O. C. Rankin Buys Fancy Show Turkeys; Dorsey Bros. & Fisher Sell Wheat To Mill

Thursday, February 7, 1935

O. C. Rankin, proprietor of the DeChoney turkey farm in this county, returned last week from Meyersdale, Pa., where he purchased some fancy show turkeys for his farm to replace fine turkeys which were stolen last fall.

"We are due six more weeks of winter weather, if the ground hog theory is to be believed. The sun came out sufficiently Saturday for his hogship to see his shadow."

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Tedder have purchased the Vace farm on the Locust Grove pike and moved to it during the past week.

Mrs. Conner Sites suffered a fracture of the right arm, between the elbow and shoulder on Monday morning when she fell at her home near Blue Licks.

The residence of Mrs. Kate Sapp on McCracken street in Dorseyville was completely destroyed by fire of unknown origin about 1 o'clock last Friday morning. Very little of the furnishings of the home was saved.

BORN—To Mr. and Mrs. Newton Smoot, of the Miranda section on the 4th, a son, Delano.—To Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Watkins, on Jan. 13 a son, Gerald Gaunce.—To Mr. and Mrs. Everett Higgins, on Jan. 21, a daughter, Gayle Anita.

MARRIED—Mrs. Orissa A. Rankin and Mr. Edmond D. Friedrick at Cynthiana, Jan. 31.—Miss Jean Rankin and Mrs. Newell Johnson of Maysville at Vanceburg on Dec. 8.

DIED—Mrs. Cordia Belle Hollat, 63, at her home at Barterville following short illness.—Mrs. Bessie Homaker Frazier, 65, Friday morning at her home near Clintonville, Bourbon county.—Mr. Mack Crump, 66, at the Johnson Memorial hospital Wednesday morning.—Mr. Robert Grundy Caldwell, 71, Friday morning at his home near Mocrefield following a long illness.

Thursday, February 11, 1915

Dorsey Bros. & Fisher sold to the Carlisle Milling Co., during the past week 2,500 bushels of wheat at $1.50 per bushel.

Henry Wilson has purchased the shooting gallery of G. H. Sammons, in the Graeter building.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Mocrefield Mercantile Company held at its offices in Mocrefield on Feb. 3, the following directors and officers were elected: C. S. Whaley, president; M. D. Judge, vice president; J. H. Wilson, secretary and manager; C. E. Sanford, J. S. Wilson, J. J. Lambert and T. L. Clark, directors.

Youie Shaw has returned home after serving three years in the U. S. Navy.

Gilbert Duncan, Russell Wills and Kash Hostetter are recovering from the mumps.

BORN—To Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allison, of Saltwell, on the 9th, a daughter, Catherine Belle.

MARRIED—Mr. Emmett R. Davis, of Bath county, and Miss Delilah B. Ralls, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Ralls, of this county Wednesday in Lexington.

DIED—William Banta, 25, a son of Anderson Banta, at his home at Tarr Station, in Bourbon county, last Thursday, of pneumonia.

Ellisville Homemakers

Mrs. William Dollins

Seems like every month our club has something just a little special. This time we had an auction, which is always exciting as well as profitable. I believe we collected $26.00 from it.

We also have four members having birthdays in February.

Mrs. Ovel Day brought a beautiful birthday cake, and there were gifts for the ones having birthdays as well as our Secret Pal gift exchange which we have each time.

It was a nice day and we had a good attendance, 15 members, four visitors and Miss Emma Barnes. The usual business was taken care of in the morning and after lunch we had our auction. Then Mrs. Frances Grimes and Miss Barnes gave the lesson, "Personalizing The Bedroom."

Our members have shown a great deal of interest in these lessons on the different rooms in the home, and I think we'll all make some changes when we get into our spring cleaning.

I really enjoyed having all of you, and am looking forward to seeing you next month, when we meet with Mrs. Leonard Alexander and Mrs. Frances Grimes.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Healing through spiritual means as practiced by Christ Jesus will be a topic dealt with at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon is entitled "Soul" a word which, when capitalized, is used in Christian Science as one of the synonyms for God. The Bible selections include "And great multitudes came unto Him, having with them those that were lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and cast them down at Jesus' feet; and He healed them." (Matthew 15:30).

