ACP sign-up time here

Farmers with soil or water conservation needs and who plan to carry out conservation measures this summer or fall may request ACP cost-sharing H. S. Vice, chairman of the Nicholas County ASC committee, announced today. An opportunity again is given to Nicholas County farmers to cooperate with farmers in other counties and States to complete needed soil and water conservation practices.

The 1957 program is open to all farmers who would like to use the ACP to help in soil conservation and increase the productivity of farmland. The announced sign-up dates are from July 1 to July 31. In order to receive equal consideration on cost-sharing within the limited funds available, farmers are urged to observe these dates. There is an opportunity during this latter part of 1957 to use the ACP to strengthen our soil reserves by increasing the acreages of cover and green manure crops, pastures and hayland, and to increase the stores of nitrogen, phosphate, carbium and potash and other elements, where needed, for plant growth.

The county ASC office is open every day, except Saturday and Sunday to help farmers with their Agricultural Conservation Program plans.

Wreck fatal to 14-year-old Ohio Girl Scout

A 14-year-old Chillicothe, Ohio, girl was fatally injured in an accident near the entrance to the Blue Licks State Park on U. S. Highway 68 about 1 p.m. Tuesday which involved three cars and a truck.

Miss Bonnie Borland suffered severe head and arm injuries when the truck struck the car in which she was riding. She was treated at the Nicholas County hospital and died en route to a Lexington hospital in an ambulance. Miss Borland was riding with her uncle, Frank H. Lee, 42, of Chillicothe.

Nicholas County Sheriff Milton Fryman said the truck driver, Howard Wiley, 42, Newport, had been charged with manslaughter and freed on $1,000 bond.

Officers quoted Wiley as saying his truck went out of control while sideswiping the Lee auto and two others.

All three cars were traveling north, said the state police. Apparently the truck lost control after rounding the curve.

The driver of a second car, Harry Sims, 38, of West Union, Ohio, was unhurt, but a couple riding in a third car and their two nieces were treated for minor injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Festa, Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, were treated for cuts and bruises. The girls were taken to the Hayswood hospital, Maysville, for treatment. Nancy Newton, 13, of Chillicothe, received minor cuts and bruises and Virginia Haskel, 14, suffered lacerations and contusions. The other two Girl Scouts in the car were not identified but escaped injury.

Wiley is a vegetable produce dealer and truck driver and has made deliveries to Carlisle for about 15 years, according to local groverymen.

Miss Borland was reported returning from a Girl Scout camping trip in North Carolina.

The American Legion held the annual fish fry at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at the city reservoir.

FORMER CARLISLE BOY—Sterling P. Metcalfe, 80, a tailor at Huntsville, Ala., since 1909 was recently the subject of a feature article in The Huntsville Times by Bob Ward. The copy of the news picture above was originally taken by Ernest McMeans. Mr. Metcalfe learned his trade—and has plied it—while in Carlisle where he mastered the skills of fitting and cutting.

More and better driver training

By ALFRED L. MOSELEY
Moseley and Associates
Consulting Psychologist
Institute for Safer Living

A brief survey of national vehicle accident statistic will lead to the conclusion that our licensed drivers have not been properly trained in how to avoid accidents. The accident facts speak for themselves.

Considerable progress has been made in the utilization of the advantages of driver education. Research in driver safety, teaching aids, testing equipment, excellent text material and teachers' manuals are among the assets. Some secondary schools in each state of the Union provide driver education courses. Standard teaching procedures are followed in 44 states in the secondary schools, and in five states in commercial schools. Courses for adults are available in fifteen states and in fifteen states commercial driver trainers are licensed.

Approximately 40% of public and private secondary schools offer driver education. Approximately 30% of those who are eligible for the course enroll. Thus one of seven students who should be receiving training is enrolled. If this year our secondary school facilities were taxed to the utmost, we would train 400,000 and there would be eight million students with no opportunity for driver education. This situation is a critical need, for the statistical picture hardly changes from year to year. In order to meet minimum requirements for driver training needs each secondary school must train 66% of its student population.

In order for driver education to contribute its maximum potential in accident prevention in the future, four broad areas should be considered.

1. First, there is the problem of supervision and control. Certification for secondry school teachers is essential, and licensing for commercial teachers is imperative. Courses which are approved should follow a standard prospectus, or be approved against a carefully devised set of standards including content, teaching methods, and demonstrations. Classroom study should include at least twenty-five class hours, and practice driving instruction should be not less than sixteen hours, and should include night driving. Provisions for adult driver education are badly needed in all of the United States. Steps should be taken to provide driver education in the curriculum of every public and private secondary school, accomplishing this objective as rapidly as possible.

2. Second, the student drivers will be limited in their accomplishment by the quality of their teachers. Instructors in this field are sincerely interested in their work. They face some stresses which could be removed or altered. Many have no vehicle for practice driving. In some states certification is based on a special course for which the instructor must pay his own tuition. Driver education is often assigned as collateral duty, with out extra pay, and in addition to the normal teaching load. Teacher moral suffers because of the lack of uniformity of motor vehicle laws which raises classroom questions for which no sensible answer exists.

