COMMENT

We are starting in a New Year but getting settled in the same old routine. Which after all is rather nice. A few comments on the holidays then we shall be looking forward.

A record of Christmas card greetings were sent this season. Statistics report that every man, woman, and child have received 13½ cards. That means a record 2,200,000,000 cards.

If you really felt excited and had the Christmas spirit during the holidays, it was good for your health, because you did n't have time to think about yourself," reports the Medical Society of New Jersey. "So for the health of your body and your soul, may the spirit of Christmas possess you and remain with you the whole year through."
