Can You Identify This Mystery Farm Photograph?

LAST WEEK'S MYSTERY FARM was identified as the Leer farm on U. S. Highway 68 and is owned by Col. James B. Leer. The farm and residence have been in the Leer family for about 65 years and a carpet placed on the floor of a room when the Leers first moved there is still in good condition. According to Mrs. Ruth Leer the house was built during 1825 and 1827 of brick made at the location and all floors are of white ash cut on the farm. The home was used as a tavern for stage coach lines. Identifications were called in by Mrs. Calvin Wills, Mrs. Emma Walters, Mrs. John Sugg, Mrs. Thomas Gaunce, Lessie Henry, Mrs. Walter Crawford, Mrs. James Allen, Mrs. Russell Barr and Chester Ockerman. Owner of the farm pictured this week may have a mounted photograph if he or she will call at this office and identify same.

A good test of the character of the people of a community is their support of non-support of the church that is located there for the benefit of these self-same people. We should be loyal and faithful to the church within our own locality, but to attempt to make a contri-bution to the betterment of our lives. The Headquarters Church is and will grow as it receives your response.

MOOREFIELD METHODIST CHURCH
Earl G. Curtis, Pastor

S. S. Supt.—Mrs. E. J. Clark

Sunday School, 10:00 a.m.

God's Word commands us not to neglect the assembling of our-selves together. It magnifies the value of the church, the place where we can learn from each other's experiences and from the lessons of the Word of God, where we can share our burdens and blessings together. A single live coal goes out; but combined with many lumps of heated coal, it pro-vides the blessing of warmth for our homes. We become spiritually frigid and worthless when we do not fellowship with warm hearts.

Come, study God's Word to-gether at Moorefield Methodist Presbyterian Union Church. The invitation is now yours as well as a marked responsibility and privi-lege.

Carlisle Defeated By Garth, To Finish Season At Cynthiana

By W. F. Woodall

The Carlisle Musketeers dropped their third straight Central Ken-tucky Conference tilt Friday night, before a home-coming crowd, when beaten 44-0 by the George-town Bulldogs.

Holding the Georgetown crew to 12-0 during the first half, the Musketeer defense crumbled in the third period to allow the win-ners three touchdowns. The Garth team picked up two more touch-downs in the fourth period.

The Musketeers threatened only once during the game, when, in the final period they drove 70 to the Buffalo 21 yard line but lost the pigskin on a fumble.

Buffaloes Threaten

Taking the opening kick-off on the 29 yard line, the Carlisle team could not make the necessary yard-age for a first down and on third and over the middle was partially blocked, falling on the Carlisle 40 yard line.

The Garth crew drove from the 40 to a marker to the Carlisle 13 on two plays. Bill Wilson, Buffalo full-back dashed around left-end and over for double stepp on the next play, which was called back to the line as Georgetown drew a pen-alty. In three attempts against the Carlisle line, Georgetown moved to the ten yard line but went over on downs to the Musketeers.

The Carlisle offensive failed to click, and Gaulden punted to the Carlisle 27, nine yards from the line of scrimmage.

After Buffalo tackle to the 24 and right tackle twice to the 18, Joe Johnson tossed a pass to Bill Wilson.