3. Third, there is the matter of the content of the courses. Present course content expresses strong teacher interest in laws, licensing examination procedures, how the vehicle runs, and the personality and physical nature of the driver. Some important aspects of course are deficient. Topics such as night driving, accidents, speed control, weather, road surface conditions, pedestrians, and cyclists are not treated adequately. A part of this problem is due to a lack of training aids. Another part is due to inefficient teaching procedures. Research would make great improvements in classroom efficiency. Since emergency situations are encountered at least once for every hundred miles of driving, it is urgent that the student be given special study in this field. This should include near accidents, and demonstrations such as skidding, blowouts, and battery failure. Increased emphasis on human factors in driver safety is needed including the following topics: personality, physical disability, age, fatigue, illness, medications, alcohol, carbon monoxide, and temporary emotional states.

Should Have Opportunity

4. Fourth, is the consideration of the student. He should not be deprived of an opportunity to learn to drive safely. In addition to making courses available in the schools, an effort should be made to enforce participation in them. No application for examination for an original license should be accepted from any person who cannot show evidence of successful completion of an approved driver education course.

Baptist Church to hold open house following dedication of building

The new education building of the Carlisle Baptist Church will be dedicated Sunday, July 14, during the morning worship hour, with Dr. H. Lee Eddleman, President of Georgetown College, bringing the sermon of dedication.

Open House

The church will hold open house in the new building from three to five o'clock Sunday afternoon. All friends of the church are invited.

This new two story brick unit is 46 ft. by 80 ft. and was constructed by Paul Guthrie following modified plans of Frankel and Curtis, Lexington architects. The building will contain seven Sunday School departments with rooms for each department. This includes a large Adult assembly room which will be used for prayer meetings.

Three Supervise Building

This $34,000 construction project was supervised by a building committee consisting of Tommy Johnson, chairman, Ralph Shearer and Paul Garrett. A landscaping committee was headed by Bill Straw and an interior decorating committee consisted of Mrs. Eugene Neal, chairman, Mrs. Bill Straw and Mrs. Harold Letton. Miss Ernestine Eads was financial secretary and Mr. Sterling Blake was treasurer of the building fund.

The preliminary planning for the building was in the hands of a church elected steering committee with Dr. G. T. Cowan as chairman and Sterling Blake, Harold Letton, Ralph Shearer and Tommy Johnson all rendering valuable service. A number of other people had important parts in the culmination of this major building project.

Payment rates for wool incentive program given

H. S. Vice, chairman of the Nicholas County ASC committee, announced today that shorn wool payments under the 1956 wool incentive program will amount to 40 percent of the dollar returns each producer received from the sale of shorn wool during the 1956 marketing year. This will result in an incentive payment to producers of $40 for every $100 received from the sale of shorn wool.

Mr. Vice also announced that the payment rate on sales of unshorn lambs to compensate for the wool on them will be 71 cents per hundredweight of live animals sold. This payment is designed to discourage unusual shearing of lambs before marketing.

County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) offices will begin making payments soon. All checks will be mailed to the producers.

Gaunce named Albany coach

Donnie Gaunce, former Moorehead State College basketball star, has been named head basketball coach at Albany high school, Albany, Kentucky.

As a senior in 1955-56, Gaunce was co-captain of the Eagle squad which set a national scoring record of 95.9 points a game —a record which still stands.

Gaunce scored 937 points in three years as a starter on Coach Bob Laughlin's high scoring Eagle squad. In his senior year, he was the squad's second high scorer, scoring 482 points for an average of 17.2 points a game.

Gaunce scored 268 points in his junior year for a 12.8 average and averaged 10.5 points a game as a sophomore.

A native of Nicholas County, Gaunce is married and has one child.

Local students enrolled at UK

Seven students from Nicholas County are among 3,290 students enrolled at the University of Kentucky for the summer term.

Students from Nicholas County include James Hardin, Lucy Henry, James Hughes, Ned Jennings, William Ledford, Janet Mitchell, and Foster Pumphrey.

Included are students from 113 Kentucky counties, 31 other states and 19 foreign countries.

University Dean of Admissions Charles F. Elton said that this figure does not include students who are enrolled or will enroll later in the summer for special workshops, short courses and seminars.

Dairy meeting Monday night

A Dairy Producers meeting will be held Monday night, July 15 at 7:30 p.m., CST in the County Extension Office located in the post office building, according to William T. Straw, County Agent.

E. C. Scheidenhelm, Field Agent in Dairying University of Kentucky, will attend and explain dairy record keeping. The Dairy Herd Improvement Association program will be explained, which is a system for weighing and testing milk through which a producers record is obtained for each individual cow in a herd. An alternate plan will be explained which is called the "weight-a-day-a-month" plan. Dairymen of Nicholas County have indicated interest in these programs.

These subjects will be of particular interest to whole milk producers who either sell to Grade A, Carnation, or a Cheese Plant, however, all dairy producers are invited to attend.