Among the selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be the following: (210:11-16): "Knowing that Soul is and its attributes were forever manifested through man, the Saviour healed the sick, gave sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf, feet to the lame, thus bringing to light the scientific action of the divine Mind on human minds and bodies and giving a better understanding of Soul and salvation."

TV NOTEBOOK

By Gene Clinkenbeard

Typical of the versatility of the television medium is word that a new station no larger than a cigar box but capable of sending sharp, clear closed-circuit pictures by cable to standard TV receivers has been developed for industrial use.

Developed by the du Mont Laboratories, the unit, called the Tel-Eye, is but 10 inches long, 6¾ inches high and 4¾ inches wide. The weight is a modest 8¼ pounds. A self-contained television broadcasting system, the Tel-Eye requires no intermediate units between camera and receiver.

Operation of the unit is simple—merely plug it into a standard wall outlet, connect to the antenna terminals of any standard and television receiver, adjust the brightness an contrast controls and focus the lens.

This amazing little unit may have but slight interest for those interested only in the telecasting of a fast tag-team wrestling match, but in the fields of industry, science and medicine it may some day play a big role.

And did you know that GENE'S TELEVISION can play a big role in the life expectancy of your television set? Statistics show that a PROPERLY serviced set will outlast many times a set that has not been PROPERLY serviced ... so, for the PROPER SERVICE, at the PROPER PRICE, call 71-J TODAY!

Mr and Mrs. Roscoe Hutchison were called to Marion, Indiana Wednesday due to the accidental death of Mrs Hutchison's foster mother, Mrs. George Smith. They were accompanied by Johnny Hutchison, who also attended the funeral.

Several from here attended the farming tools Saturday, on the farm of Mr. John Boardman on the South.

Plenty of rain and slush on this section, news writing. Creeks are running full, really almost an unusual night after so many months of drought.

Not much news that different from the usual neighborhood affairs.

Three new televisions sets have been installed here during the past week. My! what a tremendous change from fifty years ago when the old phonograph was popular and when one viewed the world through a stereoscope.

Mrs. Charles R. Hinkle has been notified that she was the winner of an electric toaster, given thru the Kentucky Food Stores, having been the first to receive a prize through the local store of Mr. W. B. Hedges, whose store is a customer.

Allen Hopkins, principal of the Ruddles Mill school and Brooks Hinkle, principal of the Little Rock school attended the basketball game Friday night, between Vocational high school and Irvine, at Irvine.

Clayton Florence attended the two day meeting last week at Southern State Co-Operative, at Morgantown, West Virginia.

Mrs. Harold Rhodes and Mrs. Brooks Hinkle attended a Stanley Feed Ration night, given by Mrs. Harrison Rankins at her home.

Roy Johnson was the purchaser of the 41-acre farm sold Saturday near Little Rock, of Vincent Mayes, who is moving to Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Vice and two children, Donna Darlene and Diana Lynn, were Sunday evening of Mr and Mrs. Perry Vice.

The third anniversary of Rev. A. Gentry Justice, of High Street Christian church, was observed Thursday, Friday and Sunday night Rev. J. A. Stewart and choir of the Methodist church had charge of the service. Friday noon Rev. J. J. Whitehouse, pastor of the white Christian church was the speaker for the afternoon, and one of his good members came with him.

Mr. D. D. Gantt of Maysleck, Ky. worshiped with us Sunday night. He is also the financial secretary of our state convention.

The Easter Rally of the High Street Christian church Sunday began Jan the 2 and ends April the 10, 1955. The children are over anxious for the big rally saving up their pennies. Beside there will be an Easter Cantata, sponsored by Mrs. Aurelia Hamilton, Superintendent.

KENTUCKIANS IN WASHINGTON

By Gil Kingsbury

Up To Our Ears:

The most appropriate pronouncement coming out of Washington in connection with the proposal to provide funds for school construction was made by Kentucky's Congressman John Watts.

