Newspaper Value

The idea is widely held that television has gained an unshakable hold on the young people of the country, to the detriment of other and older media of communication.

But apparently that idea needs some overhauling, as this item from Editor & Publisher demonstrates: "The study of the 'teen-age market' just released by the Bureau of Advertising completely destroys the television-created myth that the youth of America is a new race of TV viewers to the exclusion of printed media. TV ranked high with this group for its entertainment value, but research revealed the medium of 'most practical value' to teen-agers is the newspaper and 80 per cent of them are newspaper readers. This study should be a valuable new advertising sales tool for newspapers."

MAN ON THE STREET

Education Given Children In Local Public Schools Receives Solid Vote Of Approval

By Kenneth Fink, Director, Princeton Research Service

Princeton, N. Jersey—How do rank and file citizens that MAN ON THE STREET meets feel about the education children in their local public schools are receiving? This is the way MAN ON THE STREET hears it:

A solid majority of all those interviewed—just about two out of every three—say they approve of the education children are receiving in their local public schools.

About one in eight express disapproval. In other words, among people having opinions about the education children in the public schools are receiving, those who express approval outnumber those expressing disapproval by a margin of five to one.

These were the findings when MAN ON THE STREET and his people put this question to a cross-section of citizens—men and women, young adults and older ones, big city people and rural area residents, college educated adults and those with little or no formal schooling, professional people, business owners and managers, skilled craftsmen, and semi-skilled and unskilled workers as well as farmers:

"Do you approve or disapprove of the way children in your local community are being educated in the public schools today?"

The results:

	Approve	Disapprove
Approve	66%
Disapprove	13
No opinion	21

Highlight of today's survey findings is that the biggest vote of approval is expressed by fathers and mothers with children in their local public schools. But even those without children in the public schools give the education children are receiving there a big vote of approval.

Here's the way those with children in the public schools and those without feel about the education their community's children are receiving in their local public schools.

Have children in No children public schools in public schools

Approve	80%	63%
Disapprove	5	25
No opinion	15	12

An interesting sidelight in today's survey is that approval of the way children are being educated in the local public schools is somewhat greater among those who live in communities with populations of fewer than 25,000 people than it is among those who live in larger towns and cities, but even among big city people, those who approve outnumber those who disapprove by a better than four to one margin.

Residents Smaller Communities (Fewer than 25,000 people)

	Residents larger towns and cities (25,000 or more people)
Approve	73%
Disapprove	10
No opinion	17

Further indication of the way adult citizens feel about the way children are being educated in the public schools can be seen from the fact that majority sentiment in every population group examined expresses approval of the way children are being educated in the public schools today.

And that in every group examined, those who approve outnumber those who disapprove by a margin of four to one or better.

These groups include men and women, young and old, those with children in the public schools and those without, and people in all educational levels, occupational groups, and city sizes.

Chief criticism made by those expressing disapproval is the lack of discipline in the public schools, in other words, that the children are permitted to run wild.

Then comes the need for more stress on the three R's—reading, writing, and arithmetic.

As one New Jersey postal clerk puts it, "When children come into the post office to buy three two cent stamps and two three cent ones, if we didn't tell them what they owed us, they'd never be able to figure it out for themselves."

The Carlisle Mercury presents the reports of MAN ON THE STREET exclusively in this area.

THE MAN ON THE STREET weekly feature is able to render a unique public service to the state and nation because this news paper pays for and publishes its findings.

MAN ON THE STREET appears in newspapers from coast to coast and in the Hawaiian Islands.

The service is operated and distributed by Princeton Research Service, which holds a perfect record for nationwide pre-election predictions.

Four Nicholas persons have tularemia; speculators buying tobacco at 20 cents

Thursday, November 26, 1936

Four persons in Nicholas County are suffering with tularemia or rabbit fever, according to reports made to the Nicholas county health department.

Rev. Cecil V. Crabb, D.D. of Eminence, has accepted the call of the ...Carlisle Presbyterian church and will preach his first sermon as pastor on Dec. 20.

It is estimated that approximately 20,000 turkeys produced by Nicholas County people were sold for the Thanksgiving market which closed Tuesday.

Many farmers throughout the county have taken advantage of the cold weather of the past ten days to slaughter hogs, the slaughtering starting earlier than usual this year because of the shortage of corn. Meat hogs are selling at around $10 per hundred pounds.

Up until noon Wednesday County Clerk John F. Sugg had issued 331 hunting licenses. Last year a total of 386 licenses were issued.

BORN—To Mr. and Mrs. Silva Shannon of Millersburg, a daughter, on the 19th.

MARRIED—William H. Martin and Miss Virginia Bird of New York City on Oct. 23.—Miss Gaynelle Vice and Earl M. Cannon on Nov. 21.

DIED—Raines M. Hutchings, 59, at his home in Tampa, Fla Monday.—Mrs. Garr Butler Terry, 23, of Paris last Friday.—Victor Mastin, 46, Friday afternoon at Hamilton, Ohio.

Thursday, November 30, 1916

Several sales of tobacco to speculators at 20 cents per pound reported.

James W. Myers, present deputy announces as candidate for sheriff.

Abe Buys of this county, buys farm of 101 acres in Shelby county for $14,000.

D. L. Smith purchases farm of 176 acres near Concord from Mrs. Lizzie McCormick at private price.

Carlisle tobacco warehouses receiving tobacco for the opening sale, which will be held on Dec. 6.

Rev. J. W. Crates, pastor of the Methodist church to deliver sermon at Union Thanksgiving services at Presbyterian church this morning.

