Everybody's Problem

In its issue of January 28, The Saturday Evening Post prints the first installment of a four-part series on juvenile delinquency, under the title "The Shame of America".

The committee conducted its investigation in every part of the country, in small towns and in great cities. It heard some 500 witnesses and took notes of their statements. It found that juvenile crime has increased 45 per cent, that gangster factories there are, and that young persons in shocking numbers have become public nuisances and even killers.

So it's a complex matter—and it is intricate and important. The authors write of the delinquent as he is, not as he should be. The delinquent may be a young boy or girl, or a young man or woman. He may be a member of the middle class or of the lower class. He may be a member of the middle class or of the lower class. He may be a member of the middle class or of the lower class.

Give $50,000 To Your Church

During his lifetime any man can contribute up to $50,000 to his church in the form of money and stock. That's right, anything up to $50,000. It's a simple matter. It's a simple matter. It's a simple matter. It's a simple matter. It's a simple matter. It's a simple matter.
