By Jewell Farris

The Musketeers gave the Mayslick Cardinals a hard battle Tuesday night in the first game of the season for the Muskies.

The starting five were; Clark, Bobby Forbuck, Billy Smith, Larry Cameron and Billy Gilley. Clark was high point man for the Muskies with 18 points; Cameron 8, Gilley and David Forbuck 7, and Bobby Feebuck 4.

At the end of the first quarter the Cardinals were leading 15-11. The Cardinals were still leading at the half time point, lead, 26-21.

FARRIS

After the half the Cardinals had a 6 point lead only to lose it during the third and fourth quarter. The final score was 57-44.

The Muskies elected Billy Clark their Captain and Bobby Forbuck Co-Captain for the season. Other members of the team are Billy Shrout, Bobby Smith, Billy Hoffar and Billy Logan.

LEGION AUXILIARY

The Legion Auxiliary will meet Thursday night at 7 o'clock in the Club Rooms. A program will be given. All members are urged to be present.

DON'T GET TRAPPED

The trapping season begins Nov. 20, but two persons have been arrested and tried for trapping out of season under the assumption that the season began Nov. 1. If you have any traps now set it would be advisable to pick them up, according to County Attorney Charles Cox.

4-H Club National Achievement Day Projects Are Listed

As Saturday, November 14 is National Achievement Day, the Carlisle 4-H Club makes their final report of achievements for the year 1952-53, as recorded by Mary Phyllis Smith, secretary.

We had 61 active members carrying the following projects: clothing, foods, house keeping, electric canning, poultry, yard improvement, safety, and junior leadership.

The projects with written records were completed. Fourty-four modeled clothing on Rally Day and Marsha Forbuck won Miss Nicholas County. We received 31 blue awards, seven reds, and one white. Seven demonstrations were given, with all winning blue awards and one county champion. We received five R. E. A. badges and $7 prize money.

Five entered the judging contests at Flemingsburg with three county winners. Five entered the District contests at Morehead, winning four blues, one red, and one District champion, Martha Sue Feebuck in room improvement.

Three attended the K. U. dinner at district meeting and received a $10 award for outstanding Club of the county.

Four gave talks at Rotary dinner and received county trophy. We observed National bread demonstration, Yvonne White, posing Linda Snelling, canning; John Straw, gardening.

District winners that entered state contests are: foods and good grooming, Betty Vice; Electric, Wanda Lawrence; safety, Sylvia McCarty, yard improvement, Becky Barlow.

District awards are: junior leadership, Wanda Lawrence—blue and homekeeping—red, Canning, Linda Snelling—red, gardening, John Straw—red; poultry, Yvonne White—red.

The Health Activity and Recreation project and the Secretary Book were also entered in the State contest.

$6500 BID REJECTED

The 99-acre farm belonging to Paul Cameron, known as the Alton Rose farm, on the Cassidy road was offered for sale at auction Saturday morning by Cleary Fightmaster, realtor, but was withdrawn at a bid of $6500.

CARLISLE'S MOST WIDELY KNOWN TEAM—"After seeing my name in your fifty-years-ago column last week, I am sending you a picture of our old ball team. This was the starting team of the biggest ball club and games that Carlisle ever had. They at least had paid ball players, and attracted quite a crowd. Games were played at the old Hutchings park where this picture was made. The old Ingles houses were not built then as you can see Main street from the park. Corporal Fisher was manager, and Dr. Roy McIntire 18, as the official delegate from the Carlisle area. was our team doctor (he was Mrs. Ed Metcalfe's brother)." Their names are, left to right, seated Clarence Martin, Robert Campbell, Ahiga Swartz. Standing, Corporal Fisher and Dr. Roy McIntire—photo submitted by L. A. Martin.

$3200 Prizes Offered In Essay Contest

Prizes totaling $3,200 in U. S. Savings Bonds are being offered to Kentucky grade and high-school students in the tenth annual Soil Conservation Essay Contest.

The competition was announced jointly by Barry Bingham, president of The Courier-Journal, The Louisville Times and WHAS; Wendell P. Butler, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and A. T. Hutchell, president of the Kentucky Association of Soil Conservation Districts.

"How Soil Conservation Benefits My Community" is the subject of this year's essay.

The student submitting the best composition will receive first-place state award of a $100 Savings Bond. Second prize is a $50 bond and third prize, $25 bond. The three state award winners and their families will be given all-expense-paid trip to Louisville to be guests of honor at the annual Farm Awards Luncheon next spring.

In addition to the state prizes, a district award of a $25 bond will go to the winner in each of the 121 Soil Conservation Districts where at least five essays are submitted. Those winning district essays will be judged for the state awards.

Districts should submit to the county and city school superintendents by December 19, 1953.

The contest is one of five in the farm incentive program of the newspapers and radio-television station.

Complete information for the soil Conservation Essay Contest may be obtained from school superintendents, principals, soil conservation supervisors or the promotion department of The Courier-Journal, The Louisville Times and WHAS; Louisville 2, Kentucky.