Miss Lida K. Gardner, county superintendent, asks for levy of 20 cents on each $100 worth of property for coming year. This would make approximately $9,000 available for operating the 42 rural elementary and four rural high schools.

MARRIED—Mrs. Ethel M. Fryman and William W. Scott, both of the county, to be married today.

DIED—J. H. Letton, 68, at his home near Jacktown on the 25th.—Mrs. Lucy Norvell Hargis, 68, native of Carlisle, at her home in Washington, D. C.

Kentucky's apple crop is reported to be 377 000 bushels well above last year's crop.

IN WASHINGTON

By Gil Kingsbury

WHAT ALREADY?

With the ballots scarcely counted and the results not even official, political observers here are in the capitol are talking about 1960 presidential candidates.

John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky is one list as an Eisenhower Republican. Other GOP possibilities included Vice-President Nixon, Senator Dirksen of Illinois, Senator Knowland of California and, even, Tom Dewey. On the Democratic list are Adlai Stevenson again, Governor Leader of Pennsylvania, Governor Meyner of New Jersey, Senator Kefauver, Senator Johnson of Texas and Senator Symington of Missouri.

BARKLEY STORY.

The pleasing report that the Barkley papers have been turned over to the University of Kentucky brings to mind a story regarding a beautiful desk presented to the late Kentuckian by the Philippine Government.

The desk was so large, and so out of place in the decor of the Barkley office, that it was moved down the hallway to another room and used by lesser members of the Barkley staff. Often visitors to the office would get a kick out of just occupying the chair and desk of honor.

HIGHWAY COSTS.

Now that Kentucky has passed its highway bond issue and Uncle Sam is prepared to put up money, it will be well to look at some road building experiences across the nation.

Farm land located near express highway intersections will jump in value tremendously and isolated areas could become suburban centers. However there, will be other sections along the right of way which actually will depreciate in value because getting on and off the land will entail more travel.

Usually, Uncle Sam makes an offer, and if it is not accepted the owner may go to court where his neighbors will make a judgment. Much land must be remembered. Regardless of what you—as an owner—believe the land to be worth, Uncle Sam will eventually get it.

HOW'S BUSINESS?

Government experts report business is picking up in Kentucky but it is still running behind last year.

For example, automobile sales are increasing but the number sold is behind the 1935 march. Department store sales are in an identical position, with totals being 8 percent behind last year. Jobless claims also are up a bit. Economists, however, declare there is no need for alarm. Last year, they explain, was a good year and this year hasn't been bad. We'll know more as tobacco markets swing into high gear.

A LITTLE YAPPIN'

By Nellie Combs

Out of step—Rah, rah, rah!

"Once a man and twice a child" so we are taught. Am I, way, I'm going to school again. Only in the second grade at the and unless more progress is made, I will not pass this year but last week I really "got the ball" by mastering a "step chapter and a "word" on Thanksgiving, besides obtaining a little lowdown on tardies, dinosaurs and helicopters. So much for night classes.

—yaps—

It's cold outside, baby!

There is danger of catching cold if I go out looking for yaps on a cold, gloomy day like this. Besides, there is no urge on inclination, so I will just ask you to read the box on page one of this issue—it's there because I'm afraid you might fail to see it in this yappin' section. While there are folks without hearts, there are others who have. thank Heaven!

BLUE-RIBBON'S MOST WIDELY-USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 29

I am sure that he who began a good work in you will bring it to completion till the day of Jesus Christ. (Philippians 1:6, RSV.)

Once a little girl taught her mother a wonderful lesson. Her mother had been a Christian for a long time, but something had gone wrong, and she was very unhappy.

Suddenly one day her mother was changed. Her eyes were smiling, and she was singing with joy all the day long; all because she had read something in the Bible. How happy they were!

But the day after, everything was gone; joy and smiles and songs nothing was left of it all. No matter what the little girl did, her mother seemed unhappy.

The little girl went into the next room to bring the family Bible and used the book says just the same things today. It doesn't it, Mummy?"

Indeed, the many promises of God our Father are the same today as they were in the past, however the days are, whatever our feelings. Let us therefore have faith in God!

PRAYER

O God, our Father, we thank Thee for all Thy promises, which Thou hast given us as a rock on which to build our lives. Grant us faith to believe, and in believing find joy, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

The Harrison County Thoroughbreds took the Northern half of the P.C.A.C. tourney by defeating the Nicholas County Bluejackets 78-48 and the Fleming County Panthers 59-57.

In the first round of play, Fleming County outraced Brackeen County 67-56. This game started a run for Fleming, but a gallant Bracken team fought right back to make a real exciting game out of it. In the second game the crowd was really disappointed when Charles Finnell's Bluejackets were not fired up and suffered their first defeat in seven games with the Harrison crew. The score was 78-48.

This enabled Harrison County to meet Fleming County in the final game of the Wednesday night bracket. In the first game Nicholas County defeated Bracken County by the score of 65-59 to take third place in the tourney.

In the second, Harrison took a hitter contest from Fleming County by the score of 59-57. This enabled Harrison county to meet Clark County who won the Southern half of the P.C.A.C. in the big game Clark County took been looking at wedding invitations. We hope this will help us a little later on.

Everyone enjoyed the Thanksgiving dinner which Mrs. Lynn and James Mrs. Rose prepared for us on Wednesday. The menu consisted of turkey, dressing, mashed potatoes, buttered peas, cranberry sauce, rolls, butter, ice cream, and milk.

The girls in Home Ec. III decorated the tables with white table-cloths, candles and ivy.
