ST. JOHN'S CATHOLIC CHURCH

Sunday Mass at 7 and 9 a.m.
Weekdays at 7 a.m. Except Thursday during Lent when it is 7 p.m.
The instruction this Sunday, continuing our preparation for Holy Week, will be on the Christian Passover.
We will also present some facts on the Catholic Bishops' Relief Fund, which the Lastars Sunday Collection supports. This is the story of American Catholic overseas aid for last year: each dollar translated into forty times its value in goods and services, 855 million lbs. of foodstuffs, clothing and medicines, valued at $128 million dollars.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Man's God-given dominion over material laws of sickness and limitation will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.
Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon on "Matter" will include the following from Isaiah (32:20-22): "Look upon Zion, the city of our solemnities: thine eyes shall see Jerusalem a quiet habitation, a tabernacle that shall not be taken down; not one of the stakes thereof shall ever be removed, neither shall any of the cords thereof be broken . . . For the Lord is our judge, the Lord is our lawgiver, the Lord is our king; he will save us."
From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following will be read (380:32-1): "Every law of matter or the body, supposed to govern man, is rendered null and void by the law of Life, God."
The Golden Text is from Corinthians (3:2): "Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth."

Public hearing for Cave Run

A public hearing on the Cave Run Reservoir project will be conducted at the court house in Morehead, Thursday, March 21, at 8 p.m., it was announced by State Conservation Commissioner Lahn P. Jackson.
Some 5,000 members of the Cave Run Association have petitioned for the Cave Run dam to be built.
Commissioner Jackson will attend, in addition to R. L. Bolin, director of the State division of flood control and water usage, and representatives of the U. S. Corps of Engineers, and other officials.
"Governor A. B. Chandler and I are anxious to go along with the desires of the majority on a project that will do the most good for the people of Eastern Kentucky," Commissioner Jackson said.
"Everyone interested in this program is welcome to attend the March 21 meeting, which will discuss the flood control aspects, in addition to the industrial, the recreational, and the irrigation possibilities of this Cave Run Reservoir, among other things," he added.
"We want to hear from any persons who might oppose this project at the meeting in Morehead," Jackson concluded.

COMMENT

This week we had a nice letter from Mrs. Henry Carter, who is still confined to Brokow hospital in Normal, Ill. Anyone knowing Miss Christie will understand that this time of inactivity is very difficult for her. She does so appreciate the many cards and letters you have sent, and adds, "of course I look forward to getting the good old Mercury and keeping in touch with affairs at home." Miss Christie will be in the hospital for at least four more weeks. We are hoping she will be back in Carlisle soon after that. I miss seeing her go by the house carrying her shopping bag.

In case you didn't hear it over the radio Thursday from Freedom Hall where the Kentucky High School Basketball Tournament was held, the Nicholas County cheer leaders were praised for their wonderful sportsmanship. In spite of heartbreak and defeat they turned to quiet some booing from the spectators when the last foul was called and cheered the winning team and offered their congratulations. Every report makes us proud of the young people of Nicholas County. Let them know that they will always have your support.—K.T.F.

"smell the bottom," barely touch where the channel begins to slope upward to the bank, but she may hit the bank and stick.

Any delay in transits is reported as an incident. In March, 1956—when 1,397 ships went through—there were 114 incidents, says the general. Causes included bumping of banks, engine breakdowns, and fog. When thick fog comes down, the canal's pilot, on whose judgment hinsmeen depends, may have to check the compass to find out how the bow points.

Sometimes traffic stoppage in the narrow channel is complete. In December, 1954, when the tanker World Peace struck the arm of a railway bridge , 150 vessels stood idle, some for 3½ days.

Still Dig Canal

To the author the most interesting thing about Suez "is that it is still being dug." Without constant dredging it would become a dry ditch.

Waves and currents eat away the banks. Among seasonal winds filling it with sand from adjacent desert are muknesse, the "broom"; ewa, the "wailing noise"; and the violent khamsin, "wind of 50 days."

The khamsin may last only a few hours at a time, but it has been known to take boats ashore. Storms of a record were in 1911 dumped into the canal 105 million cubic feet of sand—a pile bigger than the Great Pyramid.

Routine maintenance and improvements to keep pace with ever larger ships call for armies of laborers and engineers. In the last 80 years, the general estimates, more than a billion and a half cubic feet of sand and rock have been taken from the canal, six times the original excavation.

But an open Suez Canal is essential to world shipping. President Eisenhower has called the desert waterway vital to United States economy—indeed, to the economy of almost all of the countries of the world."

Europe counts on Suez for oil supply. And American imports via the canal—less than a million metric tons in 1938—were more than 11 million in 1955.

Hybrid sorghums tested at the University of Illinois gave 20 to 30 percent higher yields.
