FROM THE PAGES OF THE NATION'S HISTORY COME THE STORIES OF

KENTUCKY'S HISTORIC SHRINES

Cumberland Gap, Kentucky's Gateway to the West for America's pioneers, opened up a great new world for the nation's early settlers who followed Daniel Boone into Kentucky. Historic shrines stand today in many Kentucky communities, commemorating the lives of great men and the stirring events which were a part of the historic story of Kentucky. Many highways follow historic trails. This luxuriant country, which grew both "Happy Hunting Ground" and "Dark and Bloody Ground" before Indians, became the earliest promised land for the pioneers from the East.

The history of Kentucky makes up much of the early history of the nation, and the nation's history is filled with the deeds of men who were first Kentuckians. The deeds and men of this history are memorialized in state parks, shrines and museums throughout the state. To the studious or to the casually interested observer of history, Kentucky is an exciting museum, an inspirational and unforgettable center of historic action.

THIS YEAR, JOIN THE REST OF THE NATION AND ENJOY YOUR OWN

Miss Richey Bride Of Mr. Anderson

Miss Lenore Richey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Richey of Carlisle, and Cpl. Luther Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Anderson, also of Carlisle, were married at 8 o'clock Friday evening at the Rose Hill Methodist church. Dr. Warner P. Davis officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Mrs. Sterling Blake, pianist, and Mrs. Peggy Small, soloist, presented a program of wedding music.

The vows were exchanged before an altar of fern and white gladioli interspersed with white tapers in candelabra. The altar was lighted by Miss Sara Nell Simmons.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a waltz-length gown of imported embroidered organdy over petal white taffeta designed with a long torso bodice, the embroidered scallops forming a wide V-neckline and short sleeves. Her full skirt worn over crinoline was embroidered and finished in scallops. A plateau of organdy edged with pearls and pleated tulle held her fingertip veil of imported illusion. She wore short white gloves and carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis showered with satin ribbons.

Miss Shirley Jennings, maid of honor, wore orchid organdy and Miss Drusie Hudnall and Mrs. Harold Gene Vice, bridesmaids, wore mint green organdy. All of their waltz-length dresses were made on princess lines and worn over taffeta. They wore matching headdresses and carried bouquets of carnations tinted the shades of their dresses.

Debbie Proctor of Florence, niece of the bridegroom, was the flower girl. She wore yellow organdy with a matching headdress and carried a basket of rose petals.

Bobby Smith served as best man. The ushers were A.J.C. Johns and Gerald Watkins.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's table was centered with a tiered cake, flanked by lighted tapers in crystal candelabra.

The couple left on a Southern wedding trip.

The bride is a graduate of Nicholas County High school and Eastern Kentucky University. She holds a position at the Deposit Bank in Carlisle.

Mr. Anderson was graduated from Nicholas County High school and is now serving with the United States Army in Germany. After his 30-day leave, he will return to Germany for the next 15 months.
