Crouch-Marcum Marriage Vows

The wedding of Miss Margaret Kathryn Crouch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Crouch of Bourbon County, and Charlie E. Marcum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie E. Marcum of Lexington, took place Friday in Jeffersonville, Ind.

Mrs. Marcum is a 1952 graduate of the Nicholas County high school and has made her home for the past four years with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Calvert Crouch of Lexington.

Mr. Marcum attended schools in Lexington and is a veteran of World War II.

Since their return from a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Marcum are making their home in Lexington, where she is employed by Southeastern Greyhound Co. and he holds a position with Goodwin Brothers.

Sullivan-Wagoner Vows To Be June 16

Miss Betty Lou Sullivan of Paris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Sullivan of Paris, has chosen Saturday, June 16, for her wedding to Oliver Wagoner Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Wagoner of Paris.

The ceremony will be solemnized at the First Church of God, Paris, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Miss Sullivan has asked her sister, Miss Lois Sullivan, to be her maid of honor. Bridesmaids will be Mrs. William Plunkett of Bourbon County, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Esther Richie, also of Bourbon county.

Clyde Soper of Millersburg will serve as best man.

Ushers will be Roy Wagoner, uncle of the bridegroom; Clarence Harp, brother-in-law of the bride; Arbon Florence, and Ed Wells of Carlisle.

All friends and relatives of the bridal pair-elect are invited to attend the ceremony.

A reception will be held at the home of the bridegroom's parents, 1434 Cypress street, Paris, for members of the wedding party and immediate families.

King-Wynia Vows Exchanged

Miss Marlyn King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice King of Carlisle and Stanley W. Wynia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wynia of St. Charles, Ill., were married at 3:30 p.m. Sunday, June 10, in the Carlisle Christian church. The Rev. J. J. Whitehouse, officiating.

The vows were exchanged before an altar banked with ferny, and baskets of white gladioli and tapers in iron candelabra.

The wedding music was presented by Mrs. Sterling Blake, organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of imported white rose-patterned embroidered tulle, over taffeta. The sculptured bodice was designed with a low v-shaped neckline, with scallops. The bouffant skirt was walls-length. Her short veil of illusion fell from a small lace bonnet, and she carried a bouquet of white flowers, centered with an orchid.

Miss Barbara King, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, wearing a pale blue organdy dress, with matching headpiece, and carried a bouquet of yellow carnations and delphinium.

Little Miss Vicki Lynn King, sister of the bride, wore a white organdy dress, similar to that of the maid of honor, and carried a white basket of rose petals. Candles were lighted by Miss Maurita King, sister of the bride, and Ronald King, a brother. Maurita wore pale pink, matching the maid of honor gown.

Mr. Wynia served his son as best man, and ushers were Ronald King and James P. Lawrence Jr.

An immemorial reception was held following the rites, in the social room of the church. The lace covered table held a three-tier cake, topped with miniature bride and groom. Assisting in the serving were Mrs. James P. Lawrence, Mrs. W. W. Sparrow, Mrs. H. A. Mann and Mrs. Delmus Wade.

After a short wedding trip, south, the couple will reside at St. Charles.

The bride is a graduate of Carlisle high school class of 1953, and Fugazzi School of Business, Lexington.

Mr. Wynia was graduated from St. Charles Community high school, and served four years with the U. S. Air Force.

Linville-Galbraith Marriage Sunday

Miss Marilee Linville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Linville, of Paris, became the bride of Harry Davis Galbraith, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davis Galbraith, Sr., of Nicholas County, and formerly of Paris, in a candlelight ceremony performed at the Ruddles Mill Christian church, Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Richard Bain of Brooksville.

Ferns formed a background for baskets of white gladioli and Majestic daisies, with tapers in candelabra.

Miss Caroline Duncan, vocalist, and Mrs. William Watkins, organist presented a program of wedding music, preceding the ceremony. Miss Duncan's selections were, "Because," "I Love You Truly," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a street-length dress of white embroidered organdy with V-neck, tiered bodice and bouffant skirt. Her shoulder-length veil of French illusion, was held in place by a bandeau of appliqued organdy petals. She wore short white gloves and carried a white Bible, topped with a white orchid.

Mrs. W. H. Linville, Jr., sister-in-law of the bride, wore a dress of ice blue organdy, styled identically to that of the bride. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses and gypsophilia.

W. H. Linville, Jr., brother of the bride, was the best man.

Ushers were Edward Linville, brother, and Donald Ray Shanklin, cousin of the bride.

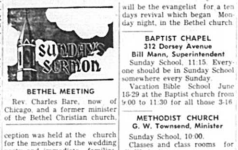
Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the church for the members of the wedding party and immediate families. The bride's table in white, held a three-tiered cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, with wedding bells, white tapers in holders, and a floral arrangement of white gladioli. Assisting with the reception were Miss Nancy Jo Linville and Miss Mary Louise Shannon, cousins of the bride. Mrs. Fred Williams, Mrs. Ray Shannon, of Bourbon County, and Mrs. Leonard Robbins, sister of the groom, of Covington.

The bride was graduated from Bourbon County Vocational high school in May, 1956. She was Drum Majorette in the band and a cheer leader at the school for four years, also being voted the most popular girl of the Senior class.

The groom was graduated from the Paris high school in 1953, where he was a member of the football team. He is now a member of the National Guard of Louisville and the manager of the Shoe Department of the J. C. Penney Co. in Jeffersonville, Ind.

Upon their return from their wedding trip, the bridal couple will reside at 424 Whitcomb Ave., Jeffersonville.

