COMMENT

It really is confusing. On the financial pages one reads about "tight money," national budget must be cut, etc. Then you turn the page and see where a baseball club has offered a million dollars for one pitcher. The Cherry Blossom Queen will wear a $10,000 pearl crown. Twenty-five million dollars worth of material and effort have been invested in the Jamestown Festival (It's 350th birthday.) Just think of all the money given away on television quiz shows.

Could it be that the deadline date of April 15th is making me money conscious? It's later than you think.—K.T.P.
