GOP candidates not on defensive

(Lexington Herald) The two Kentucky Republican candidates for the United States Senate in the November election find themselves in a new difficult position today than they occupied a few years ago when they sought public office. Though have changed, and the two candidates now find themselves on the defensive and also in the unenviable position of trying to explain some of the unexplainable actions of the Eisenhower administration. They both are having a hard time of it, and it reports from the field mean anything, they're not making much headway in their campaign.

Thurston Morton, who he last ran for Congress, was classed as one of the "nuts" who refer as the Republican party was concerned. It was easy then to criticize the policies of the Democratic party and to call for the defeat of all candidates under that banner. Now he finds himself as the chief defense counsel of a party that virtually has abandoned all that was good in the party and that everything he has done as a Republican is being held up to the ridicule of the world.

Let's keep the team in the game

(Hancock Clarion, Havensville, Ky.) We do not hesitate to say that during the last few years, and especially during the last Congress when the Democratic party was in the saddle, the Senate procedure has been completely broken down. It has been a matter of fact that the Senate procedure has been completely broken down. It has been a matter of fact that the Senate procedure has been completely broken down.

City water service may be discontinued; Bill injured in motorcycle accident

Thurs., October 8, 1936
Unless a heavy rain falls within the next few days, all city water service in Carlisle will be discontinued. The cause of the trouble is a broken pipe in the main line of the city water works. The pipe was broken by a heavy shower that was in when service was discontinued.

With two victories and no defeats in the Carlisle high school football season, the Carlisle football team will be a force to be reckoned with in the Central Kentucky Conference. The team is coached by Coach Charles Blaine, who has a record of 10 wins and 2 losses in his three seasons as coach.

Only the rich enjoy life.
Little heads are brimful of shrewd calculations, meaning children's heads, not the parents'. Here is an example. After spending a few minutes in a store home recently a second trader told the owners were "rich" such.

good pieces over a period of years. Coffee tables are long, narrow and substantial. They have been called "easy chairs" and are often used with cushions when the weather is beautiful. The tables have a new top "Mica" a form of plastic, which is heat, water and berry resistant. Remnants will be sold at 10¢ per yard. They are so designed that they fit together in a variety of patterns. Drawers have nylon rollers and doors are of case.