The discussion took place recently in the Georgetown area. An area wide Civil Defense meeting will be held July 6th in Georgetown, to consider the problems of Civil Defense in rural areas, it has been announced by Quilling. The meeting will be open to all who are interested in the program. Scheduled for 9:30 A.M. it will be held in the Georgetown Christian Church.



Rev. Charles Bare, now of Chicago, and a former minister of the Bethel Christian church, will be the evangelist for a ten days revival which began Monday night, in the Bethel church

COMMENT

Comment is indebted to Mrs H F Reynolds for the interesting story concerning the old Tureman home which is reproduced below

In Comment's search for old houses in Nicholas County, we suddenly discovered that one of the most interesting old residences in town is about to disappear The large brick house on the corner of Chestnut and Locust streets, known as the Tureman house, which has been used for Sunday School rooms for a number of years by the Baptist church, is to be razed to make way for a new and up-to-date Educational Building.

The members of the local church were loath to destroy this ancient landmark and had hoped to remodel it for the use there-of the large congregation But the architect insisted that remodeling would cost more and be less satisfactory than to tear down and build anew. Work will start anew so we have done some digging in the archives to be able to tell you the history of the old house before it is gone forever Much of this history was found in Perrin's "History of Nicholas County" published 75 years ago

When Carlisle was laid out for a town in 1416 this location and the surrounding lots was a fair-sized sheet of water known as "Perry's Pond", and when it was frozen over in winter it was the most popular spot in town as the boys and girls of all ages and the older ones also, common, too met there to skate in the springtime all the town boys built their nests under the eaves and the swallows and their eggs which the bad boys of the 1820's stole as fast as they were laid Perrin also states cation in Carlisle."

The Old Tureman House

that at all seasons it afforded a convenient place to duck old wife-dwelling house, store room and all—being $30.00 per annum Hon. Mr. Tureman proposed so well that in 1820 he bought the location known as Tureman's Corner, moved his business into a brick store standing there and commenced building his present commodious and handsome brick residence on Lot No. 60 on the town plat, once called Perry's Pond and undoubtedly the finest lo-

Mr. Tureman and his first wife Virginia Coburn Tureman had four sons, three of whom died in early manhood. Thomas the fourth son became his father's partner in the firm of Tureman & Son. Later when Thomas himself became the senior partner his son Coburn, our late fellow-townsman, became the "Son" in the firm, which operated under this name probably longer than any other business in Carlisle

A friend and neighbor of the Turemans, John Dougherty, one of the most colorful figures in Carlisle's early history who deserves a separate story, died in 1860. Mrs. Virginia Coburn Tureman had died in 1858. So in Jan. 1862, Mr. Tureman and the widow Dougherty—"Aunt Becky"—were married and lived in his fine brick house together for 30 years. She survived him for ten years and in her will bequeathed the lot back of her residence which had been her flower garden to the Carlisle Baptist church for the site of a new church building. "Aunt Becky" was a woman of strong character and many kindly deeds and her memory is still cherished by many of the older residents of Carlisle.

Mr. Tureman's first wife died in 1816 and he married Miss Mary Ann Bryan, daughter of Gen. Morgan Bryan, of Bryan's Station, Fayette county, and sister of Mrs. Daniel Boone. Mrs. Tureman died in 1858 and Mr. Tureman in 1862. Mr. Tureman and his wife are buried in the Carlisle cemetery. Tullibeares will be E. K. Maffett, Howard Allison Jr., Fred Hollar, Spencer Taylor, Gardner Feezack and Vaughn Mathis.

Mr and Mrs. L. V. Jacobs, Mrs. Argus Jacobs and son John Marion, spent Friday with Mr and Mrs M. G. McCormick and Mrs.

As brethren tell me one will soon be needed." Aunt Becky died in 1901 and the present school church was built in 1902 where her home had grown, so apparently the brethern were correct She left her residence there niece Mrs. Caroline Kenwody who in turn bequeathed it to the heirs of her son Hanson Kennedy When the heirs later sold the property, it was bought by the Carlisle Methodist church to be used as Sunday school rooms, and in 1937 the Methodists sold it to the Baptists who are now ready to build on on Lot No. 60

But there is consolation for the local citizens who regret to see the old house disappear The Kentucky Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution who, some years ago erected old Duncan Tavern in Paris, and made it their State headquarters and one of the most interesting show places in the state, has recently bought two very old houses adjoining Duncan Tavern and plans to restore them also, as additional rooms for the Tavern, and to make of the entire block an historic center open to the public. The old house next to the Tavern was built by Maj. Joseph Duncan some years after he built his stone tavern, the ordered house which is to be restored at a later date was originally a four-room house built by Isaac Orchard, a Revolutionary soldier, in 1794, and was the first cabinet shop in Paris. Here William Holmes McGuffey who wrote the famous McGuffey's Readers so dear to the memory of our older generation, had chairs and benches made for the pupils of his school in Paris.

The D.A.R., thru their Restoration Chairman, Mrs. William B. Ardery, of Paris has bought the interior woodwork of the old Tureman house, brick, stock, and barrel, and will use it to restore and supplement the woodwork of these two historic old houses. The handiwork of these long-dead craftsmen who carved the beautiful mantels and the "Uncle Joe" Tureman, who reeded his door and window frames, laid the walls and boards of his floods, hung his ten-panel doors and erected his lovely cherry stair case, will now be beautifully refinished and incorporated in buildings of his era, to delight the eyes of future generations and teach them to appreciate the beauty of pioneer architecture.

condition is reported satisfactory.
