SINCERITY OR BROKEN PROMISES

HERE ARE THE ISSUES:

Do you want a Governor proven in the fields of broken promises and false claims who will put his personal ambitions above the good of Kentucky . . . or do you want a man as your Governor who is straight-forward, honest and sincere and has proven himself in civilian and military life? Of course your answer is Bert Combs who will put Kentucky first.

CHANDLER'S BROKEN PROMISES!

His Promise: Chandler said in 1935 that he would reduce state tax on gasoline one cent.
His Performance: Chandler did not reduce the gasoline tax while he was governor.

His Promise: Chandler said he would cut the state tax on real estate by one cent.
His Performance: The state tax on real estate was not reduced under Chandler.

His Promise: Chandler said in 1935 he would repeal the act giving the state the right to make blanket raises in county property assessments for tax purposes.
His Performance: Chandler not only did not repeal that act, but his State Tax Commission made blanket raises in county assessments every year of his term.

His Promise: Chandler said in 1935 that he would take the Game and Fish Commission "out of politics".
His Performance: Chandler kept that program in politics throughout his administration.

His Most Misleading Promise: Throughout his 1935 campaign, Chandler declared that through "efficiency and economy" he could reduce state spending and make great progress without the sales tax. He talked of how he would eliminate waste and useless spending.
His Most Damaging Performance: Chandler did not reduce total state spending during even the first fiscal year of his administration, as compared with the last fiscal year of the LaFoon administration. And he made many reductions in essential state services, especially in the field of education.

BERT COMBS' STRAIGHT-FORWARD CANDOR

Bert Combs is not running on the success of any past administration; nor does he find it necessary to distort his own past record. He has clearly stated his courageous platform and his record in both military and civilian life proves him qualified to handle such a program. He will put Kentucky first rather than desert the people to further his own political ambitions.
