Kentucky motor vehicle injuries are being covered by a new insurance on collision coverage. An announced request has been made of all motorists to take collision insurance, directing them to make a questionnaire to insure individual to determine the number of vehicles in their family. The difference in premium rates between classes amounts to a negligible amount. Commissioner Therman. He explained that collision coverage on financed automobiles falls into two classifications. Class One covers when there are no operators in the motorist's household under 23, and Class Two is applicable where there are operators under 23. The Commissioner urged persons returning questionnaires from insurance companies to fill them out and return them promptly, to determine whether there is an overcharge.

Fourks Homemakers. Mrs. Wm. Elrod Williams, Mrs. Harvey Wagner, president presided at the Fourks Homemakers' meeting which was held at the home of Mrs. Roy Wagner. All states have inequitable tax on property. Property assessments in Kentucky are characterized by the inequitable and fractional nature. The situation is not peculiar to this State. This condition has been reported by the Legislative Research Committee as a study of the property tax as a source of governmental revenue. The study showed Kentucky ranking last among the states in dollars of property taxes collected for state purposes, and in the per cent of total state property taxes received by all the States.