When some lawmakers proposed another survey on the situation, Representative Watts declared, "We've got statistics running out of our ears. It's now time to do something."

Other Kentuckians, including Senator Earle C. Clements, echoed the call to action. State Superintendent Wendell Butler said that 80 per cent of our school have no central heating and many classes hold more than 60 pupils.

Post Offices:

Kentucky has more small post offices than any state in the union, Pennsylvania excepted. But many such stations are being closed down.

The Post Office Department, according to word we get from congressional committees, is ignoring requests and pushing ahead with consolidations.

One official says that mail patrons forget their complaints when new service is started.

Appointments:

There's been a lot of news about the appointment of former Senator John Sherman Cooper as ambassador to India. However, one key appointment was overlooked.

Kenneth Tuggle, former Lieutenant-governor, has been returned to the Inter-state Commerce Commission. He will last until December 31, 1961.

Tax Problem:

A letter from Pendleton County and a similar one postmarked Lexington ask this question: What are the chances for a tax reduction?

Our guess, subject to revision as the session grows older, is that Congress will vote down any suggestions but that the White House will veto the measure. After that, it's anybody's guess as to what will happen.

Vegetables Need Proper Cooking

A green vegetable every day even in mid-winter is a familiar rule for nutrition-wise homemakers. But a reminder from the U.S. School of Home Economics states that the manner of cooking is important if food value is not to be lost.

The darker green the vegetable, the more vitamins it contains. Home foods authorities recommend all of the broccoli leaves and stems that are edible, as well as the buds, and the outer green leaves of cabbage. If vegetables must be held a day or two before using, keep them moist in a plastic bag that is tightly closed. Lettuce and green beans also retain fresh and crisp stored in this way.

Cook green veketables quickly in a covered container until just tender-and still slightly crisp. Long cooking makes them limp, and changes color and flavor. Frozen vegetables should be cooked according to directions on the package.

USDA Bulletin 41, "Green Vegetables for Good Eating," includes many new ways. It is available from offices of county and home agents, or from the UK Experiment Station, Lexington, Ky.

The Garden

By John S. Gardner

Seed is, at the same time, the most expensive and the cheapest item and the most expensive, when wrong varieties are used.

For one thing, new varieties should be chosen that do well in Kentucky. For one reason or another, ours is a tricky climate. As proof, consider the three years that just passed. They were dry years, and the drought caused stringless beans and White-seeded Half-runner beans almost to fail, whereas Top Crop, Logan and Wade, the drought-resistors, made fair crops.

Another requirement is for varieties that resist diseases that accumulate in garden soils. Cabbage "yellows" is a wilt disease that has made the growing of Early Jersey Wakefield and other similar varieties impossible in many gardens. The disease, however, causes no trouble when Wisconsin All Season is used, or any of the others named "tipsstate" in good seed catalogs.

Tomato wilt is another disease preventing the use of Stone, Earliana and some other old varieties. Rutgers, Valiant and Break O'Day produce well in diseased soil.

The seed list may be completed by the aid of Circular 276 and a little catalog, that the difficulty arises about what to do about the new varieties and novelties which are described. Certainly there are novelties with real merit, but a home garden is no place for conducting experiments to discover facts concerning the adoption of new varieties. A good rule is to choose varieties that have been listed for three years by the same seedsman, as proof that somebody must have sold them well enough to come back at least a second time.

The list from which to choose, the next step is to buy the seed, but only from reliable sources. For the benefit of gardeners, Kentucky's Seed Law specifies that to all packages of one pound or more, a tag must be affixed that lists the kind and name, the percent of germination, and the year the test was made. Dead seed can destroy the value of even the best seed of gardeners.

Here is to say, "Watch for the the tag, and READ it."

Dean At UK Speaks To Army Educators

Dr. L. L. Martin, acting dean of men at the University of Kentucky, delivered a series of lectures and served as a consultant on educational programs this week at Fort Benning, Ga.

His six-day visit there was scheduled in connection with activities planned by the Fort Benning Parent-Teachers Association.
