Sisters Separated For 38 Years Reunited Sometimes

For 38 years two Kentucky sisters lived within 100 miles of each other yet did not know of each other's whereabouts until a chance conversation in 1953.

The women, Mrs. E. H. Williams of Louisville, who had left the Nashville country women, she was able to get traveling for any length of time she desired, and she was able to visit her sister in 1917.

Back in 1915 the two sisters, then companions of 22 years, aged, retired the Kentucky Church's home in Louisville. The home that has since moved to Evansville.

Another year passed, however a year later she was able to get traveling for any length of time she desired, and she was able to visit her sister in 1917.

For a short time after entering the home, Mrs. Williams was brought to Louisville and Mrs. Williams left to attend to her duties in Evansville.
