Polio Meeting

board. At the same time Dr. B. F. Reynolds was appointed to act as medical director of the polio vaccination program which is supposed to begin sometime in April.

Developed through March of Dimes research, the Salk vaccine was given to 440,000 school children last year in field trials sponsored by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Dr. Reynolds said. A scientific report on its effectiveness is expected in April.

"If this report shows that the vaccine prevents paralytic polio and it is licensed by the Federal Government, we shall receive a supply for children in the first and second grades of our schools," said Dr. Reynolds. "It will be supplied without charge for the product by the NFIP to Dr. Bruce Underwood, State Health Commissioner. He will apportion it to all communities in this state."

If the vaccine report does not warrant licensing, the vaccine will not be distributed, Dr. Reynolds declared. If it is licensed, it will not be used in another test, but will be the first use of a newly-established preventive measure, he added.

"But plans are being made now so that we shall be ready to vaccinate children as soon as possible after the license is issued," he said.

"The meeting has been called to answer questions about the use of the vaccine and to arrange for assistance in clinics, if the program is carried out. While only children in certain school grades will be offered vaccine in the community program, vaccine also will be available to physicians through usual channels."

Speakers at the meeting will include Mrs. James Robinson of the Fayette County Chapter of the NFIP, who will explain how the vaccine will be used, why first and second grade school children were selected for vaccination, why three inoculations will be necessary, and why all three shots should be given before the 1955 polio season begins.

Dr. Reynolds, urges all parents of eligible children to make a special effort to be present at this meeting so as to be familiar with the purpose of the program and its importance.

Southern Bell's Annual Report

The Southern Bell Telephone Company in 1954 connected more telephones and provided better grades of service to more people than in any previous year, according to the Company's Annual Report, prepared at which were received here today by G. M. Wesley, Manager for the Telephone Company.

Southern Bell serves Carlisle and 1,042 other exchanges—cities, town and surrounding rural areas —in nine Southern states. The report, commemorating Southern Bell's 75 years of continuous service to the South, was made for the board of directors by President Fred J. Turner of Atlanta, Georgia.

"The stepped-up economy of the South is reflected in the number of telephones now in use," the Report pointed out. At the end of 1954, Southern Bell was serving 5,683,000 telephones.

During 1954, the Company gained 295,000 telephones, the largest for a year since 1948. Southern Bell telephones in service at the end of 1954 totaled 5,552,417, an increase of 2,689,233 since 1945.

During the year, the number of orders on hand for "up-graded" party line service—fewer parties on the same line—was reduced from 214,144 to 126,657 to 79,663, the lowest in 11 years. New telephone demand continued very strong.

Telephones in rural areas were increased about 90,000 in 1954, bringing the total Southern Bell Telephones in rural areas to approximately 644,000, compared with 171,000 at the end of 1945.

The construction, necessary to take care of growth, the replacement of telephone plant and service improvements cost $188,000,000 last year. Since 1945, the growth construction by Southern Bell has amounted to 1.3 billion dollars.

During 1954 Southerners made about ten billion local calls and 187,000,000 long distance calls over Southern Bell facilities. The report commended the work done by people who designed, constructed, installed and maintained the plant and equipment over which telephone service is given and the skill of those who operate it.

On the financial side, the report pointed out that the Company's 1954 earnings of 4.90 per cent on telephone plant investment were less than adequate. The Report said that for the Company as a whole, charges for services still are not in the proper relationship to the cost of rendering that service.

The Report discloses that the Company's 60,000 employees were paid nearly $216,000,000 in salaries and wages, the highest figure for any year. Operating taxes levied directly on the Company amounted to $92,698,632, an increase of about $10,000,000 over 1953.

A Commonwealth of Kentucky vs Kreasder Hollar—We examined one witness but did not prefer an indictment.

The Grand Jury held three other witnesses concerning alleged criminal actions but did not return indictments as it was not believed there was sufficient evidence upon which indictments could be based.

One witness was heard in regard to alleged truancy of several children in the East Union neighborhood and the Grand Jury here-by recommends to the Trustees and to the Nicholas County Board of Education that an attendance be made into the school attendance at the East Union School and if they find conditions existing as brought out by the Grand Jury, that Warrants be obtained for the parents of the children who have not been in regular attendance at the school.

