

Stockmen May Need Double Feed Supply

The drought may mean that stockmen will need twice as much feed this fall and winter as they usually require, says a statement from the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics. Feeding on many farms started in August and will continue through March.

Lower Income On Todd County Farms

For instance, small grain farms usually produce the winter crop. Todd county farmers had incomes of $15.30 a state acre in 1952, compared to $15.45 in 1953. The lower income, however, was due to a poor crop of wheat and a low yield of corn.
