KENTUCKIANS

NO KENTUCKIANS
No Kentuckians were named in the 1956-57 top 100 list of the nation's largest industrial concerns.

IN WASHINGTON

By Gil Kinsbrary
When Mayor's Stanley Reed leaves the Supreme Court the end of this month, an effort will be made to persuade him to take the job. They felt they needed an aid "try to do the job."

Furniture repair yields rewards

Many people in Kentucky are not aware of the winter months in which furniture repair yields rewards for the individual who repairs the furniture. Extension home furnishings specialists at the University of Kentucky are offering a special award to the person who repairs a piece of furniture in the winter months.

Check fences during winter

Times change and a fence that once was a good fence may now be a bad fence. It is a good idea to check fences during the winter months. A fence that is not in good condition may cause a lot of trouble in the spring.

Imagine! Two Cars...but only One Telephone!

Two cars—fine. But only one phone—not so fine. Makes for a lot of driving room-to-room travel. The modern trend is to have phones handy in living, working and sleeping areas...phones in each decorator colors to mix with or match any room decor. Make your well-telephone home—with the right phone, in the right color, in the right corner.

Sheep breeding affected by temperatures

Cooler temperature and fertility are the two factors that affect sheep breeding. A sheep that is bred in a warm environment will produce a weaker lamb than a sheep that is bred in a cool environment.
