From—An editor's random thoughts

The somewhat mournful call to be heard from the depths of leafy thickets, on cloudy days especially, is that of the black-billed cuckoo. He is grayish-brown above with a breast tint in his feathers. Underneath he is grayish white and has long and arched wings. The skin about the eye is bright red. Every boy knows this bird that he sees almost as clearly as any owl, but few are familiar with an apple orchard," writes Nettie Cook in an article on the bird.

Four guardsmen injured in wreck; hogs selling for 17 cents a pound

Thursday, August 26, 1937
Four members of Hazard County National guard unit, suffered serious injuries when a truck carrying them was wrecked with minor injuries to one when it struck a tree on the side of the building. The new system includes new type green headlights which are lighted without depressing the foot pedal. The truck was being driven by a young man who was killed. The truck was carrying a load of hogs. The hogs were sold for 17 cents a pound.
