The Merit System
The value of any feed is what that specific feed will produce in Milk—Eggs—Meat—Growth.

If you are interested in milk production the feed most formulated for that particular purpose and it must contain, at all times, the proper milk producing ingredients.

When such a formula has been established, and the feed is selling on its merits, it is unethical and unfair to the producer to change that formula by substituting some cheaper and less effective ingredients in order to hold the price—or to make a little more profit at the expense of the feeder.

We believe we can truthfully say that Tuxedo has never been guilty of this practice. When it is necessary to make a competitive feed it is distinguished by a name other than Tuxedo.

The name Tuxedo on a bag of feed always means the best—and is priced and sold on its merits.
