MAYBE NOT THE LONGEST, but Mrs. Rita Green, 101, of Gorsey avenue has the unusual distinction of never having had a hair cut. She told that before the flu epidemic of 1917-18 her hair was much longer and thicker.—Photo by W. C. Campbell

COMMENT

Mrs. B. F. Reynolds received the following letter and was kind enough to send it to this column.

Dear Mrs Reynolds

I do not mind you having published the little article in the Bedinger grave yard Project only you should rearrange it to be more readable I hope it will create more interest about such things for we should remember those who have sacrificed so much that we may enjoy the luxuries we have today. Mr. Bedinger was quite a crippled person He was a Major in the Fatal Battle at Blue Lick and survived that battle He contributed a two acre plot for the school and Original Church here Besides that his family donated generously of their money and labor. His son James Bedinger acted Treasurer of the Church Building Fund At the time of such I was Clerk of Court and retained his records to obtain information of historical interest and They were quite clear cut details

I found another article of interest in some of my records in the June 2, 1900 a meeting was held at the home of Martin Baker near Blue Lick, perhaps where a document was prepared signed by Gov. James Garfield declaring the creation of a new county and ordering officers to be appointed The Justices fixed the place for holding quarterly sessions at Court on the Bedinger Land in the Big Bend on Main Licking river A committee was appointed to lay off the tract of 40 acres into town lots and for public buildings for the creation of a county seat Strict rules were constructed, but the entire plan was abandoned due to the inconvenience of the location in favor of Ellisville, a more likely location. this too was abandoned as Carlisle was considered the most centrally located.

Here is another story that is of interest to me especially as my grandfather was later involved. In the Fall of 1815-16 Pioneer William Bartlett surveyed, to lay out a town at the Blue Lick Springs to be known as Bartlettsborough. In March 1816 a public sale was held to sell lots. (nothing more is known of this venture) But Mr

Miss Jewell Farris, daughter of Mrs. W. R. Buntin Sr., and Burton Farris of Carlisle, and Ronald L. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Miller of Chicago, were united in marriage at 8 p.m. Saturday night, May 19, at the Buntin home, here.

The Rev. J. J. Whitehouse read the double ring ceremony. The vows were exchanged before the picture window in the living room, which was decorated with white chrysanthemums and lighted cathedral candles.

The bride was lovely in her ballerina-length white lace dress with three-quarter length sleeves, round neck with crystal jewels. She carried a white Bible, topped with an orchid.

The only attendents were Mrs Bobby Gene Durbin, sister of the bride, and Mr. Durbin, of Carlisle. Mrs. Durbin wore white nylon over aqua taffeta and her shoulder bouquet was yellow rosebuds.

The bride, a graduate of Carlisle high school, has been employed with the American Air Lines in Chicago for the past year, and the bridegroom, after serving two years in the U. S. Army, is a young architect in Chicago.

After the weekend here, they left for Chicago where they will reside.

Vaughn-DeGonia Vows Said Saturday

Miss Alberta Maye Vaughn, daughter of Mrs. Henry H. Moreland of Lexington, and Ed DeGonia Jr. of Lexington, son of Mr and Mrs. Ed DeGonia of Santa Ana, Calif., were married at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Broadway Christian church. The Rev. Ard Hoven officiated at the ceremony.

The church was decorated with ferns and tapers in wrought iron standards. A basket of mixed flowers centered the altar. Mrs. E. M. Woodward, organist, and Betty Campbell, vocalist, presented a program of music.

The bride was given in marriage by her stepfather, Mr. Moreland. She wore a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace and tulle designed with a fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. The square neckline of scalloped lace was sprinkled with sequins. The double veil of imported illusion was held by a tiara of lace and sequins. She carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Mrs Jeane Gallagher, matron of honor, wore a pink waltz-length dress styled with a fitted bodice and accordion pleated skirt. She wore a picture hat and carried an Italian reed basket filled with white daisies.

Miss Elizabeth Whitehead, Irvine the maid of honor, was dressed in blue. The brides-maid Miss Nancy Schad, Versailles, wore a yellow costume. Linda McFee, the flower girl, was dressed in mint green organdy and carried a basket of daisy petals.

C A Bowen of Lexington served as best man. Ushers were Wendell Morris, Bill Steckinger, Lexington, and Donald Mossoll, Louisville.

The vows were exchanged Saturday, May 5, at 11 a.m. at the parsonage of the First Methodist church of Jellico, Tenn., by the Rev. Charles W. Salmon, pastor.

The bride wore a blue and white dress, duster ensemble with black and white accessories.

The bride is a student at Junction City high school and will finish her education in Lexington.

The bridegroom is majoring in architectural engineering at the University of Kentucky.

Greeted at Blue Lick Church

Vernon Osborne, Christian Missionary to Barbados, was in charge of the service Sunday at the Blue Lick church, at an all-day meeting

He presented slides of their work, and an old fashioned picnic dinner was served at noon.

An offering of some $70 was given him and special music was rendered by Jean and Faye McClanahan, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Harold McClanahan, singing a sacred song, "Singing My Way to Glory-land," composed by Mrs. Omer A. Berry of Carlisle.

Mr. Gene Coburn, student at Kentucky Christian college at Grayson, minister, presided.

Attending from Carlisle were Mrs. Berry, Miss Lucille Buntin and Linda Caswell.

Murphy-Fuller Vows At Woodland

Mrs. Irene Cox Murphy and J. Myers Fuller were married at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the parlor at Woodland Christian church, with the Rev. Lewis S. C. Smythe officiating in the presence of the immediate families.

The vows were said in front of a mantel banked with white flowers, palms and tapers in candelabra.

Mr. and Mrs. Fuller will make their home at 151 North Arcadia Park, Lexington.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Fuller formerly resided in Carlisle

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Elsie Sloan and daughter Robin Ann, of Paris, and Logan Hamilton were dinner guests Saturday of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCann.

Mrs. Edie Asbury of Austin, Ind., is a patient at the St. Joseph's hospital, Lexington.