Three Escape Injury When Car Overturns

Both Ned Stamper and two companions narrowly escaped serious injury Thursday night about 9:30 when the automobile driven by Scott overturned on a curve on the Moorefield road near Claude Garves.

Scott, who is employed by Frank Stone was accompanied by Buddy Cox and S. T. Minton Jr.

The car a 1950 Buick was completely demolished. All occupants escaped with only minor cuts and bruises.

Legion Announces Speaking Contest

Kentucky high school speakers will have opportunity again this year to compete for a $4,000 scholarship and other valuable awards.

Plans for the seventeenth annual National High School Oratorical Contest sponsored by The American Legion have been announced by Legion headquarters in Indianapolis. V. E. Carrithers, of Louisville, has been appointed contest director for Kentucky.

In subsequent contests Kentucky's orator will have a chance to advance to the National Finals to be held April 12, when four speakers will compete for the top award. For each of the finalists there will be a scholarship: $2,500 for second place, $1,000 for third and $500 for fourth.

Local contests will be directed by Legion posts throughout the state. They must be conducted in time for winners to be certified by February 8. The winners will advance through district contests to the state finals. Preliminary contest awards will be announced locally. Each district winner will receive a $25 Defense Bond and in the state contest $100, $75 and $50 bonds will be awarded.

A national Americanism activity of the Legion, the contest seeks to promote a better knowledge and understanding of the Constitution of the United States. It is a two-part contest in which each contestant will deliver a prepared oration and also speak extemporaneously on some phase of the Constitution, giving special emphasis to the amendment duties and obligations of a citizen to the Government.

Such subjects as "An American Citizen's Rights and Responsibilities Under the Constitution," "The Constitution—A Barrier Against Tyranny" and "The Bill of Rights — Reciprocal Rights and Duties" are suggested.

Eligible to compete are all bona fide students in secondary schools, including public, parochial, military and private schools whose academic curricula meet public school standards, provided they are enrolled on January 1 in regular 9th, 10th, 11th, or 12th grade classes.

ARMISTICE PROGRAM

American Legion Post 17 held a short Armistice program Wednesday night at the club rooms.

The Central Kentucky Foxhunters Association definitely will hold its Annual Field Trials and Bench Show—November 17-20.

Mr. J. E. Mason, manager of the Clay Farm agreed this week for the Hunt to proceed as scheduled even though the weather continues dry. Mr. Mason has asked that everyone use every precaution to prevent fires. The Association asks that everyone present be exceedingly careful and to watch the other fellow to see that he is careful. The Highway Patrol and Game Warden will be on constant patrol as a preventive measure.

The Bench Show will be held at the Nicholas County Stockyards on Tuesday night, November 17. Daybreak casts on the Clay Farm will be Wednesday, Thursday and Friday mornings. The round dance, with music by Jimmy Gilley, will be Thursday night, November 18 at the National Guard Armory. The running dance will be held at the Armory, Thursday night, November 19.

The Hunt committee with Harvey Wagoner as chairman will meet at the Stockyards at 9:00 a.m., Monday, November 16 to construct the Kennel. All members of the Committee are requested to be present.

The Bench Show committee, Sterling Smith, chairman will meet at 2:30 p.m., Tuesday, November 17 at the Stockyards. The merging of hounds will begin at 10:00 a.m., Tuesday, November 17, Charlie Rhodes Scott, to be in charge.

On Wednesday the first cast is to be made near or in the direction of the Tout barn on the Clay Farm and may be reached by entering the Clay Farm at the Hamilton ridge gate on Cassidy Creek. The right hand fork of the road on top of the hill should be taken for a distance of about 3/4 of a mile to cast site. Markers will be placed on Cassidy Creek and Thomas Myers to the cast site, and there should be no difficulty in finding the Tout barn.

Food and hot coffee will be served on the grounds and with warm clothing all will enjoy the joys of the chase and the exhilaration of the brisk autumn weather. Other cats will be announced daily.

RR Bridge Fire Put Out Monday

A Louisville and Nashville railroad bridge was saved from total destruction by fire Monday morning about 6:45 o'clock by the Carlisle fire department.

Cross ties of the bridge, located at the rear of the State Highway garage were badly charred and rails were warped, but not sufficient to prevent the morning freight to pass. Railroad crews made a careful inspection prior to the freight's crossing the bridge.

The fire is believed to have started when an employee of the highway department dumped ashes in a pile of rubbish on the creek bank. The rubbish ignited and spread to a scum of oil on the water.

Mr. L. B. Barton of the highway department, turned the alarm and credited the volunteer fire department with saving the bridge.

Fire Chief Paul Coatney stated that the department fought the fire approximately one hour before the flames were extinguished.

C-NCDA Meeting

Charles M. Cox, president of the Carlisle-Nicholas County Development Association has asked all members to be present at a meeting of the association at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, November 12 in the county court room in the court house.

There are several very important matters that need to be looked into including the election of a new secretary to replace William Pluty who recently moved to Frankfort.

Members are urged to attend.
