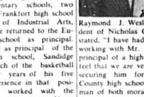
"What's for lunch, Mom?" That's a familiar query this season when outdoor activities sharpen appetites. A good way to make sure lunches at your house reach expectations is to keep a supply of luncheon-building foods on the kitchen shelf. Give top priority to condensed soups, for they are star performers in summer meals. They are quickly and easily prepared, add appetizing variety to any meal, and always make a warm heart, too, soups are well-liked and nourishing.



A good luncheon plan with soup is:

Soup
Salad or Sandwich
Dessert
Beverage

Imagination and "know-how" are needed to turn this plan into appetizing and nutritious meals. With cream soup have a meat or meatless salad and fruit for dessert. A vegetable soup tastes good with egg salad and pie or cake. With a meat soup select fruit salad and a cheese sandwich; then pudding for dessert. The beverage could be milk, or oh a particularly sweltering day—iced tea or lemonade.

"SOUPER" LUNCHES FOR SUMMER
Cream of Chicken Soup
Strawberry-centered Fruit Salad
Raisin Bread Sandwiches
Iced Tea

Guard Encampment Set For Aug. 8-22

Kentucky's 62 National Guard units—more than 3,700 strong—will go for a two-weeks summer training course at Fort Campbell, August 8-22, it was announced today by Maj. Gen. Lewis S. Lindsay, State adjutant general and commanding officer of the Kentucky Guard.

The guard, a volunteer organization, has grown substantially over last year when more than 2,200 were trained.

The training program's principal feature will be Governor's Day on August 14, when Gov. Lawrence W. Wetherby, Gen. Wayne Smith, commanding officer of Fort Campbell, and Lindsay will officiate at ceremonies featuring reviews and presentation of awards. The Governor plans to arrive at Fort Campbell the preceding evening.

The National Guard has undergone an intensive recruitment program during the last years, according to Lindsay, in spite of the fact that Selective Service still remains in force.

"The Guard has been the target of our armed service in every conflict," said Lindsay. "The fact that it is a volunteer organization with no one being compelled to join—is one of its distinguishing characteristics. It has always been called upon in every national or local disaster, and has performed its work well."

Kentucky's Guard units include companies, batteries and detachments "and constitute a vital and effective portion of our national defense," Lindsay added.