On detailed inspection was made of other county property but cause most of the members of the Grand Jury were familiar with the condition of the other property owned and operated by the county.

All of which the Grand Jury of the February Term 1955 respectfully reports to the Court and having completed its duties on February 25, 1955, respectfully requests that it be finally discharged. Ward Alexander, Foreman."

Highest Octanes Of All Time

W. G. Violett, president of Standard Oil Company, Louisville, which has been serving the South with petroleum products for 69 years, announced that the new Custom and Crown Extra gasolines which this Company's dealers began offering their customers today, are the highest octane gasolines that this Company's long history.

"For the past several years," said Mr. Violette, "The petroleum industry has been developing higher and higher octane fuels which would enable car manufacturers to continually step up the compression-ratios of the engines in their cars. As a consequence, the compression ratios of the 1955 cars are at a new high.

To meet and surpass these new engine demands, Standard Oil has raised the octane rating of its premium grade Crown Extra gasoline to the highest octane of all time.

To enable users of regular grade gasoline to likewise enjoy a new high in anti-knock performance, Standard Oil has also substantially increased the octane rating of its Crown regular grade gasoline. Its octane too, is the highest of all time."

Standard Oil Company markets petroleum and allied products throughout Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, and Mississippi. E. M. Smith there agent, announces that these new gasolines are now available at Standard Oil Stations throughout the Carlisle area.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Man's God-given dominion over fear, disease, and discord will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Man's" will include the following from Psalms (8:4, 6): "What is man, that thou art mindful of him? and the son of man, that thou visitest him? . . . Thou madest him to have dominion over the works of thy hands; thou hast put all things under his feet."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following passage will be among those read. (228: 11-15): "The enslavement of man is not legitimate. It will cease when man enters into his heritage of freedom, his God-given dominion over the material senses. Mortals will some day assert their freedom in the name of Almighty God."

The Golden Text is from Ecclesiastes (7:29): "Lo, this only have I found, that God hath made man upright."

Weekly Recipe

Frozen haddock fillets are in adequate supply at many food markets, say food specialists at the University of Kentucky. Fillets from the small haddock (called scrod) average about two fillets per pound, and are considered the best buy for housewives. To thaw, allow 12 hours at refrigerator temperature, or four hours at room temperature in the unopened package.

Pan-Fried Haddock Fillets

2 pounds haddock fillets
1 egg beaten
1 T milk or water
1 t salt
Dash pepper
1 c bread crumbs, cracker crumbs, cornmeal or flour.

Cut fillets into serving size portions. Combine slightly beaten egg, milk and seasonings. Dip fish in egg mixture, then roll in crumbs. Fry in heavy pan containing ½ inch of hot fat, but not smoking. Brown on one side, then turn carefully. Cook about 10 minutes, or until fish can be flaked with a fork. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve with lemon wedges or tartare sauce.

TARTARE SAUCE: 1 c mayonnaise, 1 T each of minced onion, chopped pickle and pimiento, to blended together. The addition of minced parsley adds flavor and color.

Frozen fruit salad meets the dessert requirements of the finest occasion. An advantage in its use, says home economists at the University of Kentucky, is that it can be prepared in advance and held in the freezer for serving.

Frozen Fruit Salad

1 orange
½ medium grapefruit
1 banana
¾ c Royal Anne cherries
¾ c pineapple cubes
12 maraschino cherries
1 c fruit salad dressing
1 c whipping cream

Remove sections of orange and grapefruit from rind and fiber and cut in small pieces. Cut the cherries and banana in small pieces, and chill all fruit. Add salad dressing to chilled fruit and fold in whipped cream. Pour into a mold. My wife and I were on a cross-country vacation trip — when an oncoming truck went out of control and slammed into our car!

Things looked bad. But I can't help thinking how much worse off we'd have been without Hartford "Insurance" service.

The hospital notified our Hartford agent. Hundreds of miles away, he arranged for the Hartford claim man nearest us to take over at once.

The claim man had our luggage placed in storage. He arranged for the damage to our car. Visited the accident scene. Interviewed the highway patrol. Gathered information for our claim report. In short, he was a real friend in need.

My Hartford Automobile Insurance paid me $1,500 for the damage to my car. And under the Hartford Permanente section I received $1,065 to take care of my hospital bills.

I'm grateful to the Hartford. I know we can depend on him and his companions to take good care of us wherever we may go.
