Why Southern Bell is Asking For a Thorough Study of its Kentucky Rates and Earnings

A lot of things have happened to the cost of providing telephone service in Kentucky since 1952:

1. Four general wage increases have added $2,024,000 a year to our costs.

2. Cost increases associated with additional investment in Kentucky amount to another $2,040,000 a year.

3. Taken together these two items alone have boosted the cost of furnishing telephone service in Kentucky by more than $4,000,000 per year.

4. Additional revenue from rate increases during this period failed by far to cover these added costs alone, to say nothing of other cost increases.

As a result. Southern Bell earnings amount to only about 4%, per cent on the value of the Company's Kentucky properties. This return is lower than that of comparable businesses in the state and too low to justify the expenditure of the $100 million needed during the next four years to keep in step with Kentucky's progress and telephone needs

For these reasons, we have asked the Public Service Commission to approve rates that will provide a reasonable return on our investment in the state.
